WORK AND WAIT.

BT JOAQUIN MILLER.

Forty days and forty nights. Biown about the broken waters. Noah and his errs and daughters Forty days they beat and blow-Forty days of faith, and lo The olive leaf, the lifted hights The rest at last, the calm delight

Forty days of sun and sand, Serpents, beasts, and wilderness Desolution and distress, War and famine, wail and woe-Forty years of faith, and lo ! The mighty Moses lifts a hand And shows at last the Promised Land.

Forty days to fast and pray, The patient Christ outworn defied The angry tempter at his side. Forty days or forty years Of patient sacrifice and tears-Lo! what are all of these the day That time has nothing more to say ?

Lift your horns, exult and blow, Beijeve and labor. Tree and vine Must flourish ere the fruit and wine Reward your planting. Round and round The rocky walls, with faith profound, The trumpets blew, blew loud, and lo! The tumbled walls of Jericho.

Beer in Africa.

Under the head of "Beer in Africa' a French journal publishes some infor mation which is rather amusing. Al mation which is rather smusing. At-most all the people of Africa, it sp pears, drink beer, but those who like this drink best are the Caffres. The female Caffres are the brewers of the lightful name of "utschualla." As corpulency is a sign of distinction among the Caffattening principles. As corpulency is a sign of distinction among the Caffres, one may imagine, says the French writer, what a vast quantity of beer is consumed by each gallant Caffre, so that he may rank among the dignitaries of the nation. Followers lower in the social scale have equally aristocratic tastes ; consequently, beer is an important item in the Ceffre establishment. The malt employed in the preparation of this beer is said not to be made of barley, but maize and millet. The grain is arranged for the purpose of germination, then it is roasted. The Caffre, we further learn, is indepenher claims. And with what spirit she would fight when openly chailenged. She was a whirlwind of pluck and valor, dent of the hop ; he has a substitute of his own which acts as an effectual "substitute." It seems, however that and not after one defeat or two defeats the Caffre proceeds quite methodically would she yield the championship. with his brewing, and does not appear to be much troubled by the phenom-The bess cow, when overcome, seems to ena of fermentation.
