

The Women's Movement—No One Knows How Long It Will Last.

Wisconsin are telling the country that the women's movement against the liquor business will be of an ephemeral character; that in a few months at most it will have passed away. Such a declaration must be taken at its face value. It is a guess.

In a practical sense, if it happens to come true as a prediction, it will do as well as if those who made it had volumes of precedents to sustain them in their declarations. As a guess, it may or may not "hit."

There are no precedents from which to start such declarations. The history of the past presents no movements of a similar character. The books contain no record to consult them in their days. It was not business, it was social.

The Temperance Movement by the Ladies in Philadelphia. In the afternoon of last Friday a prayer-meeting in Philadelphia was held in the Baptist Chapel, Seventh street and Susquehanna avenue, in the extreme northern section of the city.

At the opening about two hundred ladies were present, Mrs. Dr. French, a well-known female presiding. Prior to the opening exercises, the reporters were requested to withdraw, and the proceedings were conducted secretly.

Womanhood has always held an inferior position. We go to the Eastern countries to find the status in which she has been held. Her condition there is as near akin to slavery as it well can be. Even there individual cases rise above the barem, and the stiffer servant by her superior tact and judgment makes herself felt.

Womanhood has held such a condition in society that she could never assert and express herself in an organized way against the frivolities and vices of husbands and sons. She has been compelled to witness the meanest debauchery, and been dragged through the deepest recesses of private distress and destitution without once daring to lift her voice in protest.

Renunciation of Members of the Legislature Previous to 1850. A Reminiscence of John Cummings of Juniata County.

There was a Legislative Re-nu- nciation on the afternoon of the 25th ult., in the hall of the lower house, of surviving members of the State Legislature previous to the year 1850. The chamber was crowded. It was not large enough to hold all who sought admittance. It was a most pleasant meeting for the ex-members. Young men live in their prospects and anticipations of the future. Old men live in the past; retrospective views are their chief delight.

LAST Tuesday evening a week, while Mr. William Wilson was engaged in packing hay in his mow in Paris, Washington county, a loose board gave way, precipitating him into the apartment below. He fell across a manger, receiving severe injuries to his spine, which proved fatal, and after considerable suffering he died. This family seems to be peculiarly unfortunate of late. About two months ago, while one of Mr. Wilson's sons was cutting wood with an axe in a saw mill, a moving belt caught the axe handle and severed the foot of the man who was handling it. Mr. Wilson's youngest daughter, engaged in teaching school at Burgetstown, is lying ill of a fever, and is unable to go home at present.

THE REPUBLIC, for February, is before us, presenting a table of contents which should commend it to every person desirous of a thorough knowledge of the principles and practices of this great Government of and for the people. Among the more important articles are: "The Work of Congress," a brief but most comprehensive sketch; a graphic summary of the views of the country press on the pending "Financial and Economic Questions," a very valuable and thoughtful article entitled "Capital, Labor, and Wages;" "The Functions of the Treasury Department," a comprehensive view of the "Mission of True Statesmanship," as affecting the prosperity of the people, and tending to the solution of the problem of cheap travel and transportation; "The Question of the Annexation of the Canadian Provinces," and the "Finance" are also ably discussed.

SHORT ITEMS.

Chester, Pa., has elected one lady school director.

There are forty Protestant places of worship in Rome. Diphtheria is prevalent in many townships in Venango county. The potato rot is now ascribed to a deficiency of lime and magnesia in the soil.

Ebensburg has twenty-three voters named Jones, twenty named Evans and eighteen named Davis. The lower house of the Maine Legislature has refused to pass the bill abolishing the death penalty.

The government has recovered $194,990 in the suits against distillers' bonds at Springfield, Illinois. Postal cards bearing notices of "quit-rent-keeping or prepare to be prayed at," are common now.

It is proposed as an alternative, out west, if women's prayers do not stop the liquor traffic, to try women's votes. The re-union of the Tenth Pennsylvania Regiment will be held at Mercer on Tuesday, the 19th of May next.

A mule has died of lock jaw in Chester county, the other day, caused by an awkward blacksmith driving a nail into its foot. Seventy years ago the Rev. Dr. Lyman Beecher, father of Henry Ward Beecher, was paid a salary of $300 and his freedom.

An act has just taken effect in Illinois giving the dead bodies of unclaimed paupers and criminals in Chicago for dissection. A Brooklyn jury have justified the shooting of a negro chicken-thief by a policeman, and commended him for a faithful performance of his duty.

The newest idea is that of a Wisconsin legislator, who demands that travelers by rail shall be weighed and made to pay so much per pound by weight of fare. Thirty-two persons were before the court of Westmoreland county at the Feb. term for selling liquor without license, selling liquor to minors, and selling liquor on the Sabbath.

High jinks. There was a negro wedding in Columbus, Miss., last week, which boasted cards, nine rooster pigs and a hundred cakes, and tapered off with three reception days. "Owing to the regular Robinson's circus being in town, the regular Thursday evening prayer-meeting has been postponed," said a recent number of the Enterprise, of Dallas, Texas.

It is an honor to womanhood that not a dollar has ever been missing from the Department of the Controller of Currency, where women exclusively are employed as clerks. Mr. Sautors, the future husband of Miss Nellie Grant, is a son and only child of a member of the British Parliament, and after the marriage will of course take his bride to England and reside there.

A Georgia paper tells of an attempt by a powerful eagle to carry off a girl fourteen years old. It says the bird lifted her from the ground several times and carried her some distance. She was severely wounded by its beak and talons, her sides being terribly lacerated. Mrs. Morris, of Maryville, Iowa, planned an elopement with a traveling photographer named Hamilton. Her husband learned of the fact. He at once hitched up his horse, got into the wagon with his straightened whip, drove five miles to the trying place, and delivered her to Hamilton.
