Dressing Grass Land with Fish Scrats.—Some of our farmers already begin to talk of turning over old sward and stubble for seeding to grass this fall. On either soil there should be applied a liberal dressing of some kind of manure before seeding, to furnish assistance for a good catch and a fine crop of grass next spring. To supply this pounds of potash to the acre-if more plan we have pursued in the past and the fall, is to broadcast the scraps on the furrow, barrow, sow on the potash as you would oats, and harrow till ready for seed.

Hair on Bald fleads.

What the World Has Been Wanting for Centuries.

Of all the compoun's which the chemist's art ha iven to the world for hundreds of years for the pur-ose of restoring the hair to its natural growth an color, not one has been perfect. Many of the hair dressings of the day are excellent, but the great mass of the stuffs sold for prometing the growth and bringing back the original color, are mere humburg, while not a few are positively pernicious in their effect upon the scalp and the structure of he hair. All hair does are well house to change to the same to the structure of he hair. the scalp and the structure of he hair. All hair-dyes are we'l known to chemists as more or less poisonous, because the change of color is artificial, and does not a depend on a restoration of the functions of the scaip to their natural health and visor. The falling out of the hair, the accumulations of dandruff, and the premature change in color, are all evidences of a diseased condition of the scalp and the glands which hoursh the hair. To arrest these causes the scricle used must possess medicinal as well as chemical virtues, and the change must begin UNDER the scalp to be of permanent and lasting benefit. Such an article be of permanent and lasting benefit. ties, and the change must begin tunes the scalp to be of permanent and lasting benefit. Such an article has been discovered, and, like many other wonderful discoveries, it is found to consist of elements almost in their natural state. Petroleum oil is the article which is made to work such extraordinary results; but it is after the best article has been chemically treated, and completely deodorized, that it is in a proper condition for the toilet. It was in far-off Russia that the effects of petroleum upon the hair were first observed; a government officer having discovered that a partially-bald servant of his, while trimming the lamps, had a habit of wiping his oil-benneared hands in his scanty locks, and the result was, in a few months, a much finer head of black, glossy hair few months, a much finer head of black, glossy hair than he ever had before. The oil was tried on horses and cattle that had lost their hair from the cattle plague, and the results were as rapid as they were marvelous. The manes and even the tails of horses, which had fallen out, were completely restored in a few weeks. These experiments were heralded to the world, but the knowled e was practically useless to those prematurely baid and gray, as no one in civilized society could tolerate the use of refined petroleum as a dressing for the hair. But the skill of one of our chemist has overcome the difficulty, and, by a process known only to himself, he has, after very costly and elab rate experiments, succeeded in desderiring refined petroleum, which renders it succeptible of being handled as daintily as the famous RAZ DE COLONE. The experiments with the desdorized liquid few months, a much finer head of black, glossy hat being handled as daintily as the famous KAE DE CO-LOWNE. The experiments with the decolorized liquid on the human hair were attended with the most as-tonishing results. A few applications, where the hair was this and falling, gave remarkable tone and vigor to the scalp and hair. Every particle of dandruff dis-appears on the first or second decision of dandruff disappears on the first or second dressing, and the liquid, as searching in its nature, seems to penetrate to the roots at once, and set up a radical change from the start. It is well known that the most beautiful colors are made from petroleum, and, by some mysterious operation, the use of this article gradually imparts a beautiful light brown color to the hair, which, by a continued use, deepens to a black. The color remains permanent for an inclinate length of time, and the change is so gradual that the most intimate friends can scarcely detect its progress. In a word, it is the most wonderful discovery of the age, and well calculated to make the prematurely bald and gray resides. appears on the first or second dressing, and the li-
