Some idea of the smazing numbers of locusts out west is formed by the Paris. fact that on the line of the St. Joseph and Denver Railroad, between Axiali meal ? and Beattie, they covered the track two inches deep, and although the engineers put on a powerful head of steam and tried to drive through them, the train was nine hours going eleven miles! On the same road a train pulled out of Senace on time, but, encountering the locusts, was driven back and had to wait until the myriads of insects had crossed the line. As this was to Kansas the grain crops there are threatened as well as in Minnesota and Iowa. Of the extent of the ravages no present conjecture can be formed, but in the regions occupied by homestead settlers the suffering is severe. The western journals still persist in calling the insects grasshoppers, though they differ entirely from that species, and are clearly locusts. The visitation carries complete destruction to all vegetation in their path, and it now seems that they are a very serious A Chinese shoemaker in Sacramento ran all necessary outbuildings on the lot. obstruction to railways, as the crushed bodies of the locusts oil the tracks and prevent the wheels from taking hold on themselves to our civilization, the tails - North American.
