MIFFLINTOWN, JUNIATA COUNTY, PENNA., SEPTEMBER 29, 1875.

Imiata Sentinel La and Republican.

KISSING FOR THE CHILDREN.

Kisses in the mornin Make the day seem bright Filling every corner With a gleam of light ; And what happiness he misses Who, affection's impulse scorning. Departs and gives no kisses

To the children in the morning Many think it folly Many say it's bliss Very much depending On whose lips you kiss! But the truth I am confessing. And I'd have you all take warning If you covet any bles Kim the children in the morning Kisses in the evening

When the lights are low, Set two hearts a-dancing With affection's glow. And the angels swarm in numbers Round the pillow they are pressing, Who are wooed to peaceful sh By a dear one's fond caressing. Kisses in the morning

Are not out of place; Kuses in the evening Have a special grace And it seems to me that this is For indulgence lawful reason : Sweetest tulips I mean kisses!

The Piano Tuner's Story.

"You are a pair of precious young fools, and that's the best I can find to say about you!" said Aunt George. Her name was Miss Georgianna An-

Her name was Miss Georgianna Anderson; but the sweet abbreviation "Georgie" was never used to her; as soon might one think of venturing on familiarities with a bishop! Everybody called her "Aunt George;" and, as she walked with a measured beauty old, with carved spindle legs, or naments of inlaid heres and here a name of inlaid here and the name of the skill of Thurtel instantiation of that valid. Open it quiek."

Instantia, the intracting is the skill of Thurtel instantia, the intracting is the skill of Thurtel instantia, the intraction of the first valid. Open it quiek."

Instantia, the intracting is the skill of Thurtel instantia, the intraction of the first valid. Open it quiek."

Instantia, the intraction of the worthy of note that, while the head of will present to not of the deceased, her piano.

A tuncless, jangling matrument, half of the deceased, her piano.

A tuncless, jangling matrument, half of the deceased, her piano.

A tuncless, jangling is the skill of Thurtel in the intraction of the difference of Mr. Weare. It is worthy of note that, while the head of will be intracted in the intraction of the deceased, her piano.

A tuncless, jangling is the skill of Thurtell intraction of the deceased, her piano.

With an oath the leader again complete in the intraction of the deceased, her piano.

Or the deceased, her piano.

A tuncless, jangling is the skill of Thurtell interaction of the deceased, her piano.

With an oath the leader of the difference of the duty flashed worth of the intraction of the deceased, her piano.

With an oath the leader of the worth of the intraction of the difference of the contraction of the difference of the contraction of the difference of the contraction of the difference of the contraction mine. And she had brought Lizzie up in her queer, downright fashion, never giving her a kiss or a caress or an endearing word, yet withat being kind to her sake. Besides," in a whisper, "think how it will amuse the baby."

"It was Aunt George's, dear," she said, softly, "and we must cherish it for her sake. Besides," in a whisper, "think how it will amuse the baby."

"Jack," said the mar the result of putting people's heads to gether. The skull of the Baresark and of the mild Hindoo are hardly distinguishable; while those of the negro, the New-Hollander, and the Tasmanian the presence of the presenc how it will amuse the baby."

And that was the end of all my expectations of an inheritance from Lizzie's And place as she really was, A little, dimpled, blue-eyesi creature, with long, shady lashes, and a shy way of looking at you, like a child; a girl whose voice was low and flute-sweet, and who moved about quietly and noiselessly, like a sweet spring wind rustling the flowers. And only eighteen, too; that was what aggravated Aunt George the was what aggravated Aunt George the and thirty?" said Aunt George: "Out I wasn't married until I was five and thirty?" said Aunt George: "Out I strank back with a little grimace as Lizzie fouched the keys to make the long to the New-Hollander, and the Tasmanian, differing from each other, differ yet tations of white more widely from the heads of white more widely from the heads from the Indian Archipated and supremely curious are the long flifty—how fast the seconds flew! One shaded and supremely curious are the long that heads admired by the Caribs, and the flat heads admired by the Caribs, and the flat heads admired by the tribes of North America. Near these are casts of the brain cavity of various animals, showing how very small in proportion are the brain of the whale and the elephant when compared with that of man, and force it is too late."

and thirty!" said Aunt George; "but Lizzie touched the keys to make the when compared with that of man, and you young people can't be contented baby laugh. you young people can't be contented without rushing headlong into the vortex. It would be different if you were rich; but, dear me!" and she rubbed her nose perplexedly, "Joe is nothing her nose perplexedly, "Joe is nothing again in no time."

baby laugh.

"Open the vault!"

"And you will not your wicked purpose?"

