

Subscription, $1.50 per annum, in paid...

PENNA. R. R. TIME TABLE.

On and after Monday, June 25th, 1877, passenger trains will leave Mifflin Station...

Democratic State Convention. The Democratic State Convention, that convened at Pittsburg last week...

Public lands are the common property of the people, and they should not be sold to speculators...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

The Republican party, controlling the legislation of the State, has refused to execute many of the reforms...

Through investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished.

SHORT LOCALS.

The Legislature has adjourned. Shad fishing at Newport is brisk.

The Road took a jump to upper Tuscarora last Friday.

Go to Todd's for the latest style of Hats and Caps.

The frost killed the cherries, plums and grapes in and about Altoona.

Rev. John Laird preached in the Presbyterian church in this place on last Sabbath.

Judge Bentley has declined to be the candidate of the Nationals for the office of Supreme Judge.

A number of the youth of the town practice boxing with gloves, in the office of Dr. Darwin Crawford, deceased.

Distemper in horses can be prevented by using Fouse's Horse and Cattle Powders before the disease reaches your stable.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Lutheran church in this place on next Sabbath a week, June 9.

Peter Herdic's property has been subjected to writ upon by the sheriff until its ownership has become a subject for the courts to settle.

The Democratic State Convention had about the average percentage of good and bad men in it, but it was not by any means a mob.

A young lady rebuking asks us, "Which is worse—to be laid to rest or to be laid to rest?" We give it up; we never laid—Elinor Gosselle.

William Van Sweringen's store, at Bealeton, was robbed of between one and two hundred dollars' worth of store goods, on a night last week.

Archery shooting with bow and arrow is coming to the front as a favorite amusement. Tyrone has an archery club, many members.

The United Brethren people of Altoona district will hold a Sunday-school convention at Canoe Creek on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 18 and 19.

J. F. Hoover, who has opened a watch and clock and jewelry repairing shop at East Point, is crowded with work. He is said to be a skilled workman.

J. B. M. Todd has received a full supply of Summer Clothing, which he is selling cheap.

Last Thursday a tornado passed through the central part of Mineral Point, Wis., and tore down many houses. Other places were visited by the storm. Thirty people were killed.

A number of men are talking about employing private watchmen to patrol their premises with loaded weapons at night. It will not improve a fellow's health to get on such diggings after dark.

Figure by the "rule of three." If the Democracy can file three hundred millions Southern claims in one branch of Congress, how many millions can they file and pass and pay with two branches of Congress?

A witness, on being cross examined lately, swore that he was in the habit of associating with every grade of society, from lawyers up. The lawyer who "had him in hand" gasped out, "That's all," and sat down.—Boston Transcript.

$2.50 cash will buy one quarter barrel of No. 2 macerated, at J. B. M. Todd's, or bacon will be taken in exchange at 7 cents per pound.

A friend in Florida sent J. A. Brown, a citizen of Huntington, a live alligator. A nice present, indeed; but an elephant would have been just as nice. However, it is an affair between Mr. Reed and Mr. Brown, and therefore suggestions are out of order.

The verdict of the jury in the Gallagher case, that was on trial before Judge Rowe, at Chambersburg, was in favor of Mrs. Gallagher. Mrs. Gallagher and her brother, John Wright, Esq., came home from Chambersburg, on Saturday, in a special car. They arrived here at 6:00 P. M.

A. J. Christy, Esq., had a light stroke of paralysis to touch him at the breakfast table in Chambersburg, while there as a witness, last week. H. T. McAlister, Esq., accompanied Mr. Christy home from Chambersburg. He has almost entirely recovered from the effects of the stroke.

One of Todd's stylish white horses threw Harry Woodmansee out of his saddle, a few days ago, at East Point. The unhorsing was nicely done, and Harry passed the ordeal without wincing. He arose from the ground smilingly, and remounted the animal and rode away as if nothing unusual had taken place.

An exchange says: To change red hair to light or yellow, put a heaped tablespoonful of baking soda or saleratus in a quart of water, and wash the head and hair with it. Do this three or four times a week, and the hair will become silky and light. Of course the darker the hair the longer time it will require to bleach it.

