

Pennsylvania Legislature.

The machinery of the Legislature has again been put in motion, as may be learned by the following:

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1878.

The following bills were introduced: Giving the several courts of quarter sessions of the peace jurisdiction to inquire of, hear, determine and punish all persons charged with the first offense of receiving or buying stolen goods or chattels knowing the same to have been stolen.

For the relief of Mary Harris, widow of the soldier of 1812. To amend and consolidate the several acts relating to game and game fish. Supplement to an act to authorize chattel mortgages on lumber, iron and coal in bulk and in iron cans, tank cars, iron ore mined and prepared for use, manufactured slate, and canal boats, authorizing chattel mortgages on printing presses, type, type stands, printers' and book binders' machinery, and engines and boilers used in connection with the same.

To extend the jurisdiction of justices of the peace to $300. Authorizing and empowering the courts of common pleas to change, alter and direct the mode of preparing and keeping indices in the several offices of record, and for preparing, making and substituting new indices for old indices.

Authorizing the assignment and satisfaction of record and validating former satisfaction of records by married women, of mortgages belonging to them; also giving married women power to purchase and sell all kinds of real and personal estate, with power to mortgage, pledge, loan or otherwise dispose of the same.

Providing for the better enforcement of moneyed decrees in equity. To repeal the act to provide for the appointment of a special detective officer in any of the several counties; also, to provide for the bringing of actions against a married woman where the husband has deserted or separated himself from and living out of the county in which she resides.

The following bills were considered on second reading: To make the misstatement of the business or affairs of a corporation by its directors, managers or officers a penal offense. Passed with amendment.

Confirmatory of the conveyances of real estate. Passed with amendments. To repeal an act to authorize the Governor to appoint a sealer of weights and measures in the several counties of this Commonwealth.

To enable married women whose husbands are lunatics to dispose of their separate real estates. Passed with amendments.

Mr. Herr, from the joint committee to investigate the convict labor system, made report. Laid on the table.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1878.

The following bills were reported favorably: Providing for the incorporation of pipe line companies. Enabling mechanics to amend their liens.

Enlarging the jurisdiction of the court of common pleas relative to grant charters of incorporation to mutual, savings fund, land, loan and building associations and confirming charters heretofore granted.

Permitting defendants to testify in criminal cases. Permitting surviving partners to testify to matters having occurred between the surviving partners, plaintiffs and defendants.

Providing for the bringing of actions against a married woman when the husband shall have deserted or separated himself from her and is absent from and being out of the county in which she resides.

Exempting druggists and their clerks from service as jurors. Creating a middle penitentiary district and providing for the erection of a penitentiary.

Authorizing the State Treasurer to pay the necessary expenses incident to the calling out of the National Guard to suppress the riot in July and August. The bill has been amended to provide for an expenditure of $610,000 instead of $615,000.

The bill providing for the holding of all the sessions of the Supreme Court at Harrisburg was reported negatively.

The following bills were introduced: Providing for appointment of Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Repealing the stay law. For the protection of fish in the waters of Lake Erie and adjacent streams.

Permitting fishing with nets. To provide for an appeal to the Supreme Court in contested elections of courts of record wherein constitutional questions are involved.

Declaratory of the laws relating to collateral inheritance taxes as respects the personality of a lien or non-resident decedent; also, to protect religious liberty, excepting persons who observe the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath from the penalties of the law of 1874.

Granting pensions to Carrie Virginia Arb, widow of Lient J. Dorsey Arb, fatally wounded at Pittsburg during the riots.

Prescribing the proceedings and penalties in case of failure to keep roads in repair.

To limit the liability of joint tenants and tenants in common operating and mining upon lands held by them.

A resolution was offered and adopted, authorizing the appointment of a committee of three to prepare a statement of all banks or institution of any kind holding charters of incorporation under the authority of the State, authorizing said institutions to loan money at higher rates of interest than is allowed by the general law, fixing the rate of interest and embracing in said statement the name or title of each such institution, where located, when incorporated, and the extent of its powers under the said act of incorporation as to rates of interest.

The following bills were considered on third reading: To make the misstatement of the business or affairs of a corporation by its directors, managers or officers, a penal offense. Passed.

Confirmatory of the conveyances of real estate. Passed.

Appropriating $5,000 to the House for the Friends at Harrisburg. Appropriating $30,000 to hospital for the insane at Danville, Pa.