"Open the vault!"

It is my intention to be perfectly frank of the ancient piano. nise And now comes the most marvelous

There was no getting over these two Lizzie." facts, taken either together or separstoutly; "we are young and strong and brave-hearted, and we'll not ask aid of

"Of course we won't, Joe," said Lizzie, her blue eyes sparkling like dew-wet violets at sunrise.

I did wish, once or twice, that my business had been something more lucrative than piano tuning; but it was what I had been brought up to, and I had a pretty good run of custom on the whole; and, as Lizzie said: "A little will go a great way when you are careful of it."

kindly heart good.

Mating in Arabia. A contributor to the Catholic World

it will come in good time,"

"You'll see Joe." she added, blithely,

"You'll see, Joe," she added, blithely,
"that I shall make a splendid housekeeper."
We had just seventy-five dollars to furnish our little second floor with; but I can assure you our two rooms looked delightfully cozy, with the red and green carried and near stained furniture.

A contributor to the Catholic World describing the work of missionaries
among the Arabs, relates this little incident: A band of 15 couples were lately married from the orphanage of BenAknoun. The fathers informed the archbishop they had 15 excellent boys who were about to the Catholic World
describing the work of missionaries
among the Arabs, relates this little incident: A band of 15 couples were lately married from the orphanage of BenAknoun. The fathers informed the archbishop they had 15 excellent boys
who were about to the Catholic World
describing the work of missionaries
among the Arabs, relates this little incident: A band of 15 couples were lately married from the orphanage of BenAknoun. The fathers informed the archbishop they had 15 excellent boys delightfully cozy, with the red and green carpet and neat stained furniture. Lizzie said it looked exactly like a doll's house, and perhaps she wasn't very far wrong.

"Such a pair of fools!" reiterated girls' school if she could supply 15 mailens who would go and share the mailens who were about to leave, and whom they wished to find wives for and settle in the nearest Christian village. The archibished as the superior of the girls' school if she could supply 15 mailens who were about to leave, and whom they wished to find wives for and settle in the nearest Christian village. The archibished as the superior of the girls' school if she could supply 15 mailens who were about to leave, and whom they wished to find wives for and settle in the mailens who were about to leave, and whom they would be a could supply 15 mailens who were about to leave, and whom they wished to find wives for and settle in the nearest Christian village. The archibished have a could supply 15 mailens who were about to leave, and whom they would settle in the nearest Christian village.

Aunt George, in a prophetic mood; maidens who would go and share the "but there's one comfort—it won't last humble homes of their brother orphans.

why shouldn't it, Aunt George?" cisely the number required—girls who must leave the shelter of the convent in a few months, and whom she was most anxious to see provided for. The grants you come to that why don't "Humph!" said Aunt George. "If you come to that, why don't the sun shine las forever?" "So it might if there were no clouds," tunity for a meeting between the Lizzie answered, softly.

"Ah, child!" sighed Aunt George, "you're young now, so enjoy it as much as you can. We can't be young twice over, more's the pity!" So we were married quietly, as became our humble estate and moderate expec-tations, and went to spend a few days in the country, where I had a sister living on a breezy, old-fashioned farm. Do you think Lizzie and I will ever forget those days, even if we live to be as old s Methuselah?"

It was a November evening when we came to the "doll's house," where the red merino draperies glowed warmly in the ruddy shine of the fire and the tin kettle was singing out its homely lay of welcome. "Lizzie," said I, softly, "are you glad to come home?"

And she answered, more with her

And she answered, more with her eyes than her lips, "Oh, so very, very glad! for we are going to be happy here. I know it as well as if I saw all the years stretched out before me on a

Our first year was very blissful, esfather encouragingly. Our first year was very bussian, pecially after the baby came to make our lives musical, with his little cooling voice; but after that the hard times voice; but after that the hard times voice; but after that the hard times the father came in triumph to Then the father came in triumph to the property of approunce the successour lives musical, with his little cooing voice; but after that the hard times came. Not that we repined. Lizzie and I were brave to endure whatever we could bear together, yet it went to my heart to see her growing pale and thin, through sitting up at night to sew and earn a little extra money, because my business was dull. And, almost before we knew it, the bills began to accumulate, and the rent got behind.

"This won't do, Joe," said Lizzie, gravely. "We must do without a meat."

"That is nothing," said I, laughing, although I felt little enough inclined to be mirthful; "but we cannot very well do without a roof over our heads."

