The Emperor of Russia and all his sons are about to go into the fight personally. That's the way to maintain a throne. Its main stay is the army, and a king and his princes should all be masters at arms.

SENATOR MORTON is preparing a lecture in advocacy of a change in the manner of electing a President. The popular opinion in these parts is that the President should be elected by a majority vote, just as township or county officers are elected.

LAST week eight millions of six per cent. State securities were taken by citizens of the Commonwealth at a five per cent. The transaction was a fair exhibit of the confidence that is reposed in the State management by those who have money to loan.

How people will talk. They say that Mrs. Hayes dispenses with wine at dinner. If she does, what of it? Has she not the same rights of other people? But then they say that when the Grand Duke of Russia dined at the White House, she had wine in abundance at dinner. If she had, what of it? Has she not the same rights of other people? And to suit the people she entertains?

A MAN who has three living wives, was married the fourth time in New York the other day to a rich young lady. He passed himself as a rich man from California. He's not worth a dime—has nothing but three doped women. He wants one hundred thousand dollars from his last father-in-law to agree to a divorce. His father-in-law threatens to spend one hundred thousand dollars to have the fellow sent to jail.

It is proposed, in army circles, to recruit 1000 Sioux Indians for the regular army, drill and discipline them as regular soldiers are drilled and disciplined, and then use them in the Indian country. It is an experiment. The Indian takes naturally to arms, and who knows that he will not make a first-class civilized soldier. Who knows that he will not be taken with the pomp, parade, and circumstance of civilized army life.

Sending Ships by Rail. "Two side-wheel steamers, with their machinery, weighing 800 tons, have been carried by rail in twenty days across all this continent from New York to San Francisco, and are to run in San Francisco Bay as soon as they are put together."

162 Presbyterians of New Jersey have just dispersed of an interesting case before their ecclesiastical bodies, in the charges of heresy against the Rev. John Miller, in that he has written a book, which is calculated to throw doubt on the doctrines of the immortality of the soul, and on the existence of the Trinity. The conclusion of the trial was reached on Friday last, and the verdict is found in the following expression of Presbytery:

We charge Mr. Miller with publicly denying and assailing important doctrines of the Confession of Faith, and the Catechism of our church.

Resolved, That Mr. Miller be and is hereby suspended from the ministry of the Presbyterian Church until such time as he shall make manifest to the satisfaction of the Presbytery his renunciation of the errors he holds and his solemn purpose no longer to promulgate them.

He teaches: First, That the soul is not immortal; that at the death of the body it dies and becomes extinct until the resurrection.

Second, That Christ, as a child of Adam, was personally accounted guilty of Adam's sin; that, like other children of Adam, he inherited a corrupt nature, and that he needed to be and was redeemed by His own death.

Third, That there is but one person in the Godhead.

Mr. Miller said it was simply a moral, intellectual impossibility for him to renounce his views, and gave notice of an appeal to the synod.

Learned Trades. The Crown Prince of Germany is a compositor by trade, and Emperor Wilhelm is a glazier, though he has not practiced his profession for a number of years. All the Prussian princes have to learn some handicraft, not in order to provide against hard times, but that they learn the feelings of the common people. User Fritz has never worked at the case more than eight hours a day, and never can be persuaded by his employers to do so.

Saved from a Trial in Court. At Cedar City, Mo., on the 3d inst., while Jack Graves, a negro, charged with raping Mrs. Henry McAuliffe, was being taken to jail, he was shot dead by the husband of Mrs. McAuliffe.

A Weak Brother. Penn, the founder of Pennsylvania, abhorred smoking. His Quaker council one day, observing him approach, laid down their pipes. "I am glad to see," said Penn, "you are ashamed of that vile habit." "Not at all," returned a principal friend, "we only laid them down lest we should offend a weak brother."

After Clipping did not Recognize Each Other.

A gentleman of Bourbon, says the Kentuckian, had a fine buck imported from England at a cost of $100. It aimed to butt another sheep, but the other sheep dodged, and the costly sheep's head struck a gate-post and killed him. They had just been sheared and didn't recognize each other, hence the butting.

Easy Courtship. Courtship is a very simple matter in the Andaman Islands. The bridegroom eats a certain kind of rayfish, which gives him the appellation of "bachelor desirous of marrying." When he is ready to take a wife, he sits beside a marriageable maiden and stares at her. Then the bride's father or guardian joins the hands of the pair, and they disappear from the village, plunging into the depths of the forest, and remaining away several days.

