An entertainment will be held at McAlisterville by the Public Schools of that place on Friday evening, March 30, 1877. Admission, 15 cents. The telephone may be a great instrument in a gossip, but once it gets ahead of the regular gossip in every village, it will be the greatest thing out...

The borough council of Newport, Perry county, have bought a lot of ground, on which they propose building a "lock-up," the county jail being located at Lockfield. J. D. Cameron was elected a United States Senator, yesterday, to fill the unexpired term of two years, made vacant by the resignation of his father, Hon. Simon Cameron...

A series of sermons preached in the home of George Keiser, at Grahamville, Fermanagh township, has resulted in the conversion of eleven persons from the ways of the worldly to the ways of the christian. Blooded Republicans indulged in an illumination and street parade, in honor of the inauguration of President Hayes. Good, but the erring brethren could not help showing their "bad," which they did by the tolling of bells...

A false despatch, that "half of Millin is on fire," was the cause of the ringing of the Court House bell in Lewistown at 11 o'clock on Monday night a week, the night of the fire in the R. E. Parker building. Gallantly did the Lewistown people turn out into the streets with an engine, and proceed to the railroad to bring it to this place. About the time they were ready to leave the false alarm was corrected...

The public have more confidence in the Selingsgrove and North Branch Railroad Company since the election of the new Board, and the general expression is that if the New York term mean business, there is nothing to prevent them from engaging in the enterprise speedily. The following is the new board: President—E. S. Doty, Secretary—Miss Wetzell, Treasurer—Wm. F. Eckbert...

Orders for the following should be awarded the Buffalo Courier: "Oh, what becomes," said Chloé Fair, "Of all the pins that from my hair I drop unheeded on the floor, And never miss or see them more?" "My dear," said Darwin, "they all go into our mother earth below; There their development begins, And ending they are terra perna!"

The Juniata County Normal School, under the joint management of Messrs. John M. Debusan, T. D. Garman and D. Ernest Lantz, will open in Millintown, April 16, 1877. See advertisement. A GENTLEMAN sent his Irish servant to a neighboring grocery to get a demijohn. "Misther Croin sent me here to get a demijohn?" said Pat. "A what?" exclaimed the astonished shop-keeper. "A demijohn," repeated the Irishman. "Now wasn't it a demijohn that he sent you to get?" "And sure it's fooling wid me ye are. What's the diff? Isn't it all the same thing, whether it's a demijohn or a demijohn; it's something to hold bod whisky anyhow."—Portland Press.

Acquiesce in the human beast, Har-mony is the goal to rest, Ceremonies, words to men addressed, Tost money, evidence to attest, Patri-mony, inheritance bequest, Matrimony, state to make you best, Ready money, what many love best. The Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical Church recently held its session in Williamsport, Bishop Yeakey presiding. The following are some of the appointments made by the Conference: CAREWAS DEACON—E. Kohr, P. E. Carlisle—H. H. Stokes, Leeburg—J. M. Etinger, Hagerstown—B. F. Anthony, Marysville—G. E. Zehner, Newport and Patterson—G. W. Curran, Perry—J. M. Pines, Millintown—L. Mathias, Liverport—A. W. Krewmer, Elm Springs—A. Shortz, McClure—J. M. Price & J. Shambuck, Middleburg—A. Kran & P. Werdempler, Union—S. Smith, Millburg—L. Rice, Port Trevorton—Jacob Young, Union Seminary—Prof. F. M. Baker and Prof. J. W. Bentz.

Z. Hornberger, for the last two years pastor of the church at Patterson, has been appointed to Lewisburg. Rev. Curran, his successor, comes well recommended as an earnest and successful worker. The next session of this Conference will be held at Gen Rock. The Philadelphia Times of the 14th inst. says: A meeting of officers and employees of the several railroad companies centering in Philadelphia was held on Monday evening last at the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad, West Philadelphia, to organize the "Railroad Employees' Provident Association," a mutual company for insuring the lives of railroad employees at reduced rates, its territory extending for the present over the New England and Middle States. This association is incorporated under the laws of the State, and until fully under way and in a prosperous condition will only take risks on the lives of officers, clerks and employees not occupied in hazardous duties.

The Altoona Mirror says: Ever since the first of March there has been missing from his home in this city, on Ninth avenue, near Fermanagh street, a thirty year old lad named William Barr. On that day he was seen riding on a buckster wagon and his parents think the buckster enticed him away. The man was of medium size with black beard and wore a blue army overcoat and has not been seen in that neighborhood since. On the day of the boy's disappearance he wore clothes of a neutral color, rather well worn and a rusty black cap. The boy never exhibited harsh treatment at home and there is no reason to believe that he voluntarily ran away. The parents cannot afford to prosecute the proper search and exchanges will confer a favor by making a note of this.

