

NOTICE—After this date no paper will be sent from this office, for any length of time, without payment in advance, unless to old subscribers, whose responsibility we are acquainted with.

New Advertisements.
Edison, Churchill & Co. have received a large stock of new goods—Mrs. John B. Perkins has opened a new confectionery store at the corner of State and Ninth Sts.
E. M. Cole & Son have reduced the price of their famous "Erie" cigars, and are now selling them at 10¢ per 100. The new House of Mass. will be opened on the first of June. Also, H. Stephens, the Post of the War is published, and canvassers are wanted—James Crowell advertises a stray heifer.

Dan Rice Campaign Song.
The supporters of Col. Dan Rice for the Presidency do not mean to omit any applicant that is likely to accomplish his object. They have alternately argued and threatened, and last, but not least, the Muses have now been appealed to. Harrison, it is said, was sung into the Presidency, and the conclusion reasonably follows that what has been done once can be done again. We have, therefore, a new "Castle Campaign" which, like the "Colony" name at its heart, is a piece of rhyme detailing his claims upon the public in a manner that is as much as a pathetic and convincing that we cannot avoid indulging in a quotation from it. The writer, as a true historian should, commences at his boyhood, and thus appeals to the early recollections of all "self-made" voters:

"I'll sing you a song of the famous Colonel Dan, Whose praise is heard from every lip through-out our land. A friendly heifer he started, I'd have you all know. And he's now a wealthy citizen and runs the greatest show."

He then breaks out into a chorus which thrills the soul like a single blast:
"Come then, ye yeomen, around his standard
From North and South, from East and West
And every hill and valley—
Proclaim in tones of thunder, throughout the glorious land,
The people's choice for President is the noted Colonel Dan."

The Colonel's first experience in the show business is related, and the secret given of his wonderful success:

"At Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, some thirty years ago,
He started out, a stable boy, a pig his only show,
And he's now a wealthy citizen and runs the greatest show."

Next we have an allusion to his extraordinary popularity, and some excellent political maxims are thrown in, with capital effect:

"In the district that he lives in, where known outside the van,
The woman's choice for President, is the noted Colonel Dan,
And should he be elected 'twill prove our boasted plan,
That in our free America distinction needs no rank."

"Come then, all men, eschew the politicians,
Proclaim the rights of all the States upon a simple plan,
That the Union's choice for President is the noted Colonel Dan."

We defy any one to resist an appeal like this, especially when we have the assurance that:

"Honor and fame from no condition rise,
'Till we have won the prize,
And if you ponder well the fact, Dan's life
Will prove it true."

The Colonel's friends have begun well, and with a proper degree of persistence, it will be a wonder if they fail to accomplish their object. "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," and no one understands the secrets of popular influence better than the indomitable showman of Girard.

The "singing-sing" of 1840 carried Gen. Harrison into the Presidency, and he is preparing to do the same for the "Erie" candidate, Col. Dan Rice, who is the son of a soldier, when he has to prove his virtues in such inspiring strains as these:

Scolded at His Old Trunk.—The action of the Committee on Elections in the House of Representatives, in making a report to exclude Gen. Morgan, of Ohio, from the seat in the House to which he was elected by three hundred majority, and giving it to Delton, his Radical competitor, was characterized by personal duplicity and falsehood in keeping with the other measures of Congress. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"The case has been elaborately examined and presented—more than twelve hundred witnesses having testified. A few days since, by a strict party vote, in committee, the case was decided in favor of the contestant, and it is believed by the greatest violation of the law and the facts. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"The case has been elaborately examined and presented—more than twelve hundred witnesses having testified. A few days since, by a strict party vote, in committee, the case was decided in favor of the contestant, and it is believed by the greatest violation of the law and the facts. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"The case has been elaborately examined and presented—more than twelve hundred witnesses having testified. A few days since, by a strict party vote, in committee, the case was decided in favor of the contestant, and it is believed by the greatest violation of the law and the facts. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"The case has been elaborately examined and presented—more than twelve hundred witnesses having testified. A few days since, by a strict party vote, in committee, the case was decided in favor of the contestant, and it is believed by the greatest violation of the law and the facts. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"The case has been elaborately examined and presented—more than twelve hundred witnesses having testified. A few days since, by a strict party vote, in committee, the case was decided in favor of the contestant, and it is believed by the greatest violation of the law and the facts. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"The case has been elaborately examined and presented—more than twelve hundred witnesses having testified. A few days since, by a strict party vote, in committee, the case was decided in favor of the contestant, and it is believed by the greatest violation of the law and the facts. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"The case has been elaborately examined and presented—more than twelve hundred witnesses having testified. A few days since, by a strict party vote, in committee, the case was decided in favor of the contestant, and it is believed by the greatest violation of the law and the facts. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"The case has been elaborately examined and presented—more than twelve hundred witnesses having testified. A few days since, by a strict party vote, in committee, the case was decided in favor of the contestant, and it is believed by the greatest violation of the law and the facts. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"The case has been elaborately examined and presented—more than twelve hundred witnesses having testified. A few days since, by a strict party vote, in committee, the case was decided in favor of the contestant, and it is believed by the greatest violation of the law and the facts. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

ERIE, PITTSBURGH AND PHILADELPHIA.

