Dec. 10, 1873-tf Dyspepsial Dyspepsial Dyspepsia is the most perpiexing of all human ailmosts. Its symptoms are almost infinite in their variety, and the forlorn and fancy themselves the proy, in turn, of every snown malady. This is doe, in part, to the close sympathy which exists between the stomach and the brain, and in part also to the fact that any disturbance of the diges-tive function necessarily disorders the liver, the bowels and the nervous system, and fleets, to some extent, the quality of the

E. F. Kunker's Bitter Wine of Iron is a sure cure.
