

PENN'A. R. R. TIME TABLE. Passenger trains leave Mifflin Station as follows:

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

We carry no dead advertisements. Cross street will be opened to the public at an early day.

Come to the SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN office for your job work.

The fields of wheat in middle and eastern Pennsylvania look well.

November and December are the months in which to shoot rabbits.

LOCAL OPTION was defeated in Philadelphia by 32,000 majority.

The aggregate receipts of the Huntingdon county Fair amounts to $2,500.

It is not lawful to shoot partridges, and will not be until the fall of the year 1876.

C. B. Bartley and C. Bartley, brothers, are about to build a business place on the Nervin property.

The Glamorgan Iron Company propose to pay their hands in due bills, payable in six months with interest.

The late rains have given rise to the usual amount of prophesy as to the lateness or shortness of the fall season.

Mr. Union is happy these autumn nights under the inspiration of music made by a local "string band."

Panics, Panics, Panics, Panics, Panics in the prices of clothing at London's Clothing Store. Call and see.

J. P. Brumbaugh, of Lincoln township, Huntingdon county, shot six wild turkeys in one day. He shot one at a time.

Those who get no paper this week will please inform us, if they wish to receive the SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN.

If it were not for the present financial affairs, the grain market would rule high; that is, the price of grain would be high.

C. B. Bartley has actively commenced to remove the fire debris on the Bedford property, as a preparatory step to the erection of a large business house for rent by Mrs. Bedford.

THE Altoona Tribune of last Monday says: The wages of laborers in the various depots of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been reduced 12 1/2 per cent. to take effect to-day.

The sale of York State calves by L. R. Rhoades at John A. Gallaher's was a success. There were 45 "heads" sold, averaging $15.20 per head. Mr. Rhoades deserves encouragement for his enterprise.

The office of the JUNIATA SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN is at the intersection of "East Point," Cherry, Washington and Cross streets, and about as far from the court house as that building is from the river bridge.

James Creswell, of this borough, has received a patent for a "Legislative Voting Apparatus." The apparatus has so commended itself to patent rights men that Mr. Creswell has already had a number of offers for State rights. He has an offer now of $11,950 for thirteen Southern States.

A lady presented the editor of the Huntingdon Globe with a handsome bouquet of dahlias, and said editor is profuse in his thanks. He is also presented with the two cabbage heads that drew the premium at the Huntingdon County Fair.

A man named M. A. Anderson, of Beaver county, believes he has a good quality of gold and silver ore on his farm. Many others in Beaver county believe as does Mr. Anderson, consequently a large portion of the population of Beaver county are happy in the prospect of future wealth.

The most unhappy person in the world is the Dyspeptic. Everything looks dark and gloomy; he feels "out of sorts" with himself and everything else. Life is a burden to him. This can all be changed by taking Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of Iron). Cases of 27 years' standing have been cured by it.

We moved into the new office for the SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN on last Wednesday. On Thursday morning we received the first business call. Mr. David Smith, of Thompsonstown, is the gentleman who thus complimented us. He was not in arrears for subscription. His subscription was paid up to January 1, 1874, for the SENTINEL. He took an advanced renewal in the SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN to January 1, 1875, and has the first fusion receipt of the two papers.

On the 24th of July last Elder Rudolph White, a minister of the Church of God, wrote from Bridgeport, Bedford county, to his wife that he would soon be home. Nearly three months have gone by and nothing is known of his whereabouts. He was selling patent rights when last heard from. Mrs. Ann E. White, his wife, is now in Harrisburg. She is apprehensive that he has been murdered. Any information concerning him will be gratefully received by her.

Coal oil operators in the Venango district talk of closing business until next spring. Hope it may end in talk.

Dead eels are floating with the current in both the canal and river. The like of such an epidemic old fishermen have no knowledge.

A Titusville, Pa., editor is threatened with two duels, eternal vengeance, withdrawal of patronage, and other direful things, for saying that Mr. — and Mr. —, two lawyers, entered into a solemn contract not to drink intoxicating liquors for a year except when out duck shooting, under forfeit of $100. One of them quenches his thirst without losing his duets by keeping a duck in his back yard to fire at when he is dry, and the other has invested in one also.

Milesburg, Centre county, is to have a horse shoe factory. Teutons' Republic of last week talks of it thus: Col. D. J. Pruner showed us a horse shoe yesterday that was made in "three seconds." It had the shape, flanges, nail holes and everything complete to fasten upon the hoof of the horse. It was made by the Patent Horse Shoe Machine of Col. Pruner's own invention. This machine, a curiosity in itself, makes a shoe full and complete in one operation, and at the rate of 20 shoes per minute. Pruner's horse shoe factory, will be in full operation at Milesburg on or about the first of November.

YOUR home paper has some advantages over your big city paper after all. True, it does not contain quite so much reading matter, but which is the most useful and interesting? Do the city papers say anything in regard to your own county? Nothing! Do they contain notices of your churches, schools, meetings, improvements and hundreds of other local matters of interest, which the local papers publish without pay? Not an item. Do they ever say what you calculated to draw attention to your county and its numerous thriving towns in aid of their progress and enterprise? Not a line. And yet there are men who take such a contracted view of this matter, that unless they get as many square inches of reading matter in their county paper as they do in a city paper, they are not getting their money's worth. It reminds us of the fellow who took the largest pair of boots in the box simply because they cost the same as the pair much smaller that fit him—Er.

