Various methods have from time to time been suggested for one of the most efficient we are informed, is that practiced by the Irish dairymen. This consists in mixing sour milk with the new or freshly drawn milk and then setting it aside to cream. By this procedure the sourness of the new be regarded as a continuation of the Dutch Sauce.—Put into a saucepan milk is hastened, thereby preventing the flavor, which is greatly caused by allowing the milk to sour slowly. In many of the Irish dairies the whole is churned, as the butter made from whole milk is considered to have a better color and flavor than butter produced by churning cream. If the turnip flavor can thus be destroyed, as it is confidently asserted by those who have tested the plan, it is well to some of our dairymen who may have turnips to feed to cows in milk. Among some of the best butter-dairymen of Ireland it is customary to give cows grazing on pasture in summer "a daily ship," which is composed of bean meal district. Lauguage of the Clouds.

The colors of the sky at particular times afford wonderfully good evidence. Not only does a rosy sunset presage fair weather and a ruddy sunshine, but there are other tints which speak with equal clearness or accuracy. A bright yellowish sky in the evening indicates wind, a pale yellow wet, a neutral gray color constitutes a favorable sign in he evening and an unfavorable one the morning. The clouds are full of meaning in themselves. If their forms are soft, undefined and feathery, the weather will be fine. If the edges are hard, sharp and definite, it will be foul. Generally speaking, any deep, unusual lines, betoken wind and rain, while the more quiet and delicate tints bespeak fair weather.
