The opinion of the world is, that if Russia and Turkey come to blows, Turkey will be knocked to pieces.

In leaving town on Saturday morning, Forepugh's showmen got badly scattered and demoralized.

One wagon went to Bolling Springs, about five miles out of their wagon, without attempting to turn.

The Baltimore pike upset at the railroad and broke the wagon sufficiently to release the birds contained therein.

They were all promptly recaptured. Another wagon, crossing the bridge below town, upset and one of the lions it contained escaped into the woods.

The monthly report of the Government Department of Agriculture speaks of this year's yield of wheat.

Our October returns indicate a reduction in the yield of the wheat crop of nearly one-sixth.

More accurate statistics may possibly be given after the results of threshing are more fully known.

Every section of the Union indicates a reduced product except the Middle States, which increased about 2 per cent.

The New England States fell off 4 per cent.; the South Atlantic States 2 per cent.; the Gulf States 2 per cent.

The States north of the Ohio river 14 per cent.; the States west of the Mississippi river 27 per cent.

These figures point to a yield of about 245,000,000 bushels. This, however, will be the subject of further examination and inquiry in our November returns.

In Washington, Pa., a doctor Coyne has built a furnace for the purpose of burning the bodies of dead people.

Instead of burying them in the ground, a few days ago he experimented on the bodies of sheep.

An account of which is taken from the Washington, Pa., Evening Reporter, and reads as follows:—

We learn that the next morning after the cremation of the sheep in Dr. Coyne's furnace, an account of which was given in this paper yesterday.

The retort was still red hot and continued so for a long time.

This morning, about thirty six hours after the furnace had been closed, it had cooled off sufficient to allow the bodies which it had cremated to be removed.

In the presence of the Doctor and a few friends. Nothing remained of the bodies and the coffin but about a gallon of dry dust ashes.

and ornamentation in the furnace the bodies of the two sheep weighed 162 pounds.

and the box or coffin 64 pounds, making a total weight of 226 pounds.
