LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

At 8 o'clock A. M. last Wednesday a man, just thinking of your head in the morning...

A few days ago a woman was found dead in a strip of wood near Tyrone, it is believed that she was murdered.

All Europe is arming to keep the peace. They seek a piece of territory, and will wish it at once by saying let us each take a piece.

Philadelphia Markets.—Wheat $1.20, Corn 45 to 50, Oats 20 to 25, Clover seed 10 to 15, Cattle 2 to 3, Sheep 5 to 6, Hogs 8 to 9.

A barn, not far from Lewistown, owned by Mr. Ury Jacobs, was destroyed by fire last Friday night. The light was plainly seen from this place.

John Slatterback's Horse Shoe Nail Clincher, which a patent has been applied to, is pronounced by all who have used it as just the tool for horse-shoeing blacksmiths to have.

The Lord's Supper will be administered in Rev. Mr. Sherrill's church next Sabbath. Rev. Mr. Butler, from Clearfield town, will officiate. Rev. Mr. Chichester cannot be present.

Henry Wynn, of Tuscarora township, who was suffering in bed with a broken leg, was taken out by Democratic friends on election day and hauled to the polls, a distance of 25 miles to vote the Democratic ticket.

No certain election returns yet, though words of despatches, not worth reading have been sent over the country; keep cool, the correct returns will be in by and by.

One of the employees of John B. Seidels, of Maryland, was attacked by half a dozen traps a couple of weeks ago. He was taken to the hospital, and after a few days he was discharged, and also the Maryland. They overpowered and robbed him and stripped him of all his clothing except his shirt. The young man remained in the hospital until evening when he made his way to Maryland.—Bloomfield Advocate.

The Lewistown Gazette states: John H. Lauer, of Decatur, while hunting squirrels on Wednesday, shot one which lodged in a tree a distance of thirty feet from the ground. He climbed the tree, and just as he was about to reach the squirrel, it was near his head he caught hold of a dead limb, which gave way, the hunter falling to the ground, breaking both arms between the wrists and the neck, and a distance of 25 miles to the joint. He was accompanied by his wife, who was also injured. The family were brought to the hospital, and the doctor says he will endeavor to save the limbs.

On Monday, Nov. 20th, the Teachers' Institute of this county will convene in the Court House, at 1 o'clock P. M. We notice as instructors the names of Dr. Hays, President of Washington and Jefferson College, Dr. Sherrill, who made a good impression last year, Prof. Morris of West Chester, one of the prominent teachers of the State, and Miss Florence Childers, a distinguished elocutionist, from Syracuse, N. Y. The corps of instructors is one of the best ever secured for this county, and all who neglect to attend will miss an intellectual feast seldom offered.

On election day, William Chestnut, of Lewistown, in company with two sons went to the mountain to hunt. About noon the boys left for home, on their departure the father requested them to state to their mother that he might be expected home by 5 o'clock that evening. Not arriving at home on Wednesday morning, two hunters were sent to look for him. At 8 o'clock, after noon, he was found dead, with a bullet hole in his left side. The following note, in his own hand writing was found in a pocket of his vest. The note reads: "I fell, and my gun flew back and shot me. My dear wife and children, meet me in Heaven."

How that message from the boundary land of the world to come will be cherished.

A REMEDY FOR SMALL POX.—The following simple remedy and preventives, furnished by the Liverpool Mercury by Dr. Edward Hine, should be known to every person. If it fails, it is a remedy prescribed in no positively injurious, and can be used by any person without fear.

He says: "I am willing to risk my reputation as a public man if the worst case of the small pox cannot be effectually cured in three days, simply by cream of tartar. This is the sure and never failing remedy: One ounce of cream of tartar dissolved in a pint of boiling water, to be drunk when cold at short intervals. It can be taken at any time, and is a preventive as well as a cure. It is known to have cured a hundred thousand cases cured in a failure. I have myself restored hundreds by this means. It never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and always presents tedious lingering. If the people would only try it and report all the cures to you, you would require to employ many columns if you gave them publicity."

What Winking Caused.

Sanders is a great winker. He can't talk to you two minutes without winking. He never takes a letter out of the office without winking at one of the clerks; he winks when he sees you, and gives a sidelong glance at you on the street if it is always with a significant closing of the left eye, and when he has a stunning piece of news to tell you his wink is one of the greatest imports. The world moved along smoothly enough with Sanders until last Friday. Up to that time he had gone winking and blinking along peacefully enough, and no clouds had obscured his happiness; but a pall is hanging over Sanders now, and life has no charms for him. It's all his wife's fault, he says. She had no business sending him to a millinery store. She wanted a good winking one on her hat, and she started Sanders off to procure it. He entered the store winking, and when one of the shop-girls approached and said "Good morning," he winked and replied "Good morning."

The girl blushed and looked nervous. Sanders displayed the bow and said: "Got anything to match that?" and winked again. The girl vanished to the back room with flaming cheeks, leaving Sanders to stare after her in open-mouthed wonder. In a minute or two the boss milliner, who had been informed of his actions, appeared. She was highly indignant, and as she slammed the door behind her she said, "Sir—"

"Good morning, madame," said Sanders. "Fine day, ain't it now?" and a wink was unconsciously slung at the lady. She bridled up instantly. "Sir, the conduct—"

"Oh, that's all right; never mind her—little bashful, eh?" Another tremendous wink. "I cannot permit such conduct, sir. It is shameful and insulting."

"Not at all; not at all," says Sanders still of the track. "Don't say another word, we understand each other."

Another portentous wink. The milliner vanishes, slumping the back door behind her, and Sanders sinks into a seat exclaiming: "Well, I'll be doggoned!" But he bounced up quick when a gentleman entered, and calling him "an old hippopotamus," proceeded to divest himself of his coat, and squaring off at Sanders, cried out: "Now then, come on!"