"Don't fret, Joe," said my little "Don't fret, Joe," said my little cartsome wife. "We shall not want.

heartsome wife. "We shall not want-beartsome wife be sure to happen."
"But what can happen, Lizzie? The -Charles Bradlaugh, the noted Eng-"But what can happen, Lizzie? The days of miracles are over. Tdere are lish liberal, will arrive in this country about the first of October, on a lecturing tour through the States."

cheerfully, "although we don't always Fam know it at the time. There is an order street; isn't that a raven?"

for you to tune a piano up in South And she held the little strip of paper triumphantly up before me.

When I came back from South street at Cologne. Attending first of all to the genus bimana—it is extraordinary iet me at the door with humid how naturally hard words come to one in the College of Surgeons—we find the skeletons of sundry remarkable persons in odd juxtaposition. Charles O'Brien, the famous Irish giant, who died in eyes and a troubled face.
"What is the matter?" I cried out, anxiously. "Lizzie — not the baby? Nothing has happened to him?" "No," Lizzie answered; "he is quite well, and fast asleep, like a little white lamb. But—Aunt George is dead."
"Aunt George." I repeated, vacantly.
"Yes; she died this morning, and I could not be sent for in time to receive Lizzie; "but, Joe, she is all the mother I ever had."

We went to Aunt George's funeral, and her will was read—a very brief document—in which she bequeathed her simple household furniture and belongings to a nephew in Wisconsin, and "to Elizabeth, wife of Joseph Allen, as worthy of note that while the head of more than 18 and 18 and 18 and 19 called her "Aunt George;" and, as she walked with a measured, heavy tread, like a grenadier, the name didn't seem at all inappropriate.

She was Lizzie's Aunt George—not when I heard the words. But Lizzie when I heard the words. But Lizzie on laid her hand gently on my arm.

"Lizzie." I cried, breathlessly, "Lizzie!" and she was at my side in an elleto the ground with a slight noise, fell to the ground was a my level to the ground was a light noise, fell to the ground was a level to the ground was a light noise, fell to the ground was a light noise. instant.

And, if you will believe me, there were $5,000, the accumulated savings of Aunt George's frugal life; and this was what she had meant by giving her piano to us. That $5,000 was the starting point of the snug little fortune we have since scraped together; and if Aunt George could know how much her bequest has the report of guns from the top of high mountains could scarcely be heard. M. Payer explains this phenomenon by the large quantity of moisture in the Arctic atmosphere. Meat could be chopped, and mercury used in the shape of balls. Both taste and smell become greatly enfecthed in these latitudes; strength gives way under the paralyzing influence of the cold; the eyes involuntarily close and become frozen. When locomotion stops, the sole of the foot becomes insensible. It is somewhat curious that the beard does not freeze, but this is exdone for us, I think it would do her sible. It is somewhat curious that the beard does not freeze, but this is explained from the air expired being im-mediately transformed into snow. The cold causes dark beards to become cold causes dark beards to lighter; the secretion of the eyes and nose always increases, while the formamaidens who would go and share the humble homes of their brother orphans.

The superior replied that she had president to the process of the cold that she had president to the cold state. to endeavor as much as possible to pre-vent the condensation of the atmosphere, while the much-vaunted plans of ana few months, and whom she was most anxious to see provided for. The grapes were ripe, and the vintage, which was close at hand, would furnish an opporointing and blackening the body are pronounced to have no real value,- old Flippity.

ties. So one morning, in the cool, sweet dawn, they set out to the vineyard, the maidens conducted by a sister, the youths dawn, they set out to the vineyard, the maidens conducted by a sister, the youths by one of the priests; the latter took one side and culled the grapes, while at the other the maidens gathered up the branches and bound them into bunches. As they went they sang hymns and canticles to lighten their labor; and when the day's task was done, they left the vineyard in two distinct bands, as they had come, and returned to their separate convents.

Old Flippity is very old. It is my belief that he must have heard the chimes upon at least some seventy. New Year's eves. The frosts—if frost it may, be called that looks like summer twilight lingering upon a ripened harvest field—are thick upon his head. The dimness of old age is drawing slowly over his kindly beaming eyes, even like a veil, and the old gold-rimmed spectacles (a present from his wife, now in separate convents.

"Well," sald Mgr. de la Vigerie to the presiding father next day, "have the young men chosen each his maiden, and is the choice approved?"

"Alas! monseigneur, they did not even look at each other," replied the disconsolate matchmaker. "They never raised their eyes from their work. Sister and I watched them like lynxes." his sallow face are working deeper and the clothes, which once were so well C- and I watched them like lynxes." filled, hang limp and spiritless upon his

"You have brought up the children too well, my good father," cried the archbishop in despair. "What is to be done with them now?"