False Hair. The disadvantages of wearing false hair were painfully illustrated at Minersville, Pa., the other day. A boat in which two young ladies and two young men were passengers, capsized suddenly, and one of the ladies sank out of sight. As she reappeared one of the men grasped her hat, which came off. The lady sank, and on her second appearance fared no better, for this time the frightened youth caught her by her hair, which, being false, came off in his hands, and down she went again. At last, however, she was caught by her real hair and dragged aboard the boat, after having had what may properly be called a hairbreadth escape.

Hanged Himself. On the 22d of March, says the Lancaster Examiner, a tramp about sixty years of age, called at the residence of Abraham Huber, in Warwick township, and asked for a night's lodging, which was refused, as Mr. Huber had already several tramps in the house, told him he might sleep in the barn. He went away and shortly afterward it was found that he had attempted to commit suicide by hanging and he was cut down, his hands and feet tied and kept over night. In the morning he was committed to prison by Squire Tabody for thirty days. After his term of imprisonment had expired he called on John Pfautz, near Litz, for supper and after supper he applied to several different places for lodging, but was refused. He then went the farm of Jonas H. Hess and with a strap hung himself to the limb of a tree. Deputy Coroner H. H. Holman was sent for, who summoned a jury and proceeded to hold an inquest. In his value were found two German bibles bearing the name of Jacob Bemberger.

William Machamer, a former resident of the upper part of Berks county, was murdered in St. Joseph county, Michigan, April 7th. He was on his way home from a neighboring town, when he was attacked by a gang of murderers, who beat him terribly, robbed him and left him lying with his throat cut in his buggy. Mr. Machamer was married to Miss Caroline Merkel, of Berks county, and soon after removed west. The family have an extensive relationship in Berks county.

Slippage with an Artillery Officer—A Bit of Scandal in Washington Society.

Mother rumor is still rolling under her tongue as a sweet moral, a bit of scandal, which was one of the society events of the winter, but which was not chronicled in any of the society journals. Before the troops were ordered away from the arsenal there was a dashing young officer stationed there with his regiment. There was also a handsome young lady, a wife and mother up town. Her husband placed the utmost confidence in her constancy. The wife apparently was wholly devoted to her husband. They lived together with her mother on 6th street. She had a phaeton, in which she frequently drove on the Avenue. Sometimes she took some of her admirers to drive with her, her husband being too wise to be jealous, as he thought. Finally the young officer appeared at her side, but nothing was thought of it more than that a gallant he was paying harmless devotion at the shrine of love. Then a dark day came. When the husband came home the wife was not there, but he dismissed all fears, with the reflection that she had frequently stayed away from home all day with some of her friends. Night came on and the wife and her child still remained away. Inquiry was made, and the last that could be heard of her was that she had been seen leaving the house, with the little boy by the back gate that morning. It is also a curious fact, perhaps having some significance, that the young officer was seen waiting about in the neighborhood for some time. Since that day inquiry has been fruitless. Neither the officer, the wife, or the child, have been heard from. They eloped.—Washington Republican.

TERRIBLE LANDSLIDE.

Ten Persons Buried Alive by a Slide on the Veillet River, Canada—Course of the River Changed.

MONTREAL, May 3.—A terrible landslide is reported on the bank of the river Veillet, a tributary of the Batiscan, in the parish of St. Genevieve, one hundred miles east of this city. At the point where the slide occurred the bank is eighty feet high. Over an acre of land moved, burying the saw and grist mill and a house at the foot of the hill, and turning the course of the river. It is positively asserted that ten persons were buried alive. The bodies of Mrs. Massicotte, wife of the owner of the mill, her three children, aged three, seven and twelve, Mr. Cloutier, the father of R. W. Cloutier, of Three Rivers, have been taken from the ruins hardly recognizable.

THE POPE'S SOLILOQUY.

By my Crook and Staff—If a man looks as he feels, I must have an honest look, for I am in an honest feeling, of I don't know how to talk to my people on the question of the Eastern War. How queer that I should claim to have the keys of the doors to both Heaven and Hell and be infallible and still not know what to do or say. What! I the Viceroy of God on earth, and not know what to do. Why I claim to know all things, and yet just here, I don't know what to say, whether for the Infidel Turk, or for the Heretical Cross of the Greek Church of the Russians. It is an honest confession of the Pope to himself. I feel honest just now, and I know I look honest. But what if my people should know how this question of perplexity explodes my infallibility.

Newcomb, who died in 1874, and whose estate was worth over a million. In order to marry her at his old age, he procured an act of the Legislature divorcing him from his wife, which is fresh in the minds of the people as one of the most celebrated records, resulted in the declaration that this second marriage was illegal, and that his insane wife, having never been judicially declared insane, was entitled to dower. Twice thus has this second wife married wealthy old men.
