

Poetry.

THE ROSE OF THE WALK.

BY MRS. CORNELL-LAWS ST. JOHN.

Lost in the grey, tangled shadows,
And in the morning of years—
Lost in the dust of my life,
And in the haze of my tears.

OUR MAY PARTY.

BY HARRIET N. BARR.

"You have so many charming spots
Among your village, dear Mrs. H.,
Which I should be proud to call mine,
Do you never have any of those delightful celebrations here?"

Old Hickory's Pistol.

BY A. B. LAMARINE.

"D., who has been writing some interesting reminiences for the Franklin (Ky.) Patriot, contributes this to the last issue:

The Old Age of a Mariner.

BY A. B. LAMARINE.

A Berlin correspondent of the London Times writes that the Emperor William no longer rides on horseback, but has to view his troops from his carriage.

Buddhist Hospitality.

BY A. B. LAMARINE.

The hon' or ecclesiastical residence of the chief priest of the Nichiren sect
in Edo is a temple-like structure of the kind peculiar to Japan, and so well fitted for a country in which the chief concern is rather about subterranean "probabilities" than those of regard to the weather.

Youths' Column.

BY A. B. LAMARINE.

What do the lads say
Down in the garden walk?
They nod and they bow in the twilight ray;
They nod and they bow in the twilight ray;

Varieties.

BY A. B. LAMARINE.

A sure recipe to remove stains from character—Get rich.
Emerson says: "We do not count a man's years until he has nothing else to count."

Miscellany.

Curing Insanity by Irritating the Skin.

There are many cases published in the medical journals, relating to insanity, says Dr. Brown-Sequard, showing that a large number of patients have been cured suddenly by means of irritation of the skin, that was either accidental or employed by a physician.

Home of the Cactus.

BY A. B. LAMARINE.

The home of the cactus family appears to be in southern Arizona. Here the grand cactus, Cylindropuntia, is from thirty feet to forty feet high, and from three feet to four feet in diameter.