"Have a little patience, my lord, and the country of th ged limbs. To all appearance, then, Old Flippity aged limbs. is past his serviceable time and has no object now to live for, and may as well replied the grow gloomy and morose and bitterly exclaim that all is vanity and that the thorns are sharp long after all the roses the control of the two gardens mentioned presents have faded.

But, bless your heart, Old Flippits would smile 'to hear' your same, and is controlled by the control of the two gardens mentioned presents more than 3,000 varieties of roses, 120 of pluns, and held sulfy 6. The London Times would smile would share to explain that you are wrong, quite more pleasure, why he has never happier. We also pleasure, why he has never happier. We also play the Arabian physicians sometimes relied with great success on moral means of the children by the carried with great success on moral means on moral means on the control of the two gardens mentioned presents more than 3,000 varieties of roses, 120 of pluns, 300 of pours, 290 of cherries, 120 of pluns, and held sulfy 6. The London Times with control of the two gardens mentioned presents more than 3,000 varieties of roses, 120 of pluns, and the control of the two gardens mentioned presents more than 3,000 varieties of roses, 120 of pluns, 300 of pours, 290 of cherries, 120 of pluns, and by the last the work of the children work and as to happiness, on the children work, and as to happiness, on the children work, and as to happiness, which is fatal to life. To remove the present work of the children work and passing away of some ward and push him until he is in great pass of the children work, and as to happiness, which is fatal to life. To remove the present work of the children was and push him until he is in great pass of the children was and push him until he is in great pass of the children was and push him until he is in great pass of the children was and push him until he is in great pass of the children was and push him until he is in great pass of the children was and push him until he is in great pass of the children was and push him until he is in great pass of the children was and push him until he is in great pass of the children was and push in the push of the children was and push him until he is in gre stories about young ladies and smoke cigarettes, into Old Flippity) generally has his pockets full of wonderful curi-

Here are skeletons enough to stock another Church of St. Ursula like that at Cologne. Attending first of all to the genus bimana—it is extraordinary how naturally hard words come to one in the College of Surgeons—we find the skeletons of sundry remarkable persons in cold investorsition. Charles O'Reica and "London bridge is falling down."

Uncle Philip—or old Flippity—it matters very little which—earns a greanty living from having charge of scanty living from having charge of two ponderous volumes, which lie upon the furthest corner of a desk in the interior of a dark, long, little den on Third street. The dark little den being that the surgeons would be on the watch of third street. The dark little den being for his remains. Just before he died— a bank, Old Flippity's duties extend to "Yes; she died this morning, and I of too much good liquor, at the age of the discount and collection department. could not be sent for in time to receive twenty-two—ae made dispositions for the is not quick at figures. He is no ber last breath. Oh, Joe, she was very, his burial, requesting that he might be ner last treath. Oh, Joe, she was very, very kind to me."

Are we men naturally so selfish, or was I, hunted and driven by want, an exception to the ordinary rule? For I confess that as Lizzie stood there looking tearfully up into myface the first thought that followed the entrance of this unexpected news into my brain was: Would Annt George leave as anything? Leave to believe all we hear, eight feet two inches high during life, the shales works for very little salary. This reaments are the first thought she high during life, the shales were inches high during life, the shales were into the proposed on the proposed leaves the proposed leaves the proposed leaves the sum in the sea, far beyond low-water mark in the sea, far beyond low-water mark. All his fears and schemes, however, proved useless to avert his fate, or rather the fate of his bones to remain above ground. At a cost, it is said, of £300, his body was secured and the bankers keep him because he works for very little salary. This rea-Aunt George leave us anything? I supposed Lizzie was her sole living relation, and surely, in all these years, though her income was small, she must have saved something. But I am thankful to income was small, she must have income was small, she must have id something. But I am thankful to sember that I never told Lizzie what in my mind.

She was very old, dear," I said, "Jonathan Wild the Great," who, in ver threescore and ten. It is the ver threescore and ten. It is the very threescore and von know in the language of his biographer, Henry one near but the janitor, was surprised to hear something fall. Looking hastily in and von know in the was still more surprised to see the product of the was still more surprised to see the product of the weights and measures now in use, and that every grown person who has "mastered this important but perplex one near but the janitor, was surprised to hear something fall. Looking hastily in some measure of regret."

The service which Old Flippity rendered may be briefly told. One September evening Old Flippity, poring that it should pass away forever without a word by way of memorial and in some measure of regret."

