Presidential Campaign Song,

When this old hat was new, boys, Sam Tilden and Bill Tweed Were bosom cronies in New York, And mighty well agreed:
The tricks one did not think of, sir,
The other surely knew; And so they swelled their bank accounts, When this old hat was new.

Oh! how the money went; They scooped the city treasury up, And yet were not content; By plans that Sam invented, sir, Known but to very few, They counted Hoffman Governor, When this old bat was new.

When this old hat was new, boys, And everything serene, While Sammy ran the Railroad, The Boss ran "the Machine. Oh! how the money flew;
Reform was what they did not want,
When this old hat was new.

When this old hat was new, boys, Great scandais were affoat; The Tam'ny ring was broken up,

Ungrateful Sam at last began. Though still one of the crew, To cry, "Stop thief," and keeps it up, Since this old hat was new. When this old hat was new, boys,

If we have learned the facts, Our Sammy made a false return Upon his income tax, And had the law but reached the fraud, And dealt him justice true, Like Tweed he'd worn a striped suit,

When this old hat was new When this old hat was new, boys, A funny thing to see Was little Sam a figuring The President to be He pardoned convicts great and small,

And Tweed to Cubs flew. For Sammy had no use for him, When this old hat was new Although this hat is old, boys, And bleached by rain and sun, I'll wear it like an honest man
