WE HAVE received a circular which gives us the information that a number of Democrats in Philadelphia propose to establish a new paper in that city as soon as the means can be raised. We are strongly of the opinion that, instead of starting additional journals, if the Democrats of the country would endeavor to give those they already have a better patronage, so that they might be able boats, five in number. Two of those boats to increase their editorial force, and make other desirable improvements, it would be the best thing for all interested.

THE Pittsburgh Post insists that, notwithstanding hints to the contrary, J. Edgar Thompson is still in the ring as a candidate for U.S. Senate, and by all odds the most formidable name yet mentioned, if, as we before stated, T. A. Scott undertakes the affair. The latter gentleman is said to be the most powerful persuader that ever appeared in Harrisburg ; he has been known to convince a man in five minutes that it was his duty to vote for a measure he had been elected to oppose.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE. We give our readers this important document in a supplement, instead of crowding out our usual variety by inserting it in our regular columns. It has been carefully re- fate, vised, and will be found more accurate than the reports in some of the other city papers. The Message bears the marks of careful preparation, an I, like all Mr. Johnson's state pro luctions, is a document of unusual ability well worded, and esteulated to make a profound impression on the thinking people of will be eventually sustained by the better judgment of the nation. We trust this admirable document will be thoroughly read and digested by every man in the county whatever may be his estimate of Mr. Johnson personally, for it contains information without which no one can east his vote intelligibly upon the issues of the day.

MEETING OF CONGRESS. The regular session of Chagress commenced on Monday, with a neavy rain 'prevailing, and the Capitol looking as gloomy as it well could. Nevertheless, there was a consilerable audience in attendance, including many negroes, comprising all varieties, from the ugly looking "buck" to the delicately tinted octoroon. No change of importimee was, made in the officers of either House, and Wade and, Colfax will continue to preside over their (respective assemblies until the fourth of March. The expected bills to secure negro suffrage in all the States, and to change the naturalization laws so as to make foreigners apply to the U.S. Courts, were introduced. A variety of propositions for bringing the country back to specie pay ment have been presented, and it is clearly evillent that some measures for that purpose will be carried. A bill to continue the Freedman's Bureau is among the most notable measures that have yet been offered. Senator Drake proposes to abolish the grade of General and Lieutenant-General in the Army, as well as Admiral and Vice-Admiral cated by their present occupants. The new visit 1 find it a frees study-never an old story. The "up-town" of one period is the "down-town" of another, with its more quiet and refined society, which has reached the higher stages of metropolitan civilization, and withdrawn itself from the vulgarity of and withdrawn itself from the vulgarity of extreme fashion. A new and more boldly extravagant aristocratic quarter, with its sen-suons splendors, is passing through the first steps of culture and civilization; those who by the rapid success of enterprises of gain—onorable or otherwise-have been lifted from plain and often vulgar obscurity, to the privilege of demanding an entrance to the circle which gold has created, and in which it flashes its gaudy decorations. Naturally the first operation of the new-comer's claim must be made by out-flashing his predeces-sors—an external manifestation of extravagance which wins wonder, or a notoricty of deportment which defles opinion. But the first ambition satisfield, there comes another and a higher, the desire to be respectable, to study the refinements which have repulsed insterial claims, and in one or two genera-tions we may have an 'old family'' setting a high example in morals, art, and literature. It would have taken ten generations of feudal superiority to have done as much. This I take to be the social mission of New York. Its power catches the rough and undis-ciplined energies which create its wealth and agnificence, and by elevating and instructing their accompanying ambition, elaborates the artistic and social refinement of which Every head of a family should go to church for an exthe text "Do not my words do good to him the text "Do not my words do good to min that walketh uprightly ?"—Micah xi : 7. Ife made a most powerful and eloquent appeal for increased effort to give those words more efficiently to the people of New York, not ample, if nothing else. Lounging in the streets and bar-rooms on Sunday is abominable and deserves censure, because it lays the foundation of habits which ruin both soul only to the ignorant masses, but to the count and body.