The service which Old Flippity rendered may be briefly told. One September evening Old Flippity, poring that of a famous individual, no less than thankful to otherwise interesting enough. It is dered may be briefly told. One September evening Old Flippity, poring that of a famous individual, no less than the service which Old Flippity rendered may be briefly told. One September evening Old Flippity, poring that of a famous individual and measures now in use, with which a knowledge is acquired of the weights and measures now in use, and that every grown person who has "mastered this important but perplexing part of arithmetic" knows how soon it is forgotten. A man of ordinary sense and memory ought to be ashamed to and memory ought to be ashamed to was in my mind.

"She was very old, dear," I said, striving to comfort my grieved wife; "Jonathan Wild the Great," who, in the language of his biographer, Henry the language of his biographer, Henry she had grown to be very feeble."

"And I know she is better off," said Lizzie; "but, Joe, she is all the mother I had been supported by the same of the skeleton is the coffin-plate bearing the inscription, "Mr. Jonathan Wilde. Died May 24th, while two villainous-looking men stand-live world." It is dered may be briefly told. One September evening Old Flippity, poring late over his books at the bank, with no one near but the janitor, was surprised to be arsomething fall. Looking hastily up, he was still more surprised to see the coffin-plate bearing the inscription, while two villainous-looking men stand-live and the coffin-plate bearing the inscription, while two villainous-looking men stand-live and the coffin-plate bearing the inscription, while two villainous-looking men stand-live and the coffin-plate bearing the inscription, while two villainous-looking men stand-live and the coffin-plate bearing the inscription.

bree minutes we fire. Now, old man !?' the time spent in acquiring the ability Old Flippity stood there quietly in to write the language — Galaxy. the presence of possible death. The loud ticking of the clock upon the wall loud ticking of the clock upon the wan sounded to old Flippity like the knocking of the dark angel at his heart. Fifty—one hundred—one hundred and fifty—how fast the seconds flew! One hundred and sixty—seventy—seve fore it is too late.'

Every sort of cooling drink can be had in perfection in the streets of Madrid. Water, to begin with, is always quite fresh and cold, and this is more than a luxury, it is an absolutely necessity in a country where one is literally burnt up with thirst. In every town sturdy gallegos carry it about, and it is refreshing even to hear their monotonous, long-drawn cry of "Agua pura," "Agua mas fresca que la nieve," for the east wind brings with it dust and burning fever, and the sun scorches and dries the very blood and skin with its fiery heat.

Celebrated Flower Gardens Designed for the Culture of Rose Bushes Only.

There are but very few spots in the There are but very few spots in the world which can show so charming a flora of roses, besides the isle of roses in the Sturnberg lake, near Munich, as the Archducal Park in Alesuth and Margaret's Island, near Pesth. On the latter there are at this time, the beginning of July, more than 10,000 highgrown rose bushes in full bloom, each covered with roses without number. The sight of the gorgeons forest of roses is represented to be fairy like, while their fragrance, extending ever so far, invites perfect hosts of visitors. More than 100 different kinds of roses are planted there, and the printed catalogue planted there, and the printed catalogue of the two gardens mentioned presents more than 3,000 varieties of roses, the

I receive, and for some years have received, many letters daily written by representatives of all sorts and condi-tions of men; and I can safely say that thons of men; and I can safely say that an error in spelling is the very rarest that I meet with. Indeed, an error of this kind almost never occurs in any manuscript that comes under my obser-vation. Mistakes of all other sorts are plentiful, chiefly those in the meaning of words are common enough but the tion of sentences; those in the meaning of words are common enough, but the spelling may be said to be always cor-rect. A change in spelling seems to be necessary to give neither writers nor readers a complete and easy command of the English language, spoken or written. This outery against the diffi-culties of English spelling has been heard for many years in certain quarters; points is filling marriage with unneces-sary evils; they not only spoil the well being of a family, but spoil its disposi-tion. Lef the work in every house be which does not split. That which "Open the vault!"

"And you will not be turned from all the clothes, exactly represent the is called silver gray; it preserves its without rushing headlong into the vortex. It would be different if you were rich; but, dear me!" and she rubbed her nose perplexedly, "Joe is nothing on earth but a poor planoforte tuner, and you haven't one solitary penny of your own, Lizzie." It happened to be a very dull time George," Lizzie answered, cheerfully.

"And you!" I have to be," answered to be," answered to dlady, grimly.

"Aretic Cola.

"Aretic Cola.

"Aretic Cola.

"And now comes the most marvelous without rushing headlong into the vortex. It would be different if you were rich; but, dear me!" and she rubbed if you will not be turned from your wicked purpose?"

"Open the vault, I say, or I shoot!" again in no time."

"Open the vault, I say, or I shoot!" again in no time."

"Then there is the key, and fire you will!" cried Old Flippity. And I shall not disguise whose destruction at Exeter 'Change excited so much sympathy at the time.

