The Attack on the President.

W. E. Chandler Charges that There Were Two Bargains.

In Agreement with Both Republicans and Democrats—The Parties Agreeing to Permit the Way for a Congressional Investigation.

A despatch from Washington, D. C., under date of last Wednesday, December 26, says: Hon. W. E. Chandler, the New Hampshire member of the Republican National Committee, addressed an open letter to the Republicans of New Hampshire, in which he makes a number of explicit and interesting statements concerning alleged bargains made during the electoral contest...

The letter is therefore mainly devoted to a recapitulation of President Hayes' acts and utterances in the line of the so-called unethical policy. Mr. Chandler says among other things: As the policy of the Democratic party was to be carried out in the south a southern Confederate General, Dr. M. M. Key, a Democrat, had proposed to him to be elected to the Senate...

Mr. Chandler proceeds to state that Gov. Hayes not only pledged himself to protect to the full extent of the Federal power, life, suffrage and political rights in the south, but was counted in as President only by reason of special pledges given by Senator Sherman and other Ohio emissaries, who particularly and emphatically promised that they would guarantee the loyal State governments of South Carolina and Louisiana, and stand by Governors Chamberlain and Packard.

Mr. Chandler amplifies these statements at considerable length, and proceeds to make charges as follows: Wisdom and honor, therefore, it seems to us, clearly required that President Hayes should maintain his own rightness of title and stand by the men and principles of his party.

Personal.

One year ago, when Senator Conkling was reported to favor Mr. Tilden's case, he was in high favor among Democrats.

People are getting back to an old standpoint on the question of drunkenness. They are dropping the mistaken sympathy for the drunkard, and declaring that to get drunk is a disgrace, and the fellow who disgraces himself and the community in which he lives by getting drunk and appearing in that condition shall be punished by act of Assembly, which imposes a fine of $200 on every one found drunk on the streets.

Mr. I. C. Marks created quite a stir among his sixty-odd common school scholars by treating them to candy, on Christmas day.

On Christmas day E. S. Doty presented a book to Rev. E. E. Berry. The title of the book is, "The Origin of the World according to Revelation and Science," written by J. W. Dawson.

The first colored man in this place who signed the Murphy Temperance pledge, is Cyrus Morrison. When he walked down the aisle of the church to record his name, he was loudly cheered, and suddenly, as if he had forgotten something, when midway on his return to a seat, he stopped, looked back, and said, "Good by, mine pies."
