They thus grasped the exclusive power of issuing paper money to the holders of Government bonds—the privilege of issuing bank hills under what is known as our national banking system. This was a privilege of commons value. I will not stop now to discuss the wisdom of that system As Governor of this state, I vetocal a law authorizing our banks to organize under that system, because I saw, as far back as 1863, that it imperiled the future harmony of our Union. The point to which I wish to call your attention is the unwise and unjust manner in public affair— [Cheers] the point to which I wish to call your attention is the unwise and unjust manner in which this great privilege was distributed.

Wise men would look to see how it could be given out so as to minister to the general prosperity of our country. But, regardless of all this, this great monopoly was given to the first comers. These were mainly from the old and rich States which had been enabled to take up the Government honds. the old and rich States which had been enabled to take up the Government bonds. Thus, not only our debt but our currency was sectionalized. While the State of Massachusetts, with about 1,109,000 inhabitants, has about $57,000,000 of this currency, their of Illinois, with twice that population, has less than $10,000,000. In the State of Rhode Island, they have about $90 to each inhabitant, while in Illinois, Michican, Wisconsin and other western States they have only about $8. We feel, 11ck of foresight and of statesmanship. It is too, that our success would be a rebuke, by no answer to say in justification of this inter-the American people, of measures which no answer to say in justification of this integral quality that the west had as good a chance to get this privilege that as the other States. This was not a matter to leave to chance. The western States were not then in a condition to seeme this currency; for the very reason that they most needed it. If the rate of proportion was to be disregarded, it should have been done in tay or of the very States that now have the smallest share. It was the duty of wise statesmanship to see that the currency was given where it could be of the greatest service to the public. It may be greatest service to the public. It may be asked if the west was not able to take bond; how they could avail themselves of this privilege? If this action had been reversed, and flay-seven millions had been given to the State of Illinois, and eight millions had been given to the State of Massachusetts, which would be much more fair than the present di-triba-tion, the people of Himois could not have es-tablished these banks; but the capitalists of New England and New York would gladly have established banks in these States, for the sake of the advantages there offered. this would not only have been more fair, as any one sees; but it would have avoided a great evil to which I will call your attention. And in considering this, I shall not go so far as to say that one vote shall have be say. as to say that any State should have less than

This is a vital question, affecting the weltare of every citizen of our land. There is a great wrong here, at the very basis of our business prosperity, and affecting the personal interests of all our citizens. "Then," says the borrower, "I feel that I must pay interest to two bankers. Is it right that Rhode Island, or Massachusetts, or New York should have the share of currency which belongs to our western states." Are not we, the citizens of the west formal to the control of the control of the west formal to the control of the contro not we, the citizens of the west, forced to pay to these eastern states interest upon the rency which rightfully belongs to us? must pay you, the banker of the west and the | candidate for Surveyor General, is. 498 less banker of the cast, ten to twelve per cent. interest, when I ought to pay but one-half that than that of Gen. The Democratic party is one of minimum courage and perseverance. Defeat may cause it disappointment, but neither weakens nor discourages it. We meet none who are not ready to buckle on the armor as gallantly as ever, and to 'cohecutrate our energics for one more heroic struggle. Pass the word along the lines, then, and have each man ready for duty on Tuesday next. The time has come to test the mettle we are made of. Let it not be said that a transient reverse has made us forget the duty we owe to ourselves and to our cause. The true patriot is bravest when obstacles thicken most around him. A firm, united, vigorous onset must be made, from one end of the column to the other, and if we fail this time, our colors will still be retained, our ranks unbroken, and everything in good shape for the next call to battle.