"Why, why, bless me, what does this mean?" said Sanders. "Oh, yes, you're a nice one, you are. What kind of a place do you take this for, coming around and insulting women and girls with your winks? Common!" and he banged around Sanders. He got one in Sanders over the eye; his left duka felt of Sanders's ribs, while his right rattled around all over Sanders's mug, and when he got through with Sanders that individual was as badly demoralized as a pig in a whirlwind, and he never found out what it was all about until the milliner's husband, who has ascertained his habit, called on Sunday and apologized. Sanders shook hands, said it was all right, and was just about to wink again when he checked himself and said: "Blame it, I'll swear off from that habit! It's then turned and winked at the wall to enforce his oath."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is widely known as one of the most effective remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purify the blood, and to remove all the impurities of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities or diseases that have lurked in the system for years soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are profusely known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Knots, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Itchiness, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Headache, Indigestion, and general Debility, and Lencorrhoea, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous system. It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.

Highest Premium at the Centennial Awarded to the LAMB KNITTING MACHINE! Knits a Stocking in 15 Minutes!

Knitting in the heel and narrowing off the toe, without the aid of needles, and so on, is a way that will dry up in one place to look to in another; whereas this Ointment will remove the humor from the system, and leave the patient a vigorous and healthy being. It will require time with the use of the Pills to insure a lasting cure.

Dropical Swellings, Paralysis, and Stiff Joints. Although the above complaints differ widely in their origin and nature, yet they require the same treatment. Many of the worst cases, of such diseases, will yield in a comparatively short space of time when this Ointment is diligently rubbed into the affected parts, and the patient means have full faith. In all serious maladies the Pills should be taken according to the directions accompanying each box.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases: Bad Legs, (Gout, Gonorrhea, Swellings, Burns, Lumbago, Piles, Rheumatism, Sand-Flies, Scalds, Sore Nipples, Chilblains, Sore Throat, Skin Diseases, Chapped Hands, Scurvy, Cancers (soft), Tumors, piles, taken Contracted and Stiff Joints, Elephantiasis, Fistulas, &c.)

CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HADDOCK, as agent for the United States, surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering their profession as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicine, or vending the same, knowing them to be such.

MARK THESE FACTS!

The Testimony of the Whole World. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Sores and Ulcers. All descriptions of sores are remediable by the proper and diligent use of this invaluable preparation. To attempt to cure bad legs by plastering the edges of the wound together is a folly; for should the skin unite, a boggy diseased condition remains underneath to break out in tenfold fury in a few days. The only rational and successful treatment, as indicated by nature, is to reduce the inflammation in and about the wound and soothe the neighboring parts by rubbing in plenty of the Ointment as salt is forced into meat. This will cause the malignant humors to be drained off from the sore, and the diseased parts to be washed out by the action of the water-purifiers applied over the affected parts, after the Ointment has been well rubbed in, will soothe and soften the same and prevent the break out in tenfold fury in a few days. Any of the above diseases may be cured by well rubbing the Ointment three times a day into the chest, throat and neck of the patient; it will soon penetrate and give immediate relief. Medicine taken by the mouth must operate upon the whole system ere its influence can be felt in any local part. Whenever the Ointment will do its work once, it will cure the disease named, or any similar disorders affecting the chest, throat, and neck, and the patient will be cured by a charm. All sufferers from these complaints should envelop the throat at bedtime in a large band and water-purifier, and the Ointment should be rubbed into it; it will greatly assist the cure of the throat and chest. To allay the fever and lessen the inflammation, eight or ten Pills should be taken three or four times a day, and the patient will find perspiration, the great essential in all cases of fevers, sore throats, or where there might be an oppression of the chest, either from asthma or other causes.

Piles, Fistulas, Strictures. The above class of complaints will be remedied in a short time by the use of the Ointment, and then by most effectually rubbing in the Ointment. Persons suffering from these distressing complaints should not lose a moment in treating their progress. It should be understood that it is not sufficient merely to smear the Ointment on the affected parts, but it must be well rubbed in for a considerable time two or three times a day, that it may be taken into the system, whence it will remove any hidden sore or wound as effectually as though palpable to the eye. It cures again both of water-purifiers, after the rubbing in of the Ointment, will do great service. This is the only true treatment for females, cases of cancer in the stomach, or where there may be a general bearing down.

Indurations of Youth; Sores and Ulcers. Blisters, as well as swellings, can, with certainty, be radically cured if the Ointment be used freely, and the Pills taken night and morning, as recommended in the prospectus in connection with the Ointment. The only way they will dry up in one place to look to in another; whereas this Ointment will remove the humor from the system, and leave the patient a vigorous and healthy being. It will require time with the use of the Pills to insure a lasting cure.

Dropical Swellings, Paralysis, and Stiff Joints. Although the above complaints differ widely in their origin and nature, yet they require the same treatment. Many of the worst cases, of such diseases, will yield in a comparatively short space of time when this Ointment is diligently rubbed into the affected parts, and the patient means have full faith. In all serious maladies the Pills should be taken according to the directions accompanying each box.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases: Bad Legs, (Gout, Gonorrhea, Swellings, Burns, Lumbago, Piles, Rheumatism, Sand-Flies, Scalds, Sore Nipples, Chilblains, Sore Throat, Skin Diseases, Chapped Hands, Scurvy, Cancers (soft), Tumors, piles, taken Contracted and Stiff Joints, Elephantiasis, Fistulas, &c.)

CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HADDOCK, as agent for the United States, surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering their profession as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicine, or vending the same, knowing them to be such.
