To the Editors of the Dispatch:

We noticed your paper of Friday, the 26th inst. published the remarks of the Hon. G. P. Mr. Olin has been trading in our town for more than twenty-five years, during which time we have been well acquainted with him and know him to be a gentleman of good character and moral worth, and hesitate not to say that Mr. Rea's vindictive remarks on the character of Mr. Olin are without fromdation in truth.

At the beginning of the rebellion a compa-ny of sone hundred men was raised in our botough and township. Mr. Olin subscribed one hundred deliars for their outilt, and paid it. During the rebellion we frequently had large sums of mency to raise to pay substitutes, encourage calistments, etc. Mr. Olin, with a willing hand, always reached out his with a withing hand, always reached our his full quots, eithough he was not liable to the draft. For some three years Mr. Olin's wife (God bless her for her kindness) served as President of the Ladies' Spidiers' Aid Society, and his store was the place of 'deposit of hospital steres for our society; and also an adjoining one, and we know Mr. Olin repeatedly gave articles from his store for the head of our sick boys.

This edition of Charles Reade's novels in This edition of Charles Reade's novels is samewhat similar in style to the well-known "Charles Dickens' series, issued by the same firm. The volumes are all neatly bound, well printed, and compact, with the fac simile signature of Charles Reade prominently displayed on the outside. We are glad to welcome such an acceptable addition to the American library of medican Reade Prolink litera. American library of modern English litera-ture. After Dickens, no English author of the day appeals so directly to all branches of the English speaking race as Charles Reade. Although most of his works are intensely English in local coloring, his hatred of class while under the influence of liquor and bad temper, cat her husband over the eye with an axe so severely that it came nigh giving him his quietus. his works appreciative readers wherever the English language is spoken. Never Too Late to Mend, for example, is in itself a work of fiction of the highest order, stamped throughout by unquestionable marks of great imaginative power, richness of fanciful illustration, and a subtle knowledge of the inner workings of the human heart, while at the same time there is no doubt that in publishing that work, Charles Reade wrought a great social reform in exposing the tyranny and cruelty of the English prison system; and is just as of the English prison system and is just as much deserving of gratitude as if he had carried it through in Parliament, with all the "pomp and circumstance" of political warfare, and gained the prestige attaching to entre. fare, and gained the prestige attaching to enlightened and ancessful statesmanship. Authors of this kind are rare in these days, and their influence for good can scarcely be overestimated. Charles Reade's works all deserve the widest circle of readers, within whose reach they can be brought, and we are glad to find that the task of placing them before the American public in a tasteful and convenient library form has been undertaken, and so well executed, by those so thoroughly qualified for carrying it out as the publishers and so well executed, by those so thoroughly qualified for carrying it out as the publishers of the present series.—Note York Trass.

Two Men Baried Alire. On Friday, the 19th instant, Mr. Edward Readel was digited and sledding sand from Gage's Gulf, in company with two men and portunity for a sensation local was lost by a buy. Circumstances were such that the a lay. Circumstances were such that the sled could not be brought near the sand hole, and, consequently, it was carried a considerable distance in a basics, by Mr. Rundell and the boy, while the two workmen pickent it aut and the were it into a pile. 'About tes without Mr. R. and the boy returned to the exceptation for the purpose of procuring a basics of said. They were astonished on their arrival to find one of the men missing. They at once commenced diagring for the The concert given by the pupils of the public schools, on Friday evening, was successful in every respect. The children conducted themselves well, the entertainment was creditable, the sudience very large, and everything passed off to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The editor man the "whole expression of his face is a combination of the populative feature of the spotted load and the pharper sulling of a screen." Soon facations members of the Illinois Leg-ielature recently introduced into that body a resolution to incorporate the "Blinois Eleva-tor Company." It was read a third time, and passed by a vote of .76 ayes to 9 nays. The "powers" of the company are defined in section 2, namely: "To elevate the shirt-collar of the gentleman from Pike." It now trampires that when U.S. Marshal Dickson, of Atlanta, Georgia, mysteriously disappeared, the other day, upwards of $50,000 of other peoples money also disap-

THE Greensborough (N. C.) Patriot says that Bob Modeswell, a notorious colored thief, was sent to jall, a few days ago, for the fittieth time for theft. That evening a white "school marm" called at the jail to see him and "whispered words of consolation," when she kissed him through the bars! The disgusted jailor would not allow further intimace.

. Mn. Boggs, who was Gen. Grant's St. Louis partner in the real estate business ten years ago, died in that city on Monday of last week. He was to have been made Surveyor of the Port by Gen. Grant.

CHARG and Eng, the Slamese twins, are married to two sisters, the daughters of an American clergyman. Each brother has nine children. The family of Eng consists of six sons and three daughters; the family of Chang consists of three sons and aix daughters. Their first children were born within three or four days of each other; the others it investigations in the children were born of the six investigation. others at irregular intervals. Chang's ninth child was born three months ago.

