" INDEPENDENT journalism,' as exemplified in the New York Sun, and its feeble imitators elsewhere, is the meanest sort of journalism. The fact that President Grant, nearly two years ago, borrowed some money on mortgages on his Long Branch property, has just been discovered by some one of the many Paul Prys attached to the Sun, and the readers of that paper are treated to over a column giving the mortgage verbalim, which is in no wise different from any other mortgage, except this singular fact is also developed that the names of U. S. Grant and wife appear in it. There is no deceney in such journalism."
