Mr. John Lewis, of Zollarsville, Washing ton Co., Pa., writes:

"The medicine you sent me last spring acted like a charm. It relieved me very soon of a deranged state of the liver stomach and bowels. The marked peculiarity of your remedies is, while they act directly and thor bowels. oughly on the diseased organs, they do not depress or dehilitate the system like other Liver remedies I have used. SUFFERING READER ! If you are afflicted with any chronic disease, throw aside, for once, any preconceived, erroneous notions in regard to an advertising physician, who gives ample evidence of his skill and integrity.

R. LEGNIDAS HAMILTON, M. D. is a thoroughly educated physician, a regu-lar graduate of one of our best medical schools, a man of over twenty-five years' experience in the treatment of all chronic dis-cases to which the people of this or any coun-try are subject, who has at this moment patients under treatment in every Stat- and Territory of the American Union, in the British Provinces, South and Central America, Mexico, West Indies, and Sandwich Is-lands, Australia, Europe, China and the East.

This will doubtless sound chimerical to many, but the evidence can be produced at This Dr. Hamilton's office to prove every word true. It is also asserted, on the most reliable authority, that no one physician in this or any other country on the globe, of whatever age or position, has ever seen, examined and prescribed for one-half the number of patients that Dr. Hamilton has. Again, it must not be supposed that Dr. Hamilton's treat-ment consists in Patent Medicines, or a few pet compounds, recommended to cure all the ills that flesh is subject to. On the contrary, Dr. Hamilton's prescriptions and specific compounds are always made up chemically and specifically, for each individual case, as they are presented to him, either in person or by letter-either of which is sufficient if Removals from Office.

Great injustice has been done to General Jackson by attributing to him the authorship of the system of wholesale removals from office for political reasons above. It is true that he made far more removals than his predecessor, John Quincy Adams, but there was a manifest reason for it. Mr. Adams had been Becretary of State for eight years feb18-tf. under the Administration of President Monroe. The appointments made by that President may be anyposed to have been made generally with his sauction. There was, therefore, little change under him. But when General Jackson came into office in 1829, after a heated contest, he found nearly, all the office-holders against him. In order to restore the balance, make a just equilibrum, and show that the offices were the long term of eight years, there were many persons in official positions throughout the country who were the enemies of his political Administration. It was not until 1840. when Harrison and Tyler, the Whig candidates for President and Vice President, were elected, that the sweeping system of removals from office for opinion's sake was adopted with remorseless severity. Everything then was changed, high and low, from the Cabinet officer down to the merest tide-water in the Capitol, or the humblest postmaster in any part of the Union. The practice then set has been followed ever since by all parties. 'The Democracy, although not the first to adopt it, followed it as a measure of retaliation. But it is high time that the practice was discontinued, and that the Government chose its servants upon the same principles that govern individuals in public life, and that the Jeffersonian test was alone applied, "Is he of March, and nominated John Qaincy Adhonest-is he capable-is he faithful?"

A "Constitutional Thief."

In his speech in the Senate, last week, Gen. Cameron spoke of one of Gen. Grant's appointees from Pennsylvania as a "constitutional thief." This declaration is understood to refer to Frederick Coxe, of Philadelphia, who had received the appointment of Consul to Marseilles, one of the most impor ant of our foreign positions. The Telegraph, of quaintance with either, and no preference, that city, a radical paper, says he "has been in the habit of pilfering various small atticles from one of the largest and be t patronized wholesale and retail grocery stores. The firm, though fully aware of the thefts, bore with them, hardly knowing what course, under the circumstances, to pursue. At length, > however, patience at an end, they brought the matter to a culmination on Saturday last by having the gentlemanly thief arrested in the street. He was conducted back to the store and there compelled to disgorge the ar-> > value of the articles he had stolen for two ly. The firm accepted his proposition, when settled, and all parties satisfied." Coxe is member of the Loyal League, and has been one of its favorite members.

Directly after Cameron's exposition, Grant withdrew Coxe's appointment.

> Changes in Office. The terrible pressure for office upon Gen Grant may be seen in the following list of appointments sent into the Senate by him up > to April 20th, nearly all of which have been confirmed : Cabinet officers and foreign ministers, 32; Secretaries Legation, 5; Consuls General, 4; Consuls, 99; Governors Territories, 7; Sec-

GEN. CAMEBON made a speech in the Senate, last week, sharply criticising Grant's appointments in this State, and the manner in which they had been made. He said the President had completely ostracized the Pennsylvania Senators, and that not one person had been appointed at his solicitation. The names of two men had been sent into the Senate, one of whom was a constitutioual drunkard and the other a constitutional thief. Under the old practice of consulting Senators about appointments, fewer, blunders were made, and bad men did not stand as good a chance of getting places.
