If is plain that the lef-ter, the language of the laws is not to control, but what is supposed to be its spirit is to govern what the laws say ought to be what they mean, and the spirit and intent of a law ought to appear in the language used. A construction has already been given. Is a speech delivered at Columbus, Ohio, on the 27th day of August 1864, Governor Morton spoke of the proposition to pay the bonds in greenbacks as "the black channel of repudiation," "the black cloud of repudia-tion," "charged with the livit lightnings of dishonor and destruction," and as "a weak device of the enemy by which they approach direct repudiation." Gov. Baker in his speech at Cincinnati, on Septem-ber 16, 1867, said of the measure that it "would result in the destruction of the credit of the Government at home and abroad, and nutinately in practical repudiation, which is the real object sought." The Chicago reso-lution denounces "all forms of repudiation to pay the bonds in creenbacks and thus for south as a precent at the great leaders of the party in Indiana say that it is repudiation to pay the bonds in creenbacks and the great leaders of the party in Indiana say that it is repudiation." the party in Indiana say that it is repudiat to pay the bonds in greenbacks, and thus they declare that the spirit of the law requires payment in gold, and that is the meaning of the resolution.

In what contrasts are the New York reso-lations upon this and kindred subjects? They leave no question in doubt, but in plain words declare the policy of the party. I will word them.
