Prennsylvania and Ohio Elections for State, District and County Officers, Tuesday, October 13th, 1868.

REMEMBER OCTOBER!

It should be understood by every Democrat in Pennsylvania, that this State is the battle-ground of the present political contest. It should be understood, furthermore, that the great decisive battle will be fought on the thirteenth of October next. If that battle be won by the Democracy, nothing on earth can prevent our success in November.

LATE AND APPROACHING ELEC-TIONS.

The election in Montana Territory, held on the 3d of August, was purely local in its character, although the canvass was conduct ed mainly upon national issues. The result is a Democratic majority of about 2,500, and decisive Democratic gains in all the counties The Democracy carried every county except one in the Territory, notwithstanding the fact that there was a falling off in the vote of about one-third. An election was held in Idaho Territory for a member of Congress, and resulted, as in Montana, in a decided Democratic victory, Judge Shaffer our candidate, being successful by about five hundred majority. The campaign was closely contested, the Radicals especially strain ing every energy to win the day.

The election in Vermont, on Tuesday, being the first the Radicals have won of any importance during the year, is hailed by them with great delight, and seems to be accepted by them as a certain harbinger of victory in November. How much basis they have for their joy may be understood when it is known that in 1864 Lincoln had 29,098 majority in the State, which has been overwhelmingly opposition for thirty years at least. The vote this year is heavily increased, and yet the Tribune only places the Radical majority at 27,000, while the World estimates it at 25,000, showing in either case a considerable Democratic gain. Vermont is the last State in the Union that Democrats would expect to hear anything cheering from, and they have seldom considered it worth contesting. If either side has reason to feel encouraged over the late election, it is certainly not the Radicals, who have lost at least two thousand and probably more of their majority since 1864.

Before the great and decisive struggle of November, elections for State officers and members of Congress will be held in the States of Maine, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania. These elections are of unusual importance, as indicating Presidential contest.

Maine votes on Monday, Sept. 14. An active canvass is going on there. Both parties are well organized. Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania hold their elections on the same day, Tuesday, Oct. 13, and West Virginia on Thursday, Oct. 22. The State elections held so far, this year, 61,700 GEN. BLAIR.

In looking over the official proceedings of the Thirty-Seventh Congress, we have discovered the following motion made by Mr John Hickman, of this State, at that time one of the bright and shining lights of the Opposition in that body. It will be remembered that there was a hot contest over the Speakership during that session, and quite a number of names were balloted for before a selection was secured : .

"Mr. Speaker: I beg leave to nominate for the Speakership of this House, General Fran-cis P. Blair, of Missouri, a gentleman who has inaugurated a war policy in that State which has elicited the enthusiastic approba-tion of every loyal American citizen."

He received forty votes on the first ballot, and then withdrew his name. Among those who voted for him we find the names of John A. Bingham, of Ohio; Roscoe Conkling, of New York, now United States Senator; Kelley, of Pennsylvania; Lovejoy, of such an able, upright, honest, good man that he was in their estimation the proper person to be the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Now these very same Radicals cannot find words sufficiently hitter to abuse this same General Blair. But the General lives, moves, has his being, and is growing in popularity with the masses every day, notwithstanding the slanders of his former friends and admirers.

A MODEL SAINT. " That representative Radical paper, the Albany Evening Journal, in a leading editorial

"Politically and morally, Mr. Stevens was a striking illustration of his own theory of per-sonal right and individual independence. He did not often attend public worship. Having separated a handsome mulatto woman from her husband, he deemed it his duty to proas to almost entirely exclude him from other female society—a fact which never seemed to give him the slightest concern. He was an inveterate gamester on a small scale, and almost invariably, after a day's duty in the House, he would drop in at a favorite casino and win or lose fifty dollars, that being the average limit of his betting." The Journal knew the man, and has written freely what it knew. But this frankness gains added force when it is remembered that the man whose portrait is thus truly pictured by his own partisans was the acknowledged leader among leaders in the party which claims to be pre-eminently the party of Moral Ideas, and which Henry Wilson, of Massachusetts, has asserted to be founded upon the

GEN. ROSECRANS VISITS GEN. LEE. The main topic of discussion during the Gen. Lee, A. H. In answer to a correspondent who suggested that there were many extreme men in the South, Gen. Rosecrans said, "No, that is too strong a term to use with reference to them. The slightest disease, no matter how trivial, where it is located, or what its character, is the result of some existing impurities in the blood, and if these impurities be not expelled promptly, disease in some form must be exhibited. In all diseases of the stomach, kidneys, liver, bowels, lungs and heart, the blood is necessarily impure, and the more blood is necessarily impure, and the more virulent the disease the greater the impurities. monopolized by the few.

After the nomination of Governor Seymour it predicted his defeat. But in its issue of August 22 it takes it back: "Did we judge merely from indications on the surface, this conviction might remain un-changed. We have, however, become per-suaded that there is a powerful undercurrent of popular dissatisfaction with Radical rule and Radical measures which is gaining rather than losing strength with the passage of time, and that, consequently, the chances, which at present we estimate as nearly even, may incline in November, in a victorious degree, to the Democratic side.

to the Democratic side.

From present indications, however, we are led to believe that the three great States of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio will throw themselves into the scale for Seymour and Blair; and, should they do so, not all the hosts of New England, backed as they may be by the West and South, by voters black or white, Constitutional or unconstitutional, will avail to prevent the Republican forces from kicking the hearn."

kicking the beam.' LIVE ISSUES.

The living issues of the Campaign are the abominable corruption of the party in power, Illinois; Sherman, of Ohio, and Schuyler its reckless extravagance, its atrocious negro Colfax, of Indiana. Then General Blair was supremacy policy, its despotic, unconstitutional usurpations and the necessity of an economical and better government. In these there is matter enough, if properly handled, to sink the Radical party in the lowest depths of infamy and beyond the hope of resurrect nomination for Congress, in the 10th Distion. The facts must be put tersely and trict. I deeply regret that some other person squarely before the people, or they will be smothered up by the adroit management of Judge Brown. (From the Brookville Herald,)

Judge Brown is one of the best lawyers in the State, and a gentleman of unblemished reputation; of sterling integrity, against whom there can be nothing said. His popularity, in Warren county, where he is more intimately known, is the best evidence of his character and worth. In an election for Judge in the Warren district, a couple years ago, he was the Democratic nominee against Judge Johnson, his law partner, when he reduced the Republican majority in Warren county from about eleven hundred to but three votes. The nomination of Judge Brown gives perfect satisfaction to the Demredeem this district from the odium of being represented by a man whose every vote has been for the debasement of the white man and the elevation of the negro. [From the Daily Dispatch.] This gentleman, who has just been nominated for Congress by the Democracy of this has long been engaged in the practice of law, right judge, and an excellent citizen. We are glad that such is the fact, so that if he shall be beaten, as no doubt will be the case, the reason will not be that he is not a good man, but that he did not represent a good cause. And the fault will not be his, as we but that the nonination sought him.
