The following is an abstract of the new bill passed by the Legislature and approved by the Governor, to regulate the electric franchise in this State. Its proper title should be "An act to regulate the working men of the right of suffrage, by placing so many obstructions in the way that, in justice to their families, they will be unable to give it the required time and attention." A baster attempt to harass and defraud the laboring class of the community was never invented.

Section one provides that the several assessors shall make out alphabetical lists of all persons who are known to be voters, marking opposite the names of those who are known to be voters, and if they are householders, their residence, and if they are not householders, their occupation, boarding house and the name of their employer. Naturalized citizens must show their papers to the assessors, before their names can be placed on the lists; unless they have voted in the district at five preceding elections, and the letter N will be placed opposite their names.

Where the person who has already declared his intentions, the letter D shall be appended to the name; the word "N" shall be placed just arrived at twenty-one; and the letter R to those who have removed from another district. It is the duty of the Co. Commissioners to cause the alphabetical list to be returned by the assessors on or before the 1st of September; and all persons who voted at the last election in October, 1897, shall have their names registered, without further proof of qualification, but they shall be subject to challenge the same as provided in the fourth section.

On the list being completed, the commissioners shall have duplicate copies made, two of which shall be given to each assessor, who shall, prior to August 1st of every year, post one copy up at the polls of his district, and keep the other for the free inspection of all who wish to see it; and, on the personal application of any one claiming to vote, his name shall be added, with the letters C. V. The judges and inspectors of elections must be provided with a list by the assessor on the tenth day preceding the election in October.

On Saturday, the tenth day next preceding the Second Tuesday of October, the judges and inspectors shall hold a session at the election place of their district, between the hours of nine and six o'clock, to hear proof of the right of the persons whose names are on the list to vote, or who shall apply to be registered; and all who have not previously been registered must make proof of their right, and their claim being completed, the assessor is forthwith to assign a personal tax upon them. When the session is concluded, duplicate copies of the revised list must be made out—one to be posted up at the polls, the other to be retained by the judge of election, who shall hold the same open to public inspection. In case of a general or presidential election, the officers may hold their session one or more days (not exceeding four) preceding the sixth day named, of which proper notice shall be given; and where two or more districts are in the city, all the election officers shall meet in the precinct giving the largest number of votes. The election officers are required to meet again on the Thursday next preceding any general election, between the same hours as before, for the purpose of hearing any claims from persons who wish to vote, not before registered.

The person claiming must produce a witness to testify to the facts in the district, and he must further make an affidavit, stating where he was born; how long a citizen of Pennsylvania; where, and when naturalized, if a foreigner; present his naturalization papers, unless he has voted in the district five years; that he has not moved into the district merely to vote; that he could not appear at the former registry; that he is not registered elsewhere; that he has paid the legal tax, and what he owes to whom; and he must produce his tax receipt or make oath that it has been lost. Persons voting on age are excepted from the taxation feature. The affidavits of said claimants are to be preserved until election day, and at its close sealed up, with the other official papers. After the second session has ended, the new names registered as before provided to the other list, and disposed of as before provided. It shall not be lawful to receive the vote of any one whose name is on the registry, and any officer so doing is liable to fine or imprisonment.

Any qualified citizen of the district has the right to challenge persons whose names are on the registry, and compel them to bring the same before a jury as required by law. Every naturalized citizen must take his oath to the polls, unless he has voted ten years. When any person has deposited his ballot, a record shall be made of the act, and any voting more than once the same day shall be liable to punishment, not exceeding $100 fine or one year's imprisonment.

At the close of the polls, the registry lists shall be sealed up, and remain unopened until after the next meeting of the Legislature, unless required for official use.

Ten days preceding a presidential election, another session of the judges and inspectors shall be held, to go through the same formula provided in the third section.

At special, city, borough, and township elections, the registry may be used as evidence; but the absence of any person's name shall not be conclusive against his right to vote. The assessors and inspectors shall take an oath before competent authority to perform their duties faithfully, and they have the right to administer oaths, and they have the right to administer oaths, and they have the right to administer oaths.

On objection of five or more citizens of the county, stating, under oath, that they believe that any of the names on the registry have been fraudulently placed there, or that any of the names on the registry have been fraudulently placed there, or that any of the names on the registry have been fraudulently placed there.

Any officer giving a fraudulent naturalization certificate shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor; and any person knowingly making use of one shall be fined not less than $1,000, and imprisoned not exceeding three years.

Any officer of election or overseer neglecting to perform any duty required by this act shall be liable to a penalty of $100; if an assessor or election officer who shall enroll a disqualified person, or refuse to enroll one qualified, knowing the fact, shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and liable to a penalty of $100; if any person who shall alter, add to, tear down or deface a registry list, with fraudulent intent, shall be fined not exceeding $500, or two years' imprisonment; any tax collector giving a bogus receipt shall be fined not less than $100, and imprisoned not less than three months for every offense.