Appropriating $34,000 to St. Francis Hospital at Pittsburg.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1878.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M. Mr. Gutz moved that the House appoint a second committee to confer with the Senate and settle the question whether legislation shall begin anew, or whether the unfinished business shall be taken up where it was left off at the end of the session of 1877. A spirited and rapid debate sprang up, and the subject finally resolved itself into accepting one of two propositions, viz., either that offered by Mr. Jackson (Mercer), "that old business be taken up resumed," or an amendment of Mr. Oshorn (Philadelphia), "that no business pending at the close of 1877 should be taken up unless reintroduced."

Mr. Oshorn's amendment was adopted by 94 yeas to 87 nays, and the resolution as thus modified was passed by 97 yeas to 84 nays. This settles the question, and invalidates all the unfinished legislation of 1877.

Numerous bills were reported favorably from committees, among them the following: House bill No. 26, authorizing Recorders of Philadelphia to be appointed for ten years and to select four mercantile appraisers; House bill No. 28, repealing the act by which Occident avenue was placed on the public plan at Philadelphia; House bill No. 37, permitting the electors of Philadelphia and of each county to vote every two years on the question of granting licenses to sell intoxicating liquors.

The Federal Relations Committee reported the following favorably: Resolved, That it is the sense of this House that the bill to repeal the third section of the Resumption act now pending in Congress ought to become a law.

In all seventy-five bills were favorably reported from the different committees.

A large number of bills were introduced and referred, after which the House adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1878.

Among the bills reported affirmatively from committees were the following: The general appropriation bill: An act to appropriate $40,000 to the State lunatic hospital at Harrisburg. For stay of execution for two years. Authorizing common carriers to sell unclaimed goods upon which they may have a lien.

Providing the manner in which the courts may divide boroughs and wards. To provide for boards of arbitration between employees.

The bill for the erection of a penitentiary at Harrisburg for the middle counties was reported with a negative recommendation.

The following bills were introduced: Repealing so much of the act for the relief of the orphans of deceased soldiers as provides that the children remaining under the care of the State shall be discharged on the 31st day of May, 1879.

Appropriating $18,900 for salaries etc., of managers and teachers of soldiers' orphans' houses, and same ranging from $100 to $117 for support, etc., of each orphan admitted to home. The whole amount appropriated not to exceed $90,000.

Appropriating $11,300 for current expenses of Board of Public Charities.

To repeal an act incorporating the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

To enable county, township and borough tax collectors to collect taxes for which they have become personally liable.

Appropriating $5,000 to the House for the Friends at Harrisburg. Appropriating $30,000 to hospital for the insane at Danville, Pa.

Appropriating $34,000 to St. Francis Hospital at Pittsburg.

Appropriating $69,250 to the Eastern Penitentiary for salaries, etc., and $10 to $15 for each discharged convict.

Supplement to an act relating to mechanics' liens. Fixing the fees of aldermen, justices constables, jurors and witnesses.

To promote the improvement of real estate by exempting mortgages and other securities from taxation except for State purposes.

To investigate all cruelties that may exist in all public institutions in this State.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1878.

Among the bills favorably reported from committee were the following: To provide for the completion of the Ohio river improvements. Making an appropriation to pay a mortgage on the Pennsylvania Agricultural College.

Making an appropriation for the expenses of the Board of Public Charities. For the relief of J. Murray Morehead.

Prohibiting banks and banking institutions from paying interest on deposits. For the repeal of an act extending the Bloomburg election law to the borough of Chambersburg.

To provide for the compulsory education of children. For the more effectual prevention of mobs and riots—making each county liable for losses sustained therein from mobs.

Fixing salaries of Judges—Allegheny and Philadelphia courts, $7,000; of Judges of Second Judicial District, $5,500; of Twelfth Judicial District, $5,900; of Twenty-fourth District, 4,000 and of Third, Eleventh, Fifteenth, Twentieth and Forty-third Districts at $5,000 each, and all others $4,000 except Associate Judges, who shall receive $5 per diem.

The following bills were introduced: An act to change the form of acknowledgements of deeds by husband and wife.

To facilitate and cheapen the collection of certain judgments less than $50 in amount.

To change the time of holding the general election in this Commonwealth to the second Tuesday of October.

To amend the game laws. To prevent pool selling.

To extend the provisions of an act providing additional remedies against trustees.

To provide for the better support of teachers' institutes.

To establish the rate of interest and punish usury.

Appropriating $500,000 to normal schools in sums of $100,000 per annum.

To provide for the selection of a site for a hospital for the insane for the counties of Cambria, Indiana, Westmoreland and Somerset.