Some nights ago the family of Rev. Mr. Wilson in Port Royal were aroused by an unusual noise about the premises. An investigation into the cause revealed the fact that some party had made an effort to enter the house by cutting the putty out of a window sash around a pane of glass. After the discovery of the work on the window, a strict watch was kept up on a couple of men who skulked around the house, but they made no demonstration on the building. The yard gate in the morning was found propped open by a pair of heavy shoes. The shoes were identified as a pair that had been left at a blacksmith shop, near Herdic's store, to have iron "heel-naps" put on.

On Saturday night or Sunday night, May 25 or 26, 1878, the following articles were stolen from the Jewelry Store of J. W. Wagner, in this place: one American Gold Watch Case, one open-face Silver Case, one Ladies Gold Case with Elery movement in it—this case has a bird engraved on the front lid; one Silver American Watch, (24-hr.) owned by Michael Stoner; one Silver Swiss Patent Lever Watch (24-hr.) belonging to ex-Sheriff London; one old Silver Case that will be sold for old silver—the bezel is broken to pieces; one Gold open-face case, one Gold-plated Swiss Watch, one Gold-plated Gold Case, owned by Postmaster Stamps. Also one hundred 3-cent postage stamps and fifty 1-cent stamps were taken. The articles enumerated were taken from their proper places in the Post Office room, in the one side of which Wagner does business as watchmaker and jeweler. The entrance it is believed was made by shoving up the lower sash of a window in the southeast corner of the room. A store-box stood against the wall under the window. On the box were a number of clocks. One of the clocks was standing outside of the building alongside of the window; the others seemingly had not been displaced. Highly finished knives, silver spoons, and valuable jewelry were left untouched in the show-cases.

Philadelphia Markets. Philadelphia Markets, as per report of William Bell, wholesale commission merchant, and dealer in general produce, Pier 11, North Wharves, above Race Street—Saturday, May 25, 1878.

Grain—Wheat, Penna. and Delaware red $1.27, Western red $1.29, Amber $1.29, White $0.90; Rye, Western and Penna. $0.90; Corn, yellow and mixed $0.55; Oats, Penna., Western and Southern $0.30.

Seeds—Cloverseed, prime to choice, fed to good; Timothy, seed $1.25; Flaxseed $1.25.

Live Calves and Sheep—Prime Milch Calves per lb. 6c, fair to good 4c; Sheep, Prime per lb. 4c, fair, per head $2.50, Spring $2.00 per head.

Potatoes—Peach Blows, N. Y. State, per barrel $1.50, Early Rose, per bbl $1.75, Prime Albers, per bbl $2.00, Peerless $2.00. New potatoes, $2.50-3.00 per bbl.

Poultry—Chickens, winter, 15 to 20c, spring 20c-25c per lb.; Turkeys 10c; Ducks 10c; Geese 10c-12c.

Produce—Butter 50c-55c; Eggs 10c-15c. Apples—Choice N. Y. State, per bbl $5.00, prime N. Y. State, per bbl $4.50, Peerless $4.00. Feathers—Choice Late Geese 45c, Prime do. 35c, Mixed, good $2.00.

Vegetable—New Cabbage, $1.00-1.75 per bbl; Green peas $2.00 per bbl; Cucumbers $2.00 per bbl.

Straw—Choice 15c per quart, 16c to 20c. Strawberries, per quart, 40c to 60c.

Neighboring News.

MIFFLIN COUNTY, AS PER LEWISTOWN PAPERS.

James Wiley has taken the contract for lighting the street lamps in Lewistown at $90.00.

The Mifflin County Fair will be held on the 24th, 25th, 26th and 27th of September, with a premium list of about $2,700.

A coal oil lamp exploded in a grocery store in Lewistown a few nights ago. The fire was put out by throwing coal ashes over the floor.

The Gazette says: The barn on the tenant farm of John Preston, in Decatur township, was consumed by fire last Friday night, about eleven o'clock. From the fact that a calf, that was chained fast to the back stable, was loosened and driven out of the doomed structure, it is evident the contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the time, it is evident the ignition was of incendiary origin. The contents were destroyed. Five hundred dollars insurance on the building, in favor of Mr. Preston. Loss not ascertained.

About 12 o'clock Monday night, during a heavy thunder-storm, the barn of John Cupples, in Ferguson's Valley, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The tenant jumping from his bed immediately upon hearing the report, and, looking out, saw the flames bursting forth from one of the mows, which contained eight or ten tons of hay. There was no stock in the barn at the