The polls are to be opened between 10 and 12 o'clock in the morning, closed at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, before most laboring men have finished their day's work.

The Democrats of Cambridge, Crawford county, have organized a campaign club, with S. H. Ellis, Esq., one of the most active and intelligent men of the township, as President. We hope to see their example followed in every portion of North-Western Pennsylvania.

One of the best documents we have read in many a day is the inaugural address of Hon. R. H. Palmer, the new Democratic Mayor of Corry. It is modest in tone, and practical in its suggestions, and fully sustains the confidence reposed in its author by the people of that city.

By notice by the Cleveland papers, that between 600 and 800 railroad men and machinists are on a strike in that city. The strike is in opposition to the reduction of wages in the shops of the Cleveland & Pittsburg, Cleveland & Erie, Cleveland, Columbus & Cincinnati, and Mahoning railroads, and McNary, Claffin & Co.'s shop.

A bar and overcoat belonging to a boarder were taken (by mistake, probably) from the hall of a house in State street in the early part of last week. Presumably that the party having them in possession at present is more in need of them than the owner, the latter offers to give him a quit claim to the same, provided he will return the papers contained in the coat pockets.

The Warren Ledger says the "Mail" story that Mr. Scott's declaration being a candidate for U. S. Senator, when urged by the Republican delegation, "is considered by those best acquainted with the Honorable gentleman's political aspirations, as being the greatest sell of the season. The article should have been dated on All Fools' Day, and then its ridiculousness would have been better appreciated."

One of the prisoners in the jail, who was out temporarily to work in the barn, took to his heels last week, and escaped his former place of residence. He was followed, captured, and securely placed in "durant" again. Some two months ago, a prisoner allowed to go out of doors upon an errand, was seized with absence of mind, and forgot to return. He has never been heard of since.

Two Radical editors in Corry have a happy time. Last week, a Grant campaign club was organized, and both of them were elected upon the committee to report officers. Paid, of the Telegraph, declined service, for the reason that he could not act with Pratt, of the Republican, under any circumstances, and another person was substituted. Pratt says he "felt awfully," but at last reports he is not considered dangerous.

The Democrats of West Mill Creek made a considerable reduction in the Radical majority at the March election, and came near electing several of their candidates. A truer hearted or more vigilant set of Democrats than some of those of West Mill Creek cannot be met in any portion of the county. We wish the spirit they display was more common among our party friends in this section.

The term of the late landlady of Brown's Hotel having expired, and no party taking a lease of the property, the house has been temporarily closed. Several persons have made application to lease it, but it is not yet known into whose hands it may fall, nor when it will be opened to the public. The Hotel is under the auspices of the public, it will be under such terms as will be deemed it from the bad reputation it has had for a number of years past.

As the chief qualification of Gen. Grant for the Presidency appears to be that he can "talk horse," it is proposed that the respective claims of himself and Dan Rice be decided on that issue. The suggestion is, that each deliver a lecture of an hour or two before a public assembly in New York city, and that at the close they give a practical exhibition of their skill in the management of the noble beast, by riding three times around the ring, bar-backed. Whichever does the best, to be pronounced the Presidential nominee, and elected by acclamation.

Our readers cannot have failed to notice the heavy advertising patronage which the Observer has been receiving for some time past. The fact is becoming generally known that our circulation is the largest in the city, and business men of both parties are eager to avail themselves of its advantages. The appearance of a number of county advertisements, proves that the big city paper is not doing the war in a popular way, and we are in hopes that by another year all of this class of public patronage will be so published as to reach every voter interested, as the law intended, and justice requires.

A correspondent of the Republican urges the sale of the Poor House Farm in parcels of five or ten acres, the purchase of another farm in some location where land is cheaper, and away from the main routes of travel, and the application of the remaining proceeds to the building of a new Poor House. He pleasantly argues that by cutting up the farm into small tracts a larger sum could be realized than if it were sold bodily, and that the purchase money would go to the benefit of the poor.

The Gazette demands of the Radical Co. Committee that it shall take early steps for holding the primary elections of the party. It urges that Erie county should lead off in the selection of a Congressional candidate, and claims that whoever she agrees upon will be accepted by the balance of the district. From what that committee we can see of the other counties concede the nominee to Erie this time. The trouble is to find an available man upon whom the party can unite. Walker and Benson are both unpopular; Cutler is not looked upon as exactly sound; DeCamp has moved away. Noble refuses to run; Lowry has nigger and green-back on the brain; and Whallon—well, the least said is soonest mended. We would suggest to the party that if it were to advertise for proposals for candidates, it might be that an acceptable one could be secured in course of time.

THE REGISTRY BILL—More Radical Fines.