We are delighted to see in late issues of the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh papers, editorial articles calling the attention of the capitalists and business men of those cities to the importance of securing more intimate relations with the North-Western section of the State, and especially of fostering and identifying themselves with the business of this city and its harbor. They clearly show that the people of the older and wealthier portions of the Commonwealth are at last awakened to the valuable opportunities they have permitted to slip for promoting their own prosperity, and indicate a growing power of seeking to retrieve the mistakes and apathy of the past. Accepting them in this light, we cordially reciprocate the generous expressions of our contemporaries, and trust they will not weary in the good work until they have aroused the citizens of their respective communities to a sense of the benefits that must be derived by making an effort to secure the vast trade of the Lakes and the North-Western counties of the Commonwealth.

It cannot be denied that there is a current impression, not only among the citizens of Erie, but among those of the northern and western tier of counties generally, that their claims to State consideration have been cruelly slighted by Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and this has, to a certain extent, estranged them from Pennsylvania interests, and driven them into sympathy with New York and Eastern cities, that have been more prompt to afford them co-operation than those upon whom they believed they had a stronger claim. The records show that from a very early date, this section has been treated by the North-Western and Eastern portions of the State in a spirit which led us to doubt whether they really regarded it as a part of the same community with themselves. When the Commonwealth entered upon its extensive system of internal improvements, the votes of our members helped to carry the measure. They were given with the express understanding that the canal would be constructed to Erie, and as a half a hundred thousand dollars were appropriated for the French Creek feeder. This comparatively trifling piece of work was completed before the main line reached Pittsburgh, and, to retain the favor of our members for the latter, operations on a small scale were commenced upon the Erie Extension Canal. At last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio! A hue and cry was raised, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

The Erie Extension Canal, at last, after a weary struggle, the main line reached Pittsburgh, and about the millions of dollars had been spent upon the Erie extension, when the business men of the "smoky city" and their allies came to the sudden and extraordinary conclusion that Erie was not a point of any importance, and that their interest lay in the direction of Cleveland and other places in Ohio!

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The new breakwater at Buffalo will require 27,000 tons of stone, and cost $3,000,000.
Our thanks are due to Senator Lowry and Representative Stranahan and Rea for various favors during the session of the Legislature, in the shape of public documents.

A consensus of the Republican press may Noble as a Republican candidate for Congress, and urges his qualifications for the place at some length.

The largest income in New Hampshire is that of the proprietor of a Hair Restorer. A half-dozen years ago this Restorer was unknown, and to-day it would have been worthless but for advertising.

The Democracy of Connecticut, Ohio, have organized a campaign club, and propose to inaugurate the most lively canvass ever held in that intensely Radical section. The courage and vigilance they exhibit entitles them to special commendation.

It is estimated by persons well capable of judging that the wealth of Erie has doubled, if not tripled, since 1860. The increase in the value of estate held in this city, and the family left in the afternoon train for Erie, where they have friends living.

The following act, passed by the last Legislature, and approved by the Governor, will be of interest to a considerable number of our readers:

"Be it enacted, etc. That mortgages, judgments, recognitions, and money due upon articles for the sale of real estate made after the passage of this Act, are exempt from all taxation except State taxes, and that hereafter and after the first of December no taxes of any description except State taxes shall be assessed on such mortgages, judgments, recognitions and articles of agreement for the sale of real estate, whether made before or after the passage of this Act, and that any such taxes shall not apply to mortgages given by corporations."

Patrons desiring any information concerning the Erie Extension Canal, should address J. C. Dolan, Meadville, Pa.—Gazette.
We do not know that any persons are particularly anxious to secure information concerning the Erie Extension Canal, but a considerable number would like to hear from our former proprietors.

A line in one of Moore's songs reads thus:
"Our couch shall be roses hanged with dew."
To which a sensible girl replied:
"I would give you the rhennazini, and so it would you."

