THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1878.

The Altona Tribune of the 12th inst published the following shocking occurrence...

The correspondent of the TRIBUNE at Williamsport, 'Gaius,' writes the following account of a shocking occurrence...

A terrible calamity befel our esteemed fellow citizen, Dr. Paulhaus, and his lovely and accomplished daughter Eleanor, last evening.

Last evening the doctor and his daughter were returning from a visit to the country...

While he was thus threatened the other two outlaws took hold of him; one crunched his left over his eyes, and thus threatened and blinded he had to submit to the third one of the party taking the contents of his pockets for examination.

Everything he had, even the contents of a bottle which contained medicine. All things were returned to his pockets, excepting the money, which amounted to fourteen or fifteen dollars, that he kept.

A question popped in called a 'spoiled issue.' Cuba Sabbath-School held a picnic on Saturday.

The repairs on the Lewisport court house will have been completed on the 15th day of October.

Last Friday was observed as a day of fasting and prayer in the State of Indiana, in behalf of the fever-stricken South.

The twenty-seventh annual Fair of Centre county will be opened at Bellefonte on the 9th day of October, 1878, to continue through the 10th and 11th.

The Presbyterian and Lutheran Sabbath-schools of McAlisterville will unite in a celebration on Thursday, the 19th inst., in the grove adjoining the Presbyterian church near McAlisterville.

Abner Yoder means business; he has now repaired his Clover Separator with entirely new huller, cylinder and concaves...

The Queen of the Gypsies was buried last Sunday, in Woodland Cemetery at Dayton, Ohio. She died several months ago, at Vicksburg, Miss.

Rev. Mr. Carns preached in the Cedar Spring Presbyterian Church in Lost Creek Valley, on the 8th inst. After service a collection was taken up for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers of the South, amounting to $40.75.

Horrors of Yellow Fever.

You can form no idea of the distresses which attend a child-birth, surrounded by little ones, quarantined in tents, see one by one pass from their sight on to the hospital, thence to the grave.

We have "only" to say that we never charged the return judges, or the particular individual, with tampering with the returns. We merely wished to convey the sense of our indignation, because "confused," and thus counted in the wrong way.

Further on in the same article it comes to nearly a definite conclusion as to when, what it calls in its apology a mysterious "concoction" of figures, occurred. It says that an individual from this town went to the Lower End on Saturday and came back on Sunday with the returns from the Lower End, and that he showed them to a "Little Band of Brothers."

The judge of the district in the Lower End, a copy of the returns of which the individual from this place brought on Sunday, and upon which the "little band of brothers" held a consultation, is left out of the charge, and the whole of it is put on the band of brothers. But who are the "little band of brothers" that are charged with fixing the district up for Wagner? Tell who they are; but when you do tell, also tell that if the whole vote of the particular district referred to in the Lower End, Black Loc, had been polled against Wagner, the result would have been just that many votes less for him, but without them he would have had a majority.

It abandons its charge in Patterson, and leaves the question solely to Wilson and Thomas, which is not just the fairest way of getting itself out of a noose. The apology without the charge from the judge, excepting the judge from Black Loc; his ways are pronounced as having been crooked. It is a wonderful concoction, down for the Democrat and Register, to back down from a charge against the judge as a body, and apologize, and charge crookedness on one judge and a "little band of brothers," but it is more honorable to so apologize than to have clung to mistaken information or to a willful falsehood.

The judge from Black Loc, the "little band of brothers" most likely will have something to say on the subject, and in all probability the Democrat and Register will be called on to further explain.

On Saturday, W. W. Kokenkaffer, a citizen of Mexico, came to this town, and returned the evening to attend Parker's