Mr. Hahn moved that special sessions of the House be held on Thursday evening of each week to consider local bills. Agreed to.

Debate on motion to bring Mr. Bullard, who is under arrest on a criminal charge, before the House, which resulted in this: Resolved, That the Sergeant-at-Arms be ordered to retain O. F. Bullard in his custody to be produced before the Judiciary Committee General at such times and places as may be ordered by said committee, and further to abide the action of this House.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1878.

A number of petitions were presented, among them several praying for the re-enactment of the local option law.

Among the bills reported favorably from committees were the following: An act fixing the salaries of judges of the Supreme Court.

For the further extension of the Port Warden line on the river Delaware.

Appropriating $400,000 to the Western Penitentiary, in four equal annual payments.

Making an appropriation of $100,000 to the State Normal schools, 1878, said amount to be a lien upon school property in favor of the Commonwealth.

To prevent pool selling. Prohibiting the admission of minors into billiard and bowling saloons in cities of the third class.

For the prevention of drunkenness, punishing persons found under the influence of ardent spirits by a fine of $5, and fixing policemen $25 for failure to arrest in all cases of drunkenness coming to their knowledge.

For the punishment of cruelty to children. The following bills were introduced: To repeal an act authorizing the Governor to appoint sealers of weights and measures.

To extend the jurisdiction of justices of the peace.

CHURCHES.

It is estimated that the property held by the Roman Catholic bishops of this country aggregates one hundred and ten millions of dollars in value, nearly all of which is untaxed.

New York State contains 6,243 churches, with a seating capacity of 2,587,470. The clergymen of the State have an average salary of eight hundred and thirty-nine dollars a year.

Scottish Presbyterianism is making considerable progress in London. The Roman Catholic Church is stronger than all the others in San Francisco.

The Rev. Luther Hasley, D. D., is now a resident of Hampton, N. J., and is in the eighty-fourth year of his age. He still preaches occasionally.

A debt of Christ M. E. Church, Pittsburg, amounting to $1500, was raised last Sunday at the rate of $100 per minute.

The Methodist Lutheran Church, Pittsburg, has extended a unanimous call to Rev. Dr. John McIron, of Bloomsburg.

The Sunday-School of Dr. Eggleston's Church of the Christian Endeavor Brooklyn, numbers over one thousand children.

Rev. J. Hoberle, of Titusville has entered on his duties as pastor of St. Paul's reformed Church, Pittsburg.

There are now 900 missionaries and ordained native pastors in India, exclusive of Burma and Ceylon.

The Methodist preachers of Newark, N. J., at a recent meeting discussed the question: "Is the belief in future punishment on the decline in the theistic churches?" The discussion showed that difference of opinion existed among those present in regard to a literal "hell fire." The subject is to come up again.

Rev. James Trimble, a Baptist minister of Maine, has fallen heir to $200,000.

FOREIGN.

The Queen sympathizes with the Sultan. To day King Alfonso of Spain will be married.

Five thousand six hundred and seven men sailed in France during 1877.

King Alfonso has reformed. He is not a man of war.

St. Paul's African expedition cost $115,000 and discovered 15,000,000 uncultured Africans. The Worcester Press thinks six heathens for five cents extremely reasonable.

Russia has 12,000 miles of railway nearly all built since 1868.

Russian troops were supplied with $177,444.74 worth of tobacco last year.

The Turks are beginning to fear that the Russians intend to push on to the capital. The defense of Adrianople will, probably, not be attempted. The remaining Turkish forces will be rallied at a moment's notice.

The utmost terror and disorganization prevail throughout the country between Philadelphia and Constantinople.

Basic sticks continue to crowd toward the capital by thousands. The Turkish government and the English Relief Committee have great difficulty to prevent wholesale loss of life from hunger and exposure.

Gen. Garibaldi has written to King Humbert I, begging him to follow in his father's footsteps.

Mr. George H. Baker, the United States minister at St. Petersburg, handed the Emperor yesterday his letters of recall, and Mr. E. W. Stoughton, who succeeds Mr. Baker presented his credentials to his majesty.

Late advices of the suffering in China caused by the famine are appalling. People of all ages are dying of actual starvation by thousands. The famine extends over a district which includes at least five thousand villages, and is said at least five hundred die daily. Houses are pulled down in every village to sell the timber and thatch in order to get food. Those who can get hucks and dry leaves, ordinarily used for fuel, are considered well off. Most of the poor young girls have been sold; old men, middle aged men and young men and children die daily of sheer starvation, and others freeze. The dead cannot get a burial; they are too many, and none can afford the expense; they are cast daily into large pits.

