LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Joseph Brindle received the contract for putting up the church in Patterson. The late drought destroyed most of the young grass in wheat fields.

Lightning struck the barn on David Reno's mansion farm in Fernham township last Saturday. Not much damage was done.

A new post office, named Farmdale, was established at Locust Grove, Milford township, this county.

A young lady, living at Mr. Joseph Brindle's, in Patterson, while picking cherries, was "sun-struck" some days ago.

The clerk at the St. Charles Hotel, Altoona, shot the colored porter on the 8th inst., while playfully handling a revolver.

Weather probabilities at Washington have been making particular inquiry as to the course, ravages, gradation, etc., of the storm that devastated Lewistown.

G. W. Smith, Esq., of Patterson, while down on his farm in Delaware township, helping to put the wheat into the barn, was thrown from a load and quite severely hurt.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Lutheran church in this place on next Sabbath, 19th inst.

A new post office has been established in Tuscarora valley, on the route to Concord, about eight miles west of Port Royal.

Dr. Crawford has taken down the mansion house at the intersection of Cherry and Third streets, as a preparatory step to the erection of a new residence on the site of the old one.

Exchanges in neighboring counties report a worm in wheat and timothy. It is called the measure worm, is of a light green color, and an inch long.

A Delaware county man stowed $100 in a bag of rags in the gutter of his house for safe-keeping. The rags were sold to a dealer in such stuff, and now the man is hunting his money among rag dealers.

In nine cases in ten when you hear a man talk about old fogies, you can set him down as one who has more debts than he can ever pay, or one who is living on the edge of the industry or capital of others, a thief, a gambler or a drone.

A man named Thomas Carland, a former merchant and resident of Altoona, but lately a resident of Philadelphia, has been arrested on the charge of setting fire to his place in the latter city.

New York doctors are having a question over hydrophobia. One gives it as his deliberate opinion that the bite of any dog, healthy or unhealthy, may produce madness.

PUBLIC SALE.—David Cleck will offer at public sale, at his residence at Cedar Springs, Fernham twp., at 10 o'clock on Saturday July 25th, 1874, two cows (one fresh), two hogs, one brood sow, lot of household furniture, lot of wine, meat, corn, cornsheller, cutting box, and other articles.

Mrs. Susannah Cleck will offer at public sale, on the premises at 1 o'clock P. M., on Saturday, August 8, 1874, a tract of land containing 17 acres, situated in Walker twp., 1 mile north of Vanwert, having thereon a good dwelling house, new barn, shop, spring house and other outbuildings; also a young orchard of grafted fruit.

THREE pair of Ladies' hose at Cheap John's for a quarter.

THE corner-stone of the Evangelical Mission Church in Patterson was laid last Sabbath. The Rev. A. L. Reiser, of Carlisle, and Rev. W. Hunton, of Newport, were present, preached acceptable sermons, and participated in the solemn exercises and ceremonies.

COUNTERFEITS.—A whole batch of counterfeiters is said to be afloat, including tens on the First National Bank of Lockport; twenties on the First National Bank of Plainfield, New Jersey; tens on the Central Bank of Rome; tens on the Flour City National Bank, Rochester; twos on the West Chester County National Bank, Peckskill; and twos on the City National Bank of Poughkeepsie.

FIVE pair of Men's Half-hose at Cheap John's for a quarter.

A VERY remarkable accident occurred on Friday, the 3d inst., in the eastern portion of this county. Abraham Page, a well known farmer of Monroe township, was mowing with a scythe near his buildings. Some of the grass had been trampled under foot and was dry. While mowing his scythe, striking a stone, struck fire, which caught in the dry grass referred to in a line above. Quite a serious conflagration, that would have enveloped the house, barn, and other outbuildings belonging to Mr. Page, was imminent for a time. Fortunately the fire was put out before it embraced the threatened scope.

ANY VIEW ACADEMY RE-UNION.—Individual orders for excursion tickets to attend Re-union Aug. 13, 1874, from any office on P. R. R. and branches are now ready for distribution, and can be had upon application to John P. Coyle, Chairman Com., Port Royal, Pa. Old students and their friends wishing to avail themselves of this excursion, must make application to the Committee on or before August 1, 1874. Tickets to the exercises can also be procured from Mr. Coyle, and must likewise be obtained on or before Aug. 1, 1874. (Price of tickets, $1.50.) No tickets or orders granted after Aug. 1, 1874. Persons desiring to attend will be careful to observe this announcement, as disappointment and inconvenience will thus be avoided.