"All the Year Round.

"Aretic Cola.

"Aretic Cola.

"And you will not be turned from your wicked purpose?"

"Open the vault, I say, or I shoot!" again in not a single room for parade, neither you will!" cried Old Flippity. And is suddenly raising his hand he hurled the vall-key through the plate-glass window into the middle of the street. This action, so unexpected, caused the robbers to look undecidedly at each of the interior developments of the ancient piano.

It is my intention to be perfectly frank with the reader. I shall not disguise.

"And now comes the most marvelous and now comes the most marvelous and the Cape rarely excessed to the air, of poor "Chunee, the famous elephant whose destruction at Exeter 'Change excited so much sympathy at the time.

"All the Year Round.

"Then there is the key, and fire it you will!" cried Old Flippity. And all done by the least elaborate the vall-key through the plate-glass window into the middle of the street. This action, so unexpected, caused the robbers to look undecidedly at each of the middle of the street. This action, so unexpected, caused the robbers to look undec ongue. Besides, enough can never be of citizens who had been attracted by itual purpose. The men and women from him the fact that I had, in our confidential talks, asked Lizzie if she thought Aunt George would do anything for us in a pecuniary way.

"Oh, dear, no:" Lizzie had answered shaking her brown curls in any instrument of shaking her brown curls in a most decided fashion. "She always teld mere to expect anything from her; and besides, Joe, she has really nothing to expect mere way to great the shaking her brown or curls in a most decided fashion. "She always teld me never to expect anything from her; and besides, Joe, she has really nothing to give.""

The Gardens of Morocco.

All piano tuners know that when you take not of 30 or 40 degrees below zero makes it taste like molten metal. Snow the bank, and Old Flippity and the same was old man may be good for something. And certainly it does me good to know that in the bent and feeble form of such a groups of travelers who traversed the groups of travelers who traversed the she will that it is besides, Joe, she has really nothing to the country is very favoral besides, Joe, she has really nothing to the dust away from this place I saw a besides, Joe, she has really nothing to the dust away from this place I saw a besides, Joe, she has really nothing to the dust away from this place I saw a besides, Joe, she has really nothing to the dust away from this place I saw a besides, Joe, she has really nothing to the dust away from this place I saw a besides of the most of the man may be good for something. And certainly it does me good to know that in the bent and feeble form of such a groups of travelers who traversed the person as Old Flippity there hides a fleet inner and substitute of the country is very favoral that they are illil life itself pronounced the and the fill life itself pronounced the and the fill life itself pronounced the bank. Thus every select any the master of the country is very favoral the east. The most of or one-tail life itself pronounc And teach them simplicity, make vul-gar habits and ambitions appear odious gar habits and ambitions appear octools to them, ply their imagination with anstere and noble forms, tempt them to fall in love first with spiritual beauty, whose service makes them free, then they will be better prepared to discover that marriage withholds felicity until it has been earned. has been earned.

Arrow-Hend Superstitions.

There are some curious superstitions attached to flint arrow-heads in various of London, produces so much vegetable brings with twisters and dries the very blood and skin with its fery heat. Those who are wise will, when traveling, the provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not into three for acquittal.

The surprise does not, in such a provide themselved the surprise does not into three for acquittal.

The surprise of two were them mounted in silver from the spring. Then, in all the corters of the principal structs and the corners of the principal structs and the principal structs an parts of Europe, as, for instance, in Scotland and Ireland, where the country people call them elf-shots or elf-bolts, believing them to be the misthin beer and gings.

more drinks of the same nature.

Above all must be placed the hockedas, with certain magic powers. Similar with certain magic powers. In some and water, carefully strained and leed, and water, carefully strained and leed, parts of that country the peasants preserve flint arrow-heads in their houses, serve flint arrow-heads in their houses. orange or pineapple, and perhaps flav-ored with a little vanilla or almonds, feets of lighting, and in the Island of the whole making a mixture that it is Elba they are mounted in silver and worth going to Spain to taste. In other places it might not, perhaps, be so much appreciated, for the hot sun gives not only the rich flavor to the fruit, but the thirst that makes it pleasant.

Elba they are mounted in Sotland and Ireland. An arrow-head of flint has been found appended to an Etruscan necklace of gold, apparently as a sort of charm, which seems to show, says Mr. Evans, "that a belief in the supernature that it is the supernature tha ral origin of these weapons, and their consequent miract our powers, is of very ancient date." In this country where stone arrow-points are probably more numerous than any where else,

The Court of Queen's Bench will cease to exist next November—that is to say, the act of Parliament which abolishes it will take effect at that time; although what probably will be its last sitting was held July 6. The London Times was held July 6. The London Times Would you never be told a lie, do not ask personal questions.