Tak negro Harris, who was nominated for Lientenant Governor of Virginia by the Rad-cal convention at Petersburg, has a white woman for a wife. She was a "Yankee school marm" from New Jersey. They were married since the war.

Moses H: Gainnell has received the New York Collectorship; the fattest office in the President's gift. This is another personal appointment of Grant's and over the heads of the politicians. Moses was a large ment. THE day before Grant was inaugurated he drove down to a school on Thirteenth street; Washington, in his private, carriage, and set his little boy, a new comer at the school, on the sidewalk. The other boys, who were no respectors of persons, cried out, "There's little Grant, let's paste him! and did so effectually paste him with balls made from the newly fellen snow, that he called his father's aid, but Ulysses laughed at him and drove on, leaving him to learn the first lesson in taking care of himself. THE N. Y. Tribune gives publicity to the the A. 1. Tritune gives publicity to the following plensing tale from the correspondence of a Philadelphia paper. The Senator is reported to be Dick Yates, of Illihois:

"On dit that a prominent Senator, who once before distinguished himself in a 'similar manner, appeared suddenly, a few evenings since, before the ladies in the parior of the St. James Heidel in the farming distribution." the St. James Hotel, in his favorite dishabile costume, and flourishing a revolver in very careless manner. He was attired in nothing but a single article of raiment, and was, of course, intoxicated at the time. The sensation produced, however, was startling. As he has promised to reform, I refmin from giving his name." THE World save Grant has already nomi nated more of his own and his wife's relations to public posts than any President beyear's term.

NASHVILLE, TENN., presents a widowindy aged 113, who has outlived three husbands, all of whom served in the Revolutionary war and for whose services she draws three pensions. Her name is Dinah Vies; she has 400 descendants, and her daughter aged 90, GRANT'S lamentation over the loss of Washburne can easily be seen in the follow-ing parody:

"Be he resigned, and am he gone:
And is I living all alone?
Ab! cruel fate! thou is unkind . To take him first and leave I hind." GRANT apparently conceives that the civil service of the country was instituted as a re-ward to the people who have done various civil services for him.

STANTON, it is said, wears a steel collar when he sleeps. His object is supposed to be to protect his throat against the hong flipers of Mrs. Surratt. THE Chicago Post says: "Watts is to be revised so as to read, 'How sharper than Miss Anna E. Dickinson's tongue it is to have a thankless child.'" It is pleaded in mitigation of the descent from Dix to Washburne as our representa-tive at Paris, that Washburne can't speak French, so that he will not be able to let the people perceive how little he knows. But, alas, the Emperor Napoleon speaks English "OLD PLUTO" is Brownlow's pet name in Memphis. Nor is it inappropriate, as Plato was one of the infernal deities. GEN. BUTLER was taking tea at the house of a lady friend in Washington the other day.

The General seemed to look as though something was lacking, and the following dialogue took place: Hostess—"Can it be possible. General, that you have no spoon?" Buller (rising indignantly and holding out both hands)—"No, Madam! If you don't believe mr, you can search me."

Suith has the honor of being elected Mayor of Oskaloosa, Iowa, the first woman who ever received the honor in this country. PRESIDENT GRANT had no relative on hand to take the Cincinnati post office, so he gave it to his old father's next-door neighbor, a resident of Covington. The Chicago Post says: "The rumor that Gen. Logan was lately admitted to the Meth-odist Church, at Carlinville, is correct; but he is kept on probation so long as he cor tinues in Congress." The Hartford Times is surprised that Gen. Grant has not appointed Bonner's horse, Dexter, to the Interior Department. By the wsy, we wonder what Dexter's owner is to have. Nothing less than a first class appointment could pay for the rides he has given the

THE Richmond State Journal says: "Judge or Metal. Underwood is a self-made man." We are glad to hear that the Almighty is not responsible for making such a knave and fool. Some amusement was created by a scene which occurred in the Senate on Tuesday, ust after the adjournment of Congress. Mr. Summer was engaged in caracat conversation Summer was enguged in earsest conversation with a friend, when a young African, dressed in the height of lishion, accompanied by two drisks of the sank "mee and color," gorgeous in feathers and silks, approached, and touching Mr. Sumner on the shoulder, claimed acquaintance, and immediately presented his temale friends to the great champions of their race. The darasels were delighted to see Mr. Sumner, and each took a hand astitled thomselves for a little talk over hasters and things. Mr. Sumner did not seem, however, to appreciate their attention; and, withdrew his hands, and, turning his back, resumed the conversation. The party was not pleased at their reception, and one were not pleased at their reception, and one of the ladies remarked: Well, I didn't thin the world be so cool after all his beautiful talk about us; but white man is very in-