The people at Shanai are said to be living on the corpses of their fellow-brothers who die of starvation. And the strong are killing the weak for the sake of obtaining their flesh for food.

FIRES.

Mrs. Cavanaugh, the wife of a well known citizen of Martin's Ferry, O., came to a horrible end on Wednesday the 16th inst. While putting coal on an open grate her dress caught fire, and as she was alone in the house she was so burned that she died in a few hours. The fire on her lower limbs, arms and neck was literally roasted and fell from the bones when she moved. Her agony was beyond description. Death fortunately soon came to end it.

A fire on the 18th inst., destroyed J. W. Clarke's residence on Oakton near Salisbury. Loss $15,000; insured.

Jessup's packing house, at Waterloo, Iowa, was burned on Wednesday. Loss $30,000; insurance, $15,000.

Archie Seals returned to Waynesburg the other day a wealthy man after an absence of twenty two years, and that place is now agitated owing to his mysterious disappearance.

The new pudding mill at Logan, Mifflin county, will soon begin operations. The latest baby show fizzle occurred in St. Louis.

Colonel Wm. H. Ward, formerly of Norfolk, Va., but now of the Egyptian army, is stationed on the Suez Canal, where he commands an important post. The future Mayor of Old City will receive $600 per annum.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville, of North Carolina, have a family of twenty-five sons. Out of the 293 Representatives in Congress but one is Irish-born, viz., Mr. Patterson of Colorado.

Mr. Owen Driesbach was instantly killed at Stiegfried's bridge, near Bethlehem by a Lehigh and Susquehanna freight train while attempting to cross the track, on Thursday.

The fault of the peach crop is already predicted. Never too early to predict!

Hats are larger and bonnets smaller than ever. It is not etiquette among prisoners to ask a man what he is "in for."

Montgomery county farmers are going to try tobacco raising. A despatch from Danville Illinois says: The Danville Banking and Trust company has closed its doors. It is stated that its only assets are bonds of the Paris and Danville railroad, which was built by the bank. If this is correct, the depositors will be out about $300,000. The bank's condition has not, however, been officially made public.

A special from Carlinville, Ill., says Messrs. Chestnut and Dubois, bankers, have made an assignment to John Rogers. The assets and liabilities cannot be stated, but it is said all the debts will be paid.

The bankers of Buffalo, N. Y., have unanimously resolved to co-operate with the banks of New York city in an action they may take to oppose the Bland Silver bill.

An organized gang of thieves who have infested Clarion county for several months, were surprised and captured recently. Judge Jermiah Black has a great dislike to ordering from a bill of fare when at dinner and his usual direction to an attendant is: "Bring me anything that is proper for a civilized being to eat."

The Irish potatoes stored by New Jersey farmers are rotting. A farmer near Woodtown has carried out and thrown in his fields 700 bushels.

Isaac G. Dunkle was killed by Jacob Finetrick during a quarrel between the two at McAllister's Ferry Martie township, Lancaster county recently.

Philip Callender was the victor in a lawsuit against a man named Connelly Plymouth, on Friday. In the evening, when near Hemlock creek on his way home Callender was shot, receiving a home from which he died yesterday morning. His son had a narrow escape a bullet having passed through his hat.

Euma Scheetz, who attempted to poison her husband at Lancaster last July, has just been arrested in Maryland and returned to trial.

Two burglars named Robert Fishburne and Walter S. Harley, of Waterbury, S. C., fought a duel with revolvers near Savannah, Ga., on Saturday a week. Harley received a fatal wound. Fishburne escaped.

A despatch relative to the same duel, under date of the 16th inst., says: Walter S. Harley, the duelist, died yesterday morning. An inquest was held upon the body, and the verdict was that the deceased came to his death from a gun-shot wound, inflicted by some person unknown to the jury. This is the second member of this family who has lost his life in a duel. Thomas Harley, his brother, was one of a large party of Southerners who moved from Charleston to Texas at the close of the war. He had been in Texas but a short time before he became involved in a quarrel. A duel was the result, and Thomas Harley received a wound from which he died soon afterward. Col. Harley, the father of the family, was known as an uncommonly passionate man. At one time he became engaged at one of his female slaves, and at once sold all her children to punish her. In her sorrow and anger she cursed her master, telling him that the children of a man so merciless as he would surely come to some bad end. Walter, the son who has just been killed, was commonly considered the best member of the family.