The following is an abstract of the new bill passed by the Legislature and approved by the Governor, to regulate the electric franchise in this State. Its proper title should be "An act to regulate the working men of the right of suffrage, by placing so many obstructions in the way that, in justice to their families, they will be unable to give it the required time and attention." A baster attempt to harass and defraud the laboring class of the community was never invented.

Section one provides that the several assessors shall make out alphabetical lists of all persons who are known to be voters, marking opposite the names of those who are known to be voters, and if they are householders, their residence, and if they are not householders, their occupation, boarding house and the name of their employer. Naturalized citizens must show their papers to the assessors, before their names can be placed on the lists; unless they have voted in the district at five preceding elections, and the letter N will be placed opposite their names.

Where the person who has already declared his intentions, the letter D shall be appended to the name; the word "N" shall be placed just arrived at twenty-one; and the letter R to those who have removed from another district. It is the duty of the Co. Commissioners to cause the alphabetical list to be returned by the assessors on or before the 1st of September; and all persons who voted at the last election in October, 1897, shall have their names registered, without further proof of qualification, but they shall be subject to challenge the same as provided in the fourth section.

On the list being completed, the commissioners shall have duplicate copies made, two of which shall be given to each assessor, who shall, prior to August 1st of every year, post one copy up at the polls of his district, and keep the other for the free inspection of all who wish to see it; and, on the personal application of any one claiming to vote, his name shall be added, with the letters C. V. The judges and inspectors of elections must be provided with a list by the assessor on the tenth day preceding the election in October.

On Saturday, the tenth day next preceding the Second Tuesday of October, the judges and inspectors shall hold a session at the election place of their district, between the hours of nine and six o'clock, to hear proof of the right of the persons whose names are on the list to vote, or who shall apply to be registered; and all who have not previously been registered must make proof of their right, and their claim being completed, the assessor is forthwith to assign a personal tax upon them. When the session is concluded, duplicate copies of the revised list must be made out—one to be posted up at the polls, the other to be retained by the judge of election, who shall hold the same open to public inspection. In case of a general or presidential election, the officers may hold their session one or more days (not exceeding four) preceding the sixth day named, of which proper notice shall be given; and where two or more districts are in the city, all the election officers shall meet in the precinct giving the largest number of votes. The election officers are required to meet again on the Thursday next preceding any general election, between the same hours as before, for the purpose of hearing any claims from persons who wish to vote, not before registered.

The person claiming must produce a witness to testify to the facts in the district, and he must further make an affidavit, stating where he was born; how long a citizen of Pennsylvania; where, and when naturalized, if a foreigner; present his naturalization papers, unless he has voted in the district five years; that he has not moved into the district merely to vote; that he could not appear at the former registry; that he is not registered elsewhere; that he has paid the legal tax, and what he owes to whom; and he must produce his tax receipt or make oath that it has been lost. Persons voting on age are excepted from the taxation feature. The affidavits of said claimants are to be preserved until election day, and at its close sealed up, with the other official papers. After the second session has ended, the new names registered as before provided to the other list, and disposed of as before provided. It shall not be lawful to receive the vote of any one whose name is on the registry, and any officer so doing is liable to fine or imprisonment.

Any qualified citizen of the district has the right to challenge persons whose names are on the registry, and compel them to bring the same before a jury as required by law. Every naturalized citizen must take his oath to the polls, unless he has voted ten years. When any person has deposited his ballot, a record shall be made of the act, and any voting more than once the same day shall be liable to punishment, not exceeding $100 fine or one year's imprisonment.

At the close of the polls, the registry lists shall be sealed up, and remain unopened until after the next meeting of the Legislature, unless required for official use.

Ten days preceding a presidential election, another session of the judges and inspectors shall be held, to go through the same formula provided in the third section.

At special, city, borough, and township elections, the registry may be used as evidence; but the absence of any person's name shall not be conclusive against his right to vote. The assessors and inspectors shall take an oath before competent authority to perform their duties faithfully, and they have the right to administer oaths, and they have the right to administer oaths.

On objection of five or more citizens of the county, stating, under oath, that they believe that any of the names on the registry have been fraudulently placed there, or that any of the names on the registry have been fraudulently placed there, or that any of the names on the registry have been fraudulently placed there.

Any officer giving a fraudulent naturalization certificate shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor; and any person knowingly making use of one shall be fined not less than $1,000, and imprisoned not exceeding three years.

Any officer of election or overseer neglecting to perform any duty required by this act shall be liable to a penalty of $100; if an assessor or election officer who shall enroll a disqualified person, or refuse to enroll one qualified, knowing the fact, shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and liable to a penalty of $100; if any person who shall alter, add to, tear down or deface a registry list, with fraudulent intent, shall be fined not exceeding $500, or two years' imprisonment; any tax collector giving a bogus receipt shall be fined not less than $100, and imprisoned not less than three months for every offense.

The polls are to be opened between 10 and 12 o'clock in the morning, closed at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, before most laboring men have finished their day's work.
