ELECTION FRAUDS.

The statement made in Congress by Mr Brooks, of New York City, that $500,000 has been contributed by the Union Leagues of New York and Philadelphia to carry the fall election, is undoubtedly reliable. Senator Morgan, who lives in New York, has twice refused to appear before a grand jury on their summons to answers questions in relation to these frauds. The Senator well Lnows that he would not only criminate himself, but condemn his party. Hence he was intentionally absenf.

Whatever means and appliances might have been used in the late election to corrupt voters were used in the Radical interest. They spent fifty dollars-where the Democracy spent one. They had the stock-jobbing the bond-holding; the office-holding, and the war-contractor interest, all of which had made tens of thousands of dollars by their fealty to the organization.

These facts being notorious, the Democrats having no money, or next to no money, for any election purposes, while the Radicals had it in abundance, indicates very conclu sively who it was that inaugurated and carried through the system of fraudulent voters

The gap between the two roads (some three hundred and odd milewill be closed probably before the first of June.

Will the road pay? Every indication answers-yes, enormously. Its local busi pess last year, exceeded four million dollarand in Section to reason more than $544. 000. WAR IN EUROPE.

The situation in Eastern Europe is was like and threstening. The ultimatum of Turkey has been decisively rejected a Athens, and both Turkey and Greece are preparing for a great war. The Sultan i resolved to enforce his demands that Turkis vessels may overhaul the Greek, to see whether they early supplies for the insugents of Crete; the Greeks long for hastening the crisis on the Eastern question The 7 Turks have dispatched four frigates to the Archipelago : the Greeks are mobilizing the whole militia, talk of offering a command to Garibaldi, and threaten an immediate in vasion of Epirus, one of the southern' prov-inces of Turkey. War has not yet been for mally declared, but hostilities have already between the Greek vessel Ergsis and a Turkof the firmer. The Turkish Admiral had her. IS THIS PLACE I The people of the United States were promised that on the election of Grant the era of peace and good feeling would immedi- ately spread their wings, over the length and breadth of our land; that "war's ahrums" would be heard no more, and our military paraphernalia greatly reduced. But it does not look now as if these pledges were in the way of fulfillment. Of all the army re- ports, from the Secretary of War down, not cne recommends a decrease in the military force, but the burden of their cry is "troops," "troops," "troops." Grant says "the troops on the plains are all needed; troops are still needed in the South- ern States." Sherman says " the Indians can only be placed on reservations by coercion," which means troops. Ord wants "an increase of the force" in Arizona, which means troops. Thomas says, " the necessity for the pres- ence of troops," in the department of th- Cumberland " is as great as heretofore," which means troops. Meade asks for " more power" in his dis- trict, which means troops. Reynolds, from Texas, complains that " re- construction" has withdrawn so much of his force from the frontiers that the settlers are left without adequate protection, which means troops. With all this cry for." troops", how is the	tinguished soklier, or some able and popular civilian. Covode's "humbuggedest" Gov- ernor can't be re-elected Leneaster Intelli- geneer. Is THIS PEACE I Is THIS PEACE I The people of the United States were promised that on the election of Grant the era of peace and good feeling would immedi- ately spread their wings, over the length and breedth of our land; that "war's ahrums" would be heard no more, and our military paraphernalia greatly reduced. But it does not look now as if these pledges were in the way of fulfillment. Of all the army re- ports, from the Secretary of War down, not the recommends a decrease in the military force, but the burden of their ery is "troops," "troops," "troops." Grant easys "the troops on the plains are all needed; troops are still needed in the South- ern States." Sherman says "the Indians can only be placed on reservations by coercion," which means troops. Ord wants "an increase of the force" in Arizona, which means troops. Thomas says, "the necessity for the pres- ence of troops" in the department of the Cumberland "is as great as heretofore," which means troops. OBSERVER- Dear Sir :-As our -gu- bernatorial canvass is approaching and we will be called on to select a candidate for that office, would it not be well, on account of our recent defeats, to be very cautions in that selection? We want a reliable Dessocrat in the first place; next, one whose availability will be an assurance of success. Where can such a candidate be found ? Gen. Cass, of Pittsburgh, comes nearer the man than any other man now talked of tor that position. As you are aware, he has been a candidate for the nomination in several of the last Con- ventions, and was a candidate for Vice Presi- dent at the Chicago Convention. He has al- waya been well supported by the western part of the State, and will come to the base. Cass's connections with the leading railroad lines in the State, if properly manged for him, will be certainly a strong spoke in his wheel, and, if he can control them, will cer- tainly elect him over Genry. There is one thing in his favor, and that is, he has no rec- ord to detend, and we can go into a ean- vas for him with some show of success. While Gen.