WE would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Horace Waters & Son, headed, "Waters' Concerto Parlor Organs," and for a description of them we can't do better than to copy the following: "THE WATERS' CONCERTO PARLOR ORGANS.—We are glad to chronicle any new thing, or any improvement upon an old one, that tends to popularize music by rendering its study either easier or more attractive. Lately our attention has been called to a new patented stop added to the Waters Reed Organ, called the Concerto Stop. It is so voiced as to have a tone like a full, rich alto voice; it is especially 'human' in its tone. It is powerful as well as sweet, and when we heard it, we were in doubt whether we liked it best in Solo, or with Full Organ. We regard this as a valuable addition to the Reed Organ.—Reed, New Yorker.

ANOTHER lot of Parasols and Sun Shades at Cheap John's, which will be sold at reduced prices.

A TRIAL of REAPERS took place at Mechanicsburg on June 30th, 1874. It was witnessed by over 500 persons, and decided largely in favor of the Dodge as the leading machine, which won for itself a high need of praise for perfection of work, simplicity, strength and ease of draft.

ANOTHER—The Chester County Agricultural Society had an important trial of Reapers on June 30th, 1874, which lasted three days. The Dodge performed it work well, and ranked above all others.

Dean Richmond, of the N. Y. Central Railroad, wrote a most able hand, and an owner of a small building situated on land belonging to the road, having received a scrawl from him which he could not decipher, supposed it to be a free pass over the road, and when, after waiting three months, Mr. Richmond asked the man why he didn't remove the building, he found he had been using the document to which his signature was attached as a pass, and had been riding on the strength of it all summer.—Ex.

Some days ago Cyrus Sieber, of McAllisterville, lent a valuable horse to a neighbor to cross Shade mountain. The mountain was safely crossed and a return effected with safety, until this side of the mountain was reached, at the foot of which the young man driving the horse stopped, tied the beast and went in to see a neighbor who lived a short distance from the roadside. The horse being left alone, frightened at something, "fore horse," ran away, fell and broke a leg, in consequence of which it was shot.

Letter from Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 15, 1874. Sentinels & Republicans: The weather for the last two weeks has been intensely hot, so much so as to be downright oppressive, the mercury dancing away high up in the aëthens, and that, too, in shady spots. Everybody, whom necessity compels to perambulate the streets, studiously seek the shady side, and the universal salutation that you hear on all sides is "When, but isn't it hot?" No matter how all branches of business and industry may languish under the gloom and uncertainty which now envelops our financial horizon, there is always a certain modicum of work to be done and business transacted, which requires the service of a certain number of hapless mortals, who, in all seasons, are compelled to pursue their endless round, like a blind horse in a bark mill. On these this weather sets particularly hard, as-er-losing as they do, either beneath the burning rays of the sun overhead, or the intense heat caused by their refraction from the piles of brick and mortar which everywhere surround them.

But it is not alone on the physical world around us that calorific predominates. The political world circumscribed within the city limits is also at fever heat. Last month the Republicans made their nominations for Congress, the State Senate, Assembly, Judiciary and the several city offices, and this week the Democrats will follow suit. On the Republican side the nominations for all the offices were bitterly contested, and in two instances such angry feelings provoked, that it may lead to the defeat of the successful candidate, although in what may be justly styled overwhelmingly safe districts. I refer to the contest for State Senate in the 7th District between B. T. Thomas and Hiram Horter, and that for Congress in the 5th District between Leonard Myers and A. C. Harmer. In the first instance two separate conventions were held and two nominations made, and in the latter, although Harmer was nominated, Mr. Myers denounced the nomination as the result of fraud, protests that he was the honest choice of a majority of the Republican citizens of the District, and announces himself as a candidate. With these two exceptions all the other nominations have been given general satisfaction, and have been endorsed as the best made, as a whole, for many years. The Democratic delegate elections come off this evening and the conventions tomorrow and Wednesday, and promise to be still more bitter than were those of the Republicans. But why they should be so, I can't understand, because their struggles, in this city at least, will be as futile as the labors of Sisyphus, so long as their traditions and history, like the shirt of Nessus, cling so closely around them. In State politics but little has yet been said here. I understand that M. Hall Stanton, President of the Board of Education, will be pressed for Lieutenant Governor, by the people of the city, and Judge Paxson for Supreme Judge. Both cannot be nominated. Now the question arises which ought to succeed? It being granted that this city is entitled to one nomination on the State ticket. That question must be decided by the honest voters of the State on the 28th of August next. Senator Rutan, through his paper, the Beaver Argus and Radical, demands that Allegheny and Philadelphia shall join hands and parcel out these nominations as follows: "Allegheny Republicans instructed their delegates in favor of Hon. James L. Graham for Lieutenant Governor. If he allows his name to go before the Convention, there is little doubt of his nomination. Philadelphia will take the Supreme Judge, and give Allegheny Lieutenant Governor. As those counties elect the ticket, the divide would be a fair one, provided they concede the other nominations to the smaller counties." And the Pittsburg Commercial publishes the above article without comment. What is meant?