WIKIE COLLINS' "HIDE & SEEK." HIDE AND SEEK, by Wikie Collins. We have here the third volume of a new, cheap and beautiful edition of the works of this celebrated author, now in course of publication by T. B. Peterson & Brother, Philadelphia, for which a large demand is being created by the author's public readings in this country, and in consequence, they are having a very large sale, for Wikie Collins is now the most popular of all living novelists, and no writer of fiction better understands the art of story-telling than he does. The great popularity of his novels in this series, comprising "Hide and Seek," "Miss or Mrs.," "The Dead Secret," "After Dark," "Basil; or, The Crossed Path," "The Yellow Mask," "Sister Rose," "The Stolen Mask," "Mad Monkton," "The Queen's Revenge," and "Sights A-Foot," have never been exceeded. "Hide and Seek" is issued in a large octavo volume, with a life-like portrait of the author on the cover, price 75 cents, and is for sale by all Booksellers, or copies of it will be sent to any one, to any place, post paid, by the Publishers on receipt of price by them.

The Huntingdon Globe says: On Thursday morning last, as Mr. Ralph P. Smith of near Cassville, this county, was coming to town in a carriage, with his wife and child, his horse took fright at a log in the road east of town, and began to shy off the road. His wife rose up to get out of the vehicle, and in the act let her baby fall over the dasher, when the wheels ran over it, killing it almost instantly. The child was only six months old, and its sad fate is a source of great sorrow to the bereaved parents and friends. Its remains were confined by an undertaker in this place, and taken home for interment.

A few days ago as Abraham Drisinger was passing the residence of Dr. W. H. Flenner, in Jackson township, a little terrier barked at him from the inside of the yard. Drisinger walked up to the gate which was closed, drew a pistol and fired. Fortunately the dog was hit, otherwise the hall would have passed through the door of the house which was open and struck a little child that sat in range. A pistol in the hand of such a man is surely in the wrong place. Justice demands reprimanding.

ALL persons indebted to us for subscription, job work or advertising will confer a favor on us by settling the same as soon as possible, as we desire to close up our business without delay. We can be found at our old office during the next thirty days. After that time we shall send postal cards to all who fail to settle.

ALLISON & WILSON. October 10, 1876-lw.

Notice.—Clem Leach, residing on the farm of Wm. M. Allison, cautions all persons from hunting and fishing on said premises. Any person disobeying this notice will be prosecuted without hesitancy.

FERRY COUNTY.

The Bloomfield Advocate says: Henry Bentzel, of this borough, was a lucky man last Friday. He brought down four wild turkeys at one shot. Two of them were killed, and the other two were crippled and captured by him a short distance from where he shot them.

On Monday, the 9th inst., the money drawer of C. Barshinger, merchant at Keystone, Rye township, was tapped by some person and a small sum of money taken. This is the third time since August 1st that the money drawer of Mr. Barshinger has been robbed.

The Duncannon Record says that a boy named Miller, aged about nine years, and residing in Wheatfield twp., was playing with a chain in front of Samuel Noss's shoe store on Friday a week, and while swinging around the post with one end of the chain in his mouth, his foot slipped and he fell out into the gutter, a large iron hook upon the end of the chain tearing out a portion of his upper lip, and protruding through one cheek, making a terrific gash in his face. The cries of the child attracted the attention of persons in the vicinity, who went to his assistance. The wound was properly dressed, and the lad is now getting along very well.

The Freeman says: On Wednesday last, Mr. Brown, the market man, narrowly escaped being badly injured. While coming from Marysville to Duncannon his horse started at an approaching train of cars. And to make matters worse, the engineer, when the train got directly opposite, blew the whistle, which caused the horse to jump down a high bank, dragging Mr. B. out of the wagon, cutting and bruising him somewhat about the head. Mr. B. thinks the engineer must have whistled on purpose to see its effects on his horse.

A man by the name of Shearer, was struck by a passing train at the Marysville crossing on Saturday, and was pretty badly used up. Although the engineer in charge of the train sounded the alarm and did his utmost to attract the attention of the individual, he apparently did not hear it or discover his danger, until he was thrown from the track by the engine, on account, no doubt, of the confusion and noise produced by the different trains in motion. This crossing should by all means be supplied with watchmen, as it is one of the most dangerous along the road west of Harrisburg, and many have been the narrow escapes of life within the last few years.

Broom corn is said to be scarce this year, but high-spirited wares think they can retain peace in the house, so long as there is not a famine in the broom-handle crop.

MIFFLIN COUNTY.

The Lewistown Gazette says: The Mitroy Woolen Factory was sold at auction on Thursday last for $1, subject to a mortgage of $10,000.

There is a revival meeting in progress in the church near Maitland Station. Last week there were eight conversions.

The two-story dwelling house and an adjoining building on the farm of B. J. Sills, near Painter Station, occupied by Samuel Immel, were both destroyed by fire on Saturday last, shortly after dinner. Mr. Sills had gone down to feed some stock, and had called at the house to make some inquiries from Mrs. I. who was at home alone. He noticed a good deal of smoke, but thought it arose from the chimney. He then went on his errand and shortly after saw a blaze on the building in the rear of the dwelling and hastened towards it. The woman became so much bewildered that she was unable to save anything, and Mr. Sills only succeeded in getting her out of the house a few minutes before the stairway, up which she had run in her flight, gave way. Except a few articles nothing was saved. Mr. Sills' loss is about $1000, with an insurance of $333.

The Lewistown Democrat says: One night last week Jonathan Hough's spring house in Decatur township was entered by thieves, who stole a roll of butter, a piece of ham, and a number of other articles. On another night two turkeys were stolen from his premises. Somebody down that way evidently wants a ticket for the Mifflin county jail.

On Friday morning last John Enloe, an aged citizen of Granville township, residing on G. W. Soult's farm, remarked to his daughter that he would go out and feed the pigs. Staying rather longer than usual, the daughter went to look for him, and found him lying dead. He had been subject to heart disease, and it is supposed it was that disease that caused his death. His wife was absent on a visit to Huntingdon county at the time.
