An accident remarkable for the distance fallen, and comparative slight injuries resulting therefrom, happened to one Alfred Hinkle, of Redderville, Berks county, at Rockhill Furnace, Oriskany, at 5 P. M. last Thursday.

He was a brick layer by trade, and was on a scaffolding, laying the fire brick wall of the furnace, being near the top. Through some mishap or other he fell from the scaffold, down through the interior of the stack, alighting on a wheelbarrow that was standing beneath, smashing it to smithereens.

Parties standing near seeing the commotion and hearing the noise of the fall, ran to his assistance, expecting to pick him up either dead or dying. He was supposed to be in a very precarious condition, and was carried to his residence, and medical assistance summoned.

The wise doctors shook their heads, and expressed their fears that the case was a serious one, supposing, from examination, that internal injuries had resulted. They did all that could be done for the unfortunate man, and what was their surprise, the next morning on finding him able to walk across the room!

He is at present rapidly recovering from the shock, and will soon be about his business. The distance fallen was fifty feet and ten inches. Can a case like this, where such a distance was traversed by a falling man, with such comparatively slight injuries find a parallel?—Huntingdon Journal.

SEVERAL days ago the Associate Judges of Blair county permitted the keeper of the county prison to throw open its doors and allow Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lantz, who are serving out a term of imprisonment on the charge of selling liquor without license, their freedom for several days, on account of the serious illness of one of their children.

The home of the Lantz family is in that classic locality known as "Whisky Row," and the prisoners promised faithfully to return to jail on Saturday evening last. Failing to do so, however, warden Baird arrived in Altoona on Monday morning, and until yesterday afternoon he was constantly on the alert to again secure his boarders, who had not complied with their part of the agreement at the time they had been given their liberty.

repeatedly visited their residence, but was unable to gain admittance thereto. Finally it was agreed upon to force an entrance, and accompanied by officers Barley, Lantz and Shellenberger, the warden so acted yesterday afternoon.

The effort resulted in the capture of Jacob Lantz, who was taken over the hill on the afternoon train. Mrs. Lantz sought refuge under a bed at the time, but was taken last evening, and now both husband and wife are inmates of the county prison once again.—Altoona Tribune, July 22nd.

The Lewistown Gazette says: Jacob C. Bell, son of Daniel H. Bell, was killed at the axe factory on the 13th inst. The grinders were putting in a grindstone, when the plank on which they were rolling it gave way, the stone falling against a large pulley, causing it to tip over and strike Bell on the side of the head.

None of the men present thought he was much hurt, but in the course of an hour he became unconscious, and lingered in that condition until 2 o'clock on the morning of the 14th, when he died. There was a post mortem held on the body Wednesday morning by Drs. Parcels, Martin and Harshbarger. They found from seven to eight ounces of clotted blood on the brain. His death is a great loss to his father. He was almost 19 years old.

A barn on the farm of Wm. Decker, near McClure, was struck by lightning on Monday afternoon, and with its contents consumed by fire. It contained his crops, spring wagon, and farming utensils generally.

THERE was a little scene witnessed on Sixth avenue, on Saturday morning, which had its counterpart in one that was observed on Chestnut avenue last fall. A gentleman, and a very tall gentleman, too, went calling on a young lady who is a visitor to the city. They had both been at a party the night previous, and consequently were tired and sleepy.

He, being the more muscular of the two, kindly consented to allow the young lady to rest in his arms. The gas was turned on full head, and after a little while both parties fell asleep.

The next morning the passers by were permitted to gaze upon a scene which they declare was better than the private theatricals. There they were, snugly reposing and unconscious to all else around.—Altoona Tribune, July 22nd.

Settle Down.

This seems to be the one great object of some young women's lives. They are taught from infancy, that the sole purpose of their life is to marry. It does not matter whether she marries a man who is her equal or not, just so she is settled. Women cannot do themselves greater injustice. What is life to a young woman? This question seems absurd to some.

Life to her is time passing sweetly away. She notes not the months and years. What cares she for time? But she will not always be young, you say. True, very true. But let her dream on. Let her enjoy life while she can; trouble will come soon enough. Do not urge her to marry.

Do not harp at her, that she is getting old. Let her dream of bright youth be until age wakes her from her dream. She will answer to his call, for he, like other unsexed foes, will have his due.

So many girls marry to please "home folks" and to be a married woman and not an old maid. How many happy homes do such marriages produce? I have seen such, but have never seen a happy home the fruit of such a marriage.

The home I like to visit, the place I enjoy life in is not in such a dwelling. I love to go and sit with my old schoolmate, who is now gray headed. I like to see the glance of contentment and comfort that comes over her sweet face when her lord comes in. That is peace to me. She tells me her mother never urged her to "settle down." She enjoyed life as a girl, and does now as a married woman.