JUDGE HALL, of Bedford, in taking cognizance of the forgeries committed by one J. S. Mower, a member of that bar, and his forfeiture of bail by flight, has this to say of the legal profession: "There is no profession requiring from the worthy member of it a higher standard of intellect, education and morality than the Law. A high-toned, honest and honorable Member of the Bar can be a very useful citizen—none more so. He can be a valued and reliable counselor to keep men out of lawsuits and difficulties; a useful member of his church, a leader in business enterprises of a public character, and education of the community, and in shaping public opinion aright in affairs of State. But an unprincipled lawyer can be a curse to a community. His opportunities for doing harm are immense. He can stir up strife, he can exemplify and inaugurate trickery and legal cheating and lower the standard of honor and morals in a community in a way that shows he is potent for evil. It is not often, however, that a lawyer undertakes to violate the letter of the law so as to make himself amenable to a criminal proceeding. Even when principle is in the scale, and cunning induces him to avoid the open doors of the penitentiary."

For SALE—A comfortable Frame House, and Good Lot, in this borough. Price $800. Two hundred dollars cash; balance on mortgage. Time to suit purchaser. For more definite information call at this office, or address the editor of this paper. Mr. J. C. Eyer, of Selingsgrove, loses about seven thousand dollars by the Shamokin bank failure.

Whoa! Donkey, Whoa! That's too bad, to go off in that way, and let a fellow down so hard over the news from New Hampshire. 'Tis true that State has gone largely Republican, and we get only one Congressman in her delegation, and that is bad enough, but still not so bad that you should give me such a "high-land" fling. Gracious! Goodness! How smilingly New Hampshire comes in overhead. Whoa! Donkey, Whoa!

The first exercise was music by the school, led by J. H. McEwen, (a member of the same, who has given the study of music considerable attention.) The opening piece was, "Ourly our Boat goes o'er the Sea." His Essay was well prepared, and read in a creditable manner. Selections were then read by Joseph H. Valentini and John Wharton. Master Harry Patterson then delivered a stirring speech. We were next favored with a piece of music by the school, entitled "Gathering Homeward."

Willie L. Wischnupf then read an excellent "Essay on Spring." He was followed by Willie Bender, Celine Evans, and Davie Bender, with Essays, which were creditable. Fritz Joseph, Millford, Varus Thomas, Monroe, Stewart James, Lark, Hansey Leonard, Lark, Banks Solomon, Millintown, Rioe John A. Turbett, Leonard John, Lark, Rodgers Alex, Fermanagh, Hopa Joseph, Beale, Ernest John, Patterson, Keppner Smith, Millford, Myers Christian, Tuscarora, McEwen James, Fayette, Smith James, Walker, Book Henry, Walker, McCran J. Turbett, Frankhouser Franklin, Walker, Hockenberry Christian, Tuscarora, Le ter G. W. Susquehanna, Hoffman John, Millintown, Hunsberger Eobrim, Walker, Rothrock Joseph, Fermanagh, Stong S. S. Fayette.

The exercises were then concluded with three pieces of music, entitled "Sunshine after Rain," "Our Back Upon the Stream," and "When a Prince Unlocks the Flowers." A vote of thanks was then tendered the singers for the excellent music rendered during the evening, after which the meeting adjourned, all being highly pleased with the evening's entertainment. IOTA.

On Saturday night at about 9 o'clock Washington Hill, about forty years of age, who, it is supposed was intoxicated got into his boat at Duncan's Island, a short distance above Duncannon, and went adrift on the river, and when opposite Duncannon the boat capsized. His cries for help were heard, but for some assistance could be had. On the 11th of March, 1876, a five year old son of David H. Smith, of Spring township, placed a bean in his ear, which the family physician of Mr. Smith was unable to extricate soon after the occurrence. In course of time the bean partly decayed and became so loose that it was removed with a piece of wire on last Thursday—almost a year after it had lodged in the ear of the child. The bean caused severe pain and beading in the head at times.

IOTA.

On Saturday night at about 9 o'clock Washington Hill, about forty years of age, who, it is supposed was intoxicated got into his boat at Duncan's Island, a short distance above Duncannon, and went adrift on the river, and when opposite Duncannon the boat capsized. His cries for help were heard, but for some assistance could be had. On the 11th of March, 1876, a five year old son of David H. Smith, of Spring township, placed a bean in his ear, which the family physician of Mr. Smith was unable to extricate soon after the occurrence. In course of time the bean partly decayed and became so loose that it was removed with a piece of wire on last Thursday—almost a year after it had lodged in the ear of the child. The bean caused severe pain and beading in the head at times.
