WEEKLY OBSERVER

ERIE, PENN'A, JUNE 11, 1868.

THE Venango Spectator says there " is a general desire among the rank and file of both parties, that the happy man, whoever he may be, that is elected to Congress for that district, should be put under bonds to go to Washington once or twice, at least, during the term for which he draws his ten thousand dollars pay, mileage and pickings." In view of the fact that for the last two terms the district has been practically unrepresented, this "desire" is quite natural.

Mr. Epiton: As one who is supposed to be posted on every event that transpires, will you be kind enough to inform me whether the notice of proposals for the sale of the Poor House farm was published in any of the county papers, and if so, how many? Wherever a movement is making to celebrate the Fourth, let Democrats declare in advance that they will contribute nothing towards a political fandango, and insist upon having a fair representation upon the committees, so that they was not disqualified in any sense. Yet, in may prevent measures from being adopted inconsistent with our views of public good. We have no objections to the Radicals celebrating the Fourth in a party manner, if they wish; but we do protest against the sneaking plan of taking advantage of the people's patriotism to enlist them in a general celebration, and then securing some one-horse orator to spout sentiments that are an insult to half of those in attendance.

THE Connecutville Record informs us that at "the meeting of the Beaver County Republican Convention, after the nomination of a ticket, a resolution was unanimously passed instructing their Representatives in the Leg islature to support the project for the enlargement of the Eric canal. In Pittsburgh the enlargement question is made a strong point, and representatives will be chosen on that issue, as is the case in many other sections of the State, not so materially to be benefited by the proposed improvement. The Philadelphia papers have spoken favorably of the enlargement as a great State and National improvement, while the press of the cities lying on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers are unanimous in advocating the measure." THE FOURTHIN ERIE.-From the evidence that reaches us, we incline to the opinion that the ceremonial exercises connected with the laying of the corner stone of the Marine Hospital, on the Fourth of July, will render the occasion one of the most imposing and interesting that has transpired in many years. The character of the Committees of Arrangement assure us that no political influences will be allowed to interfere with the harmony of the proceedings, and we have too much confidence in the honorable disposition of Attorney-General Brewster, the chosen orator of the day, to doubt that he will withhold all expressions which might give rise to a dissenting opinion, or create an unfavorable impression on the minds of any portion of his hearers. Our representative in Congress, after much trial and tribulation, has just completed another of those petty tricks with which his which give him so firm a hold upon the af- 25th of June. fections of his Democratic constituents! As chairman of the Committee on Elections, he last week reported against the right of Gen. Morgan, of Ohio, to hold his seat in the House, and gave it to Columbus Delano, the Radical contestant-a report which it is needless to say, the Rump at once and unresitatingly confirmed. The case has been on trial for a number of months, and in the meantime Scofield has twisted and wiggled and "jumped Jim Crow" in a most amusing manner, with the object of making out a plausible record, but no one doubted that he yould finally obey Stevens' and Butler's or ders, and do exactly as he has done. The title of Gen. Morgan to the scat was as clear as the sun at noon on a July day, and may be briefly stated as follows: The returns of election showed a majority in his favor of 271 votes in the District, which had gone Radical for several years previous. The claim gave Gen. Morgan a majority of one hundred Directors, and our impression is that it aptext for disfranchising the entire township, his prompter, furnished one which is quite worthy of their combined ingenuity. It is alleged that one of the judges of election was incompetent under the laws of Ohio, from notice of contest; and, therefore, it is now terthought, contrived for the purpose of perwholesale disfranchisement. Proof was also furnished that the judge in question was not "deserter from the draft," as is falsely alleged, because he furnished a substitute, as ANNA E. DICKINSON'S novel, which she assurance to the contrary, we undertake the has recently completed, is said to be so radical, politically and socially, that several of the publishers have declined to touch it. The story, if we are to believe rumor, is that of a strong-minded, self-reliant woman, who lives to herself-as Sir Charles Grandison according to his doting mamma, did for himself-and from an unaided and wholly friendless position rises to success and happiness without marriage. The novel is believed to be rather autobiographical, and to be drawn, as far as the heroine is concerned, from the fair Anna's inner consciousness.