Twenty-six bright summers glided over her head before she married. What! says a young lady, not married until twenty-six? I will never wait that long. You may wish you had, perhaps. Again, you answer, no one would have when I am that old. If they won't have you then, you had better not have them now. Do not be in a hurry to tie yourself. Do not settle down too quick. It is well to know how to fight, and how to "settle down."

FIVE pair of Men's Half hose at Cheap John's for a quarter.

The Lewistown Democrat says: On Thursday evening last John H. Cornelius, of Mt. Union, formerly of this county, was on his way on foot from this place to Strode's, and a stranger, (a German), accompanied him.

When they got to the woods this side of Caldwell's the stranger, coming up behind, knocked Cornelius down with a stone, and then rifled his pockets, taking about $16 therefrom. Cornelius was found lying in the road insensible, a short time afterward, and his empty pocket book was found near by; but the German had disappeared. He is known, however, and may yet be arrested.

On Friday, the 19th inst., John Sheller, aged 23 years, 10 months and 11 days, son of John A. Sheller, was drowned in Jack's creek, a short distance below Maitland. He left his father's house to go fishing. A few hours afterward his lifeless body was found, face downward, in water scarcely waist deep. He was subject to epilepsy, and it is supposed he took a fit and fell into the water.

The upsetting of a coal oil lamp in a house on West Market street, the other evening, brought out the fire department. Clinton, son of W. H. McClellan, of McVeytown, fell from a chair on Thursday a week, and broke an arm.

THREE pair of Ladies' hose at Cheap John's for a quarter.

The Perry County Advocate of last week says: On Sunday a four year old son of George Hartzell, of Wheatfield township, was kicked on the forehead by a mule. The skull was broken in two places by the sharp points on the mule's shoe. The child was walking behind the mule, which had been running loose, and the flutter of the leaves of a book in the child's hand is supposed to have caused the animal to kick. After being kicked the child is said to have walked to the house. The wound was dressed. Two pieces of broken skull about the size of a nickel penny, which pressed on the brain, was removed.—There is hope that the child may recover.

Last week some scamp or scamps unlocked one of the doors of the Union church, in Buck's valley, Buffalo township, went in, broke the door of the book-case and emptied the Sunday school books promiscuously on a heap upon the floor. He or they then left the door unlocked. The church was entered by means of a key.

On Thursday, John Hain, Sr., of Howe township, shot a large rattlesnake in his spring house, and in half an hour afterward shot one outside the spring house. The snakes had ten rattles each. One was yellow and the other black-spotted.

CANDIDATES' CARDS.

CONGRESS. Mr. Editor: As the time is approaching for nominating a ticket to be supported by the Republican party this fall, and as our system of making nomination requires announcements to be made at least four weeks before the Convention, and one of the most important offices to be filled is that of Congress, I would, therefore, recommend to the Republican voters of Juniata county, Jeremiah Lyons, Esq., as a suitable candidate, to be voted for at the Primary Election for Congress. He is well qualified, is a man of untiring zeal, and a thorough Republican, and if successful in making the district nomination, would spare no efforts to make his election, and I believe would be elected.

PATTERSON.

CONGRESS. To the Republicans of Juniata county: Permit me to suggest the name of James Irwin, of Tuscarora township, as a suitable candidate for Congress in this district. Mr. Irwin is an old and a steady Republican. He is a young man of fine business and intellectual acquirements, and a decided would represent our district with honor to himself and credit to his constituents. If nominated he will poll a large vote in Juniata county than any other who has been a candidate for this office for many years. SPRUCE HILL.

LEGISLATURE. Editor Sentinel—Permit me to name Reuben Caveny, Esq., of Fayette township, as a suitable candidate for the Legislature. Mr. Caveny is a well known citizen of unimpeachable character and undoubted abilities. He has long been one of the closest observers of political affairs, and would make an intelligent and useful member. He resides, too, in the strongest Republican district of the county, and would command a large vote. Many Republicans unite in urging his nomination. DELAWARE.

WOODS—At the residence of W. H. Glass, in Altoona, Pa., Willie C., son of W. W. and Mary E. Woods, (dec'd) of Thompson, aged 4 years.

Miscellaneous.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

PREPARED BY BETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass. And sold by Druggists and Dealers generally.

Manhood: How Lost: How Restored

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhoea or Seminal weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Inactivity, Impediments to Marriage, etc. also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagances, &c. Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on the receipt of six cents or two post stamps. Address the Publishers. CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO., 127 Bowery, New York, Post-Office Box 4589. Nov. 19, 1873-74.
