THE PAVORPER THINK OF THE Greenbackers and the inflationists is the boud which is now payable for gold but was bought by the "leoberous bondholder" at thirty-five or forty cents on the dollar. There are no such bonds in existence. When the governmen wanted money, it got it just the same as any honest man gets the money that he needs, by going into the murket and borrowing it on the best terms that it could. The loans that were taken when gold was at its highest point have all been pard off, and most of them in currency, because the principal issues at that time were the seventhirties, which the Greenbackers are so fond of calling currency instead of bonds The loan that the government is now calling and paying off at the rate of more than half million a day is the five-twenty loan of 1865, which was sold when gold was less than 150 or at sixty six to seventy-five cents on the dollar, and then money was worth a great deal more than it is now. The

Besides all this, the ownership of these bonds is constantly changing, and not one in ten is held by any one who paid less than a bundred cents on the dollar for it. The talk about their costing thirty-five cents is pure bosh, and General Butler knows it Some of his admirers and followers paired by the recklessness of its prede- cord with the party throughout the do not, but they are to be blamed for their ignorance, which in this country is a sin just the same as lying .- North American.
