LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Centre county has a Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry. The letter from Fayette relative to the railroad is too long for insertion this week.

Democrats of Huntingdon county want to run ex-Senator Petrick for Governor. Ladies are praying the liquor business out of existence in certain counties in the State of Indiana.

District Attorney McNeen has his office now in the new building erected by the County Commissioners. The Moyer family at Freeburg, Snyder county, is the greatest musical family in central Pennsylvania.

Ladies in different sections of York State have opened prayer-meetings for the abolition of the liquor traffic. Last week Freeburg had one thousand dollars of her quota to raise for the new railroad.

Abram Will and Jacob Eika bought William Lowery's property north of town. Price paid, $800. On Friday evening, 27th inst., there will be a common school exhibition at Mexico. A pleasant time is anticipated.

Ex Sheriff Loudon is taking out iron ore on the west end of the ridge north of town, he having purchased that end of the ridge. Mr. Smith has commenced work on the Court House. If his present rate of taking down continues, the building must soon be razed to the foundation.

John Monahan was quite seriously hurt by a fall some mornings ago while on his way to Patterson. He has been under medical treatment since. The Court House offices have been removed to the new building erected for them, while the new Court House is in the course of erection.

Mr. Andrew Deshaur, of Fermanagh township, shipped a lot of fine cattle to Philadelphia last week. They averaged 1400 and some pounds. Mr. William Curran, of Van Wert last Wednesday, while walking in his house, made a nice step, fell, and broke the thigh of his left leg.

Fifteen of the tavern-keepers of Cambria county are again in the courts for selling liquor in violation of the Local Option law. A number of our fishermen catch suckers in the winter with a hook and line. They catch them in deep water in creek mill dams.

The legislative committee, appointed to investigate the charges against A. J. Goss, keeper of the Cassville Soldiers' Orphan's School, have commenced work. The Court granted a petition to remove the place for holding the borough and township elections to the borough school house. The elections for said districts were consequently held there.

Jacob Berg, Esq., has returned from the eastern portion of the State, where he sojourned the greater portion of the winter. If he don't put a stir in the horse market, it is because it will not afford it. William Banks, Esq., of Fermanagh township, shipped to Philadelphia, last Friday, a number of steers fed on his farm. They averaged about 1600. A number of others of a like quality yet grace his stables.

The flattering prospects of railway communication with the Susquehanna via McAlisterville and Richfield, have awakened Tuscarora people again to an interest in railroad matters. A road to intersect with the one in prospect is talked of. Harrisburg papers speak highly of the dramatic ability of Jennie Carroll's company. The drama of the "Little Charity Orphan" is said to be most effective. Harrisburg people see a good deal of "play," and what they endorse as charming may be accepted by our community without fear of disappointment.

A public examination of the Millin Free Schools will be held on Monday and Tuesday, 23d and 24th inst. Directors, parents, and all who feel an interest in our schools, are invited to attend. Any visitor wishing to examine in any or all of the branches, will be at liberty to do so, otherwise the examinations will be conducted by the teachers of the respective schools.

The digging for coal near Blue Spring, Turbett township, has been abandoned. So it is said here. It is not possible to gather chestnuts from oak trees. They do not grow there. It is not possible to find coal in a formation where it does not belong. Geological teaching must be wrong if coal exists in the formation of any of the valleys of Juniata county. There is a bare possibility that it may be found in the table lands of Shade Mountain.

ALL persons indebted to us are requested to make immediate settlement, as we are doing a strictly cash business, having dispersed with the keeping of books Feb. 1, 1874.

D. P. SULOUFF & Co.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is a combination and a form indeed for healing and curing diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. It cures a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, instead of drying up the cough and leaving the disease behind.

SPRING is coming on apace. The time for fine roads may soon be expected. During the long winter that is about to take its departure. Showers & Schell, the enterprising carriage makers, at this place, prepared and put up a large lot of handsome, substantial and easy running buggies. People on the lookout for such things should by all means give them a call before purchasing elsewhere. They are among the largest manufacturers in the central part of the State.

WILBER McANAN heads a party lumbering northeast of town in Shade Mountain. In their quarters during the late cold weather they hung a quarter of fresh beef. It was there but a night or two when something commenced to eat holes in it at night and when they were out. Knowing by the work on the meat, that the animal could not be large, they made a box-trap to catch it. On Wednesday night the trap was set, and on Thursday morning when they examined it, they found it occupied by a weasel as white as the whitest snow. Hollobaugh has the enriosity now at his saloon.

FROM present appearances, it is likely that the new judicial apportionment now forming by the Legislature will remove this county from the judicial jurisdiction of Judge Junkin. The bar here will miss him. He is of such a buoyant nature, and possessed of such penetration, deepened by experience and learning that he sees the ludicrous phase of every case that possesses that quality, that comes before him, and he scarcely ever fails to recognize the humor as a seasoning to hard work. It has a wonderful effect. Our bar is growing plump, may more, it is growing fat, under Judge Junkin's pleasant administration of justice.

LAST Saturday morning, as C. B. Hornung and Wilson Robinson were driving on the road between Mr. Oberholzer's place of residence and the pike they saw something at the side of the road on the snow. It looked so much like a snake that the team was stopped for the purpose of allowing them to alight and satisfy their minds as to whether the object seen was in fact a snake or only a something that looked like one. On reaching the thing it was found to be a live snake. They did not do as the kind-hearted blacksmith did, take compassion on it and take it home to warm it into life, venom and enmity against all animated kind, but they acted in perfect accord with the acts of the majority of the human family under similar circumstances, and killed the reptile. It is a perplexing question to know where the snake came from.

LAST week we chronicled the death of M. V. Paulson, by accident, by falling from Cincinnati Express, eastward bound, on the night of the 7th inst., north of Patterson, and gave the opinion of the men who held the inquest over his body, that he was originally from Hamburg, Germany. The photographs of the deceased man's person induced citizens of Patterson to write letters of inquiry to Sheboygan, Wis. On last Saturday Mr. Henry Aggins, from the latter place, appeared at Patterson, and stated that he believed from the description sent to Sheboygan the deceased to be his brother-in-law, and desired that the body might be raised for the purpose of identification. On Monday the body of the unfortunate stranger was raised from the grave, and immediately identified as that of M. V. Paulson, brother-in-law of Henry Aggins, of Sheboygan, Wis. The remains were re-interred in the Cemetery, where first buried. Mr. Aggins stated that Paulson was on his return to Germany, whence he had originally come. All unpaid bills incurred by the authorities in the burial of Mr. Paulson were paid by Mr. Aggins. He left for his home in Wisconsin on Tuesday morning.

An exchange says the potato bug does not die in the winter, but burrows in the ground below the frost line. Justice Kreider's office is above Attorney Allison's office, in the same building.
