

Poetry.

GOING TO THE WELL. Across the dewy green she steps. In the sweet freshness of the morn. While yet the tears that night had wept.

POPPING THE QUESTION.

Swift, who had no more tenderness than one of his own Yahoos, indited the most brutal proposal we know of. Tired of his chilly-shalling, Miss Warying seemed to be vexed on with speaking out, and Swift spoke on with vengeance.

A Sad Story.

On April 26, Octave Tassaert, an artist who has had the quart d'heure of celebrity, was found dead in his garret. Worn out at length by his weary struggle for existence in art, he had resolved to take his own life and committed suicide.

Modern Appliances in Fishing.

Steam power has reached the fisheries, the seal and menhaden departments, and ere long it will include the mackerel fishery. It is a matter of things, and what its effect will be is a matter of conjecture.

Youths' Column.

Table Manners—For Little Folks. In silence I must take my seat. And give good thanks before I eat. And I will thank you in advance.

Varieties.

The spendthrift's prayer—"Leave me a loan, will you?" A straight line is the shortest in morals as in geometry.

Miscellany.

The Fate of Two Lovers.

There are fine caverns and recesses amongst the rocks; one particularly, which we took the opportunity of visiting recently, as it can only be entered at the ebb of the spring tides.

He, She, or It?

Thirty years ago there was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Nostrand, then living at Esperance-Scholarie, a fair-faced child. Acting on the suggestion of the child's physician, the child was reared in his clothes.

Good-Natured People.

The specially social quality is good nature, amiability, the desire to please, the kindness of heart that avoids giving offence, and cannot bear to hurt any one's feelings.

Good-Natured Taxpayers.

The Tuscans take credit to themselves as being the gentlest and most amiable people in the world, but they certainly claim no more than they are fairly entitled to.

Don't.

A writer says: "Don't marry the worst of the pet of old ladies and the salvation of wall-flowers. He comes to an evening party in thick boots and a frock coat, is overwhelmed with congratulations, and is not sufficiently happy over him.

Heaven and Women.

Providence has so made the sexes that women, like children, cling to men; lean upon them for protection, and love; look up to them as though they were their superior in mind and body.

Rules for Whist Playing.

- 1. In opening always lead from a "sneak." If you have no "sneak," renig.
- 2. When you have four more trumps, hold on to them as you would a twenty per cent. bank stock; they are too valuable to be invested in the early part of the game.

Theodore Parker's Married Life.

Theodore Parker married, in April, 1836, Miss Lydia D. Cabot, only daughter of John Cabot, of Boston, with whom he had plighted troth five years previously.

Laughter as a Medicine.

A short time since, says a writer in the Sanitarian, two individuals were lying in one room very sick, one with brain fever and the other with an aggravated case of the mumps.
