It has a population of over 15,000 inhabitants, of which only about a third are Christians. The houses are built of sun-dried bricks in the usual style of modern Turkish towns, and plastered over inside and out with a sort of dark clay, which gives the place a sombre appearance perfectly in keeping with the character of its people. We think that the power of money is, on the whole, overestimated. The greatest things which were done for the world have not been accomplished of manual laborers in point of worldly circumstances. And it will always be so. Riches are oftener an impediment than a stimulus to action; and in many cases they are quite as much a misfortune as a blessing. The youth who inherits wealth is apt to have life made too easy for him, and so grows sated with it, because he has nothing left to struggle for, he finds time too heavy on his hands; remains mentally and more ally asleep; and his position in society is often no higher than that of a poly-

The Centre of Vitality.

The teentre of Vitality.

The life of the flesh and the brain, the bones and the muscles, is the blood. It is the centre of vitality, the nutriment of the system. Not only must it be pure, but rich, in order to retain health. In the feeble and devitalized, the life current is watery and its circulation singgish. The muscles of such persons lack solidity, the nerves are weak, the visage haggard, and the eye instreless. A course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, however, improves not only the health but the appearance of the debilitated and nervous. Nutrition then becomes complete because digestion receives an impetus from this benignant tonic, which fertilizes the blood, brings back "the rose tint of health" to the wan check, brightness to the eye, and gives power of endurance ness to the eye, and gives power of endurance to the muscle. Invalids, hasten to use it!

Pork and Apple Pir.—Cut fat pickled pork in very thin slices, line a deep dish with rich paste, put in a layer of pared and sliced tart apples, then a layer of the thin slices of pork, season with cinnamon, a little butter and sugar, then a layer of apples, pork, and seasoning, and so on till the dish is full. Pour over this a cup of sherry or white wine and cover with paste. Bake slowly for at least one hour. This will be found excellent.

Shorther Smith," said a doleful looking indiaidual, "my mind is in a very unsettled state. I don't know but I have had a call to preach." "O never mind," said that sympathizing brother, "I wouldn't worry about it, if I was in your place, for like enough you won't hear it ag'in this forty years."

LIGHTNING struck a hive of bees in Kansas the other day. The painful story is soon told. The misguided lightning came out of that hive quicker than it went in and shot off into space with its tall between its legs. Moral—Never pick a quarrel when you are not acquainted with the folks.