Would you sleep well, and have a strength of the connagence of the probability of the probability of the connagence of the probability of the probability of the probability of the connagence of the probability of the probabi cession of Alfred in 871—the earliest date at which such a jurisdiction can be shown to have been exercised—to the year 1870, when the original of the judicature act which abolished it was introduced, just 1,000 years should have elapsed. To Sir Alexander Cockburn, certainly in many respects not the least distinguished of the series, belongs the melancholy distinction of being the last Lord Chief Justice of England. The jurisdiction of the court, it is true, is preserved by the Judicature act, and is vested in a division of the High Corrt of Judicature. And its peculiar jurisdiction is vested in that division exclusively. But as a court—as that great in the series of the series o of Judicature. And its peculiar jurisdiction is vested in that division exclusively. But as a court—as that great court which has existed ever since the Conquest as a distinct and separate tribunal, with that high and lofty jurisdiction which could originally only be exercised by the King in person, and was so exercised by our sovereigns ever since the time of Alfred, as that great court of the King; inferior only to Parliament in greatness and in dignity—its history has closed. All its proud distinction and its lofty traditions expire and pass away and become as things of the past. It has, however, a great history—a history of ten centuries' duration—closely connected with the culties of English spelling has been heard for many years in certain quarters; but it does not come from the body of intelligent English-speaking people. Men who devote themselves to one special study are apt to become "hypped" upon it, to find some favorite grievance, and weep, and wail, and wring their hands in public over it. The advocates of a decimal system of weights and measures are doing the same thing over heard for many years in certain quarters; but it does not come from the body of intelligent English-speaking people. Men who devote themselves to one special study are apt to become "hypped" upon it, to find some favorite grievance, and weep, and wail, and wring their hands in public over it. The advocates of a decimal system of weights and measures are doing the same thing over tons, pounds, and ounces, gallons, quarts and gills. They say, as is said in a recent article upon the subject, that "every schoolboy" knows the difficulty with which a knowledge is acquired of the weights and measures now in use, of the weights and measures now in use, in the subject and pass away forever the subject that the subject is acquired of the weights and measures now in use, of the tragic events; and it was not fitting that it should pass away forever by the snows of the Atlas ranges, the degree of heat in Morocco is much lower than in Algeria, while the soil is exeven from Roman times. The orange plantations are of very great extent in various parts of the country, while olives and almonds are also staples ex-advance toward the accomplishment of the object. Every tack of the ship made according to nautical law keeps her steadily nearing the port. Each stroke of the chisel brings the marble into a closer likeness of the model. No effort or time is lest, for nothing is done rashly or at random.

Would you keep your rosy com-plexion, wear thick soled shoes. Would you enjoy quiet content, do away with airs and pretenses. Would you have others respect your opinions hold and never disown them

Would you have good health, go out in the sunshine, Sickness is than freckles.

disobey, for I wish you to remember that disobedience to parents is sin against God.

"Charlie," said his mother, calling him from the kitchen-door—"Charlie,

Alexandria and Malta, 180 tons; the was terrible, and fever came on. For western coast of Africa, 20, the Cape 50; Mozambique, 14. The ivory reaches Bombay from all the southern countries began to improve, and in a few weeks How to Make Marriage Beautiful.

of Asia; a large part of it goes to the Chinese and Indian markets, and the was able to go out again, but he was maimed for life.

In the first place, let people defer to rest comes to Europe. Alexandria and I think if you could see him, with paid a heavy price for the pleasure of having his own way. I think he will never be disobedient again. I hope he will not. But why should you wait till some great misfortune comes upon you before you learn to obey! I sup-pose you think you are in no danger; but I tell you my little friends, that disobedient children are always in dan-ger. God is displeased with them, and in some way they are sure to sufand ip some way they are sure to suf-fer for their sins.

"And is this all my mother could do for me?" grombled the woolly-bear caterpillar, as he crossed the gravel path where the little golden beetles shrank from him in something Grand Army of the Republic, have belike disgust. "Frightful, of course frightful; very humilitating!" he ex-claimed, as he began to make his din-der off the dead nettle to which he had

"Patience," said the dead nettle, won't always be a mummy."

One morning the sun shone on the One morning the sun shone on the glorious wings of a tiger-moth, as it balanced itself on the hedge, trembling with delight.

"Ah," cried the nettle, "I told you R. R. Co. in establishing iron works at Parth Amboy, N. J.

so, the training wasn't pleasant, but see what has come of it!"