Philadelphia Waking up to her Interests at Last.
[From the Phila. Press.]
Just now the Western section of our State is considerably agitated over the proposition to unite with a group of cities, the Ohio and Erie Rivers. This project, which is now, it is now proposed to carry to completion. That this should be a vital question beyond the Alleghenies may be understood, but it can hardly be considered a local one by any intelligent observer. The country at large cannot fail to be deeply interested in the great commercial cities of Pennsylvania—Philadelphia at the head of the Ohio River, and Erie upon the great lakes; and the necessity and sound policy of rendering their interests identical is obvious. It does not require argument.

How thoroughly this enterprise will tend to combine and identify the interests of the Western portion of the Commonwealth, we can understand when we hear Erie spoken of as an outlying ward of Pittsburgh. And what is the interest of one section of the State is the interest of the whole. The little rivalries and petty jealousies that now and then invariably come to the surface in the demand for sectional consideration of the Radical party. The Senator takes his revenge by saying that the Republic is a "mere pop-gun," not capable of harming anybody, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

walked down to Lewis street. According to the business men who were standing in the corner of this street and Spring alley, they told him that he had "shipped those goods, and wanted the money for them." The amount required, he said, was sixty dollars. The man addressed pulled out of his pocket a handful of what appeared to be ten dollar gold pieces, and handed them over, but he did not wish to spend that money in this manner. Then turning to Brown he requested him to lend him fifty dollars. The latter replied that he had not that amount. His companion insisted that he surely had as much money as that. To convince him to the contrary Brown pulled out his pocket bill and a ten dollar bill, which he insisted was all the money he had. His companion caught hold of his hand and took the bill, and with his colleague disappeared at a rapid rate, up Spring alley, since which nothing has been heard of them. Brown returned to the depot, and told his story. A purse was made up for him, and the family left in the afternoon train for Erie, where they have friends living.

The following act, passed by the last Legislature, and approved by the Governor, will be of interest to a considerable number of our readers:

"Be it enacted, etc. That mortgages, judgments, recognitions, and money due upon articles for the sale of real estate made after the passage of this Act, are exempt from all taxation except State taxes, and that hereafter and after the first of December no taxes of any description except State taxes shall be assessed on such mortgages, judgments, recognitions and articles of agreement for the sale of real estate, whether made before or after the passage of this Act, and that any such taxes shall not apply to mortgages given by corporations."

Patrons desiring any information concerning the Erie Extension Canal, should address J. C. Dolan, Meadville, Pa.—Gazette.
We do not know that any persons are particularly anxious to secure information concerning the Erie Extension Canal, but a considerable number would like to hear from our former proprietors.

A line in one of Moore's songs reads thus:
"Our couch shall be roses hanged with dew."
To which a sensible girl replied:
"I would give you the rhennazini, and so it would you."

Philadelphia Waking up to her Interests at Last.
[From the Phila. Press.]
Just now the Western section of our State is considerably agitated over the proposition to unite with a group of cities, the Ohio and Erie Rivers. This project, which is now, it is now proposed to carry to completion. That this should be a vital question beyond the Alleghenies may be understood, but it can hardly be considered a local one by any intelligent observer. The country at large cannot fail to be deeply interested in the great commercial cities of Pennsylvania—Philadelphia at the head of the Ohio River, and Erie upon the great lakes; and the necessity and sound policy of rendering their interests identical is obvious. It does not require argument.

How thoroughly this enterprise will tend to combine and identify the interests of the Western portion of the Commonwealth, we can understand when we hear Erie spoken of as an outlying ward of Pittsburgh. And what is the interest of one section of the State is the interest of the whole. The little rivalries and petty jealousies that now and then invariably come to the surface in the demand for sectional consideration of the Radical party. The Senator takes his revenge by saying that the Republic is a "mere pop-gun," not capable of harming anybody, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Grand Brown.—From every section of the Western section of our State is considerably agitated over the proposition to unite with a group of cities, the Ohio and Erie Rivers. This project, which is now, it is now proposed to carry to completion. That this should be a vital question beyond the Alleghenies may be understood, but it can hardly be considered a local one by any intelligent observer. The country at large cannot fail to be deeply interested in the great commercial cities of Pennsylvania—Philadelphia at the head of the Ohio River, and Erie upon the great lakes; and the necessity and sound policy of rendering their interests identical is obvious. It does not require argument.

How thoroughly this enterprise will tend to combine and identify the interests of the Western portion of the Commonwealth, we can understand when we hear Erie spoken of as an outlying ward of Pittsburgh. And what is the interest of one section of the State is the interest of the whole. The little rivalries and petty jealousies that now and then invariably come to the surface in the demand for sectional consideration of the Radical party. The Senator takes his revenge by saying that the Republic is a "mere pop-gun," not capable of harming anybody, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

The Erie Observer does not like the new Registry Law. It was not expected that the Erie Observer would be so much interested in the Erie Extension Canal, and that its opposition to him at his last nomination was decidedly advantageous.

&lt;