But a truce to politics. The hot weather has driven quite a number of our wealthy citizens to the different watering places. Cape May, Long Branch and Atlantic City are crowded. Excursions to all these places are of daily occurrence, and crowds are the rule. On Friday evening our city was startled by the report that a terrible accident had occurred at Atlantic City that forenoon. A yacht containing a party of eight was upset by the surf while returning across the bar, and five persons, all Philadelphians, were drowned. The lost are Daniel Olney Sharpless, his wife Esther H. Sharpless, his daughter Carolina Sharpless, his son Alfred Sharpless, and Annie W. Roberts, daughter of the proprietor of the Chalfant House. The only body recovered last evening was that of Miss Roberts. On Saturday evening last our city was visited by one of the severest thunder storms we have ever witnessed. The rain fell in torrents for nearly two hours. A high building on Third street was struck by lightning, and not much damaged. On Sunday and to-day the city looks clearer for the visitation. But I must close, as I have already spun my letter out too long. Au revoir.

A Word to Mothers.

Yes, I dare say, it will be some person that has no children—some one that does not know the trouble of bringing up a family, will tell mothers their duty. But, my sister, you are mistaken; I only want to ask if you have the confidence of your children? Have you the confidence of that bright boy by your side? Does that tender daughter tell you her trials and cares? Do you know your children? How few there are that do. How many children go from home for advice. How many tears you might have saved for your girls and sleepless nights for your boys.

You have a responsibility resting on you that none other has. Are you aware that when you brought that young life into this world you brought one more soul for a long eternity? Do you realize that you make your child's life a blessing or a curse? Talk of children's ingratitude; you teach them that. You make the mind of your child to a great extent; you are the one that molds their character. If they are not good, kind sons and daughters, just ask yourself who first gave them ideas? Who but you gave them their earliest instruction? When the mind was tender and easily molded, did you not fashion it or did you let it develop without care? If so, do not harp ingratitude; do not blame them. They tell us of the glorious work woman is doing in the great "C" usage," which is felt over the land; of the prayers and petitions that are made for fallen man. But would it not be better for the "Crusader" mother to be at home? How many little hearts want sympathy such as only a mother can give; so many little troubles that need a mother's care. Had she not better give the children that time? Perhaps she is an old woman, trying to save a dissipated son. Better have given him that precious instruction years ago, when you had his full confidence, when you were his only light. I heard a young man remark not long ago, "My mother has my full confidence." Blessed mother, thought I; you are among those that are called blessed among women. Train your children when the mind is tender, and there will be no use for a "Crusade," or days spent in telling woman her mission.

OLIE ROLAND. To cure a cough, to relieve all irritations of the throat, to restore perfect soundness and health to the most delicate organizations of the human frame—the lungs—use Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which is still prepared with the same care in the selection and compounding of its various ingredients as when it was introduced to the public by Dr. Wistar over forty years since.

ATTENTION, FARMERS.—Farmers who want to buy a first-class Reaper and Mower will do well to call on the undersigned who has for sale the Hubbard Reaper and Mower and the Meadow Lark Mower. The gearing of both these machines are neatly enclosed—not a cog or spring being outside. I sold thirteen of these machines last year, and they all gave entire satisfaction. I also have for sale the Taylor Hay Rake, the Mechanicsburg Rake, and the genuine Columbia Rake. Orders addressed to Mifflin P. O. will receive prompt attention. DANIEL AUKER. May 25-26

CANDIDATE'S CARD. CONGRESS.

Mr. Editor: As time is approaching for nominating a ticket to be supported by the Republican party this fall, and as our system of making nomination requires announcements to be made at least four weeks before the Convention, and one of the most important offices to be filled is that of Congress, I would, therefore, recommend to the Republican voters of Juniata county, Joseph Lyons, Esq., as a suitable candidate, to be voted for at the Primary Election, for Congress. He is well qualified, is a man of untiring zeal, and a thorough Republican, and if successful in making the district nomination, would spare no efforts to make his election, and I believe would be elected. PATTERSON.