Ike's Trap.—When my brother Ike was about nine years old, he fancied that it would be fine sport to set snares, and catch rabbits and other game.

So one day he set a trap in a rabbit's path. He wove some sticks across like a fence, leaving an aperture at which he placed a slip roose attached to a any department of theoretic or practical science, except as it works by a well-to a class of children. They were told formed plan. Then every step is an that gold could be melted. Then the teacher asked:

"(an stone be melted."

"Yes," said a little boy; "stone is melted in volcanoes.

"That is true; and now can you tell me what can melt a heart as hard as very large.

tle boy replied:
"I think it is God only who can melt a hard heart."

"I think so, too, my child; but how does God melt the heart? "It is by his love."
"Yes, the love of God melts the stony

"Herbert," said a perplexed mother, property for $184,000.
"why is it that you are not a better —During the past so

Would you respect yourself, keep your heart and body clean.
Would you retain the love of a friend.
do not be selfishly exacting.
Would you gain the confidence of business men, do not try to support the Editor and Proprieter.

 A German chemist has discovered -In the 225 churches in Brooklyn,

-A Boston murderer, in consequence of his poor health, wants his execution

-The Chinese in California consum nearly a million dollars' worth of onium

-To the medical department of Cornell University a chair of surgery is to be added.

-Five millions of bushels of wheat from Texas and Arkansas will be shipped North this season. -Forty years ago 58,000,000 cigars were manufactured yearly; now consumption demands 742,000,000. -Professor King, the aeronaut, intends to construct two balloons at Buffalo for use during the coming year. -The Democratic state of Georgia has more than doubled its taxable property since the close of the war. -The long closed mines of Chihuahua are about to be reopened by a New York company, with a capital of $6,000-

-It is reported that Gen. Butler is retained as counsel for Tilton in the second trial of his suit against Beecher. -From the clay pits around New Brunswick, N. J., 235,000,000 tons of lay value lat $1,000,000, are annually taken out. -Of Southern voters thirty-nine per ent, are unable to read. In the North the proportion is only one-fifth of that percentage. -Ex-Senator Stockton, of New Jersey soon to make his home in Trenton, N. J., where he will resume the practice of the law.

-Rev. Charles Fisher, of Hartford, Conn., has just married his 1,600th couple, and has no idea how much he has to answer for. -Wagering kid gloves on the races has been all the rage among the ladies at Saratoga; Stewart's store has sold about 20,000 pairs. -Rockfort, Mass., has an eightyyear-old citizen, who lives in a 150year-old house, and sleeps under a 250-year-old counterpane. -Sixty-five convicts in the Malne Penitentiary have agreed to take a weekly newspaper in lieu of their reg-

-Chicago has eighteen steam elevators, with *combined capacity of 15, 350,000 bushels. They cost, with the land on which they rest, $6,000,000. -The Rev. Adirondack Murray will introduce a Turf column in the new religious paper he is to edit. All reli-

-In Massachusetts two-thirds of the towns (townships) have lost population, as the recent census shows. The manufacturing cities show a large increase, -The Pennsylvania department, gious turimen are expected to subscribe.

gun to make arrangements to gather all the posts in the country at the nial. -General Spinner has left Washington for the Summer, and is resting in

The groves of rose-trees and the flower-farms of Morocco are said by a recent traveler to exceed in extent.

"you won't always be a woolly-bear."

A little time and wooolly bear better fall he will go to Florida to spend the winter.

Or a baby in swaddling clothes.

"Is this change for the better fam I tion with New York City from the principal water reservoirs, a new aquednet is proposed, to cost from $6,000,000 to -Forest and Stream in behalf of American sportsmen, has secured 1,200 feet of space at the Centennial Exposition for the display of sporting articles

-The cultivation of tea in this country has been successfully attempted by Mr. D. Manard, of Louisiana who has produced a perfect article, which sells at $1.50 a pound.

-On the 3d of June last there were

-At Wells Beach, Vt., they harbor a curious superstition that any one who will take a dip in the river on June 26, will be free from sickness for one year, and on that date hundreds flock to the charmed waters. -Barreda, the Peruvian, minister "Yes, the love of God melts the stony hearts. "We love him because he first loved us."

built a house at Newport at a cost, with grounds and hot houses of $400,000 and Mr. W. T. Blodgett, of New York, is said to have lately purchased the

-During the past summer more rattlesnakes have been killed along the ne of the Delaware river than were ever known before, the long drought having brought them down from the mountains to the damp, low grounds border-ing the rocky hills. -There are over 2,700 varieties of apples known by over 1,800 names, 2,200 of pears, 200 of cherries, 150 of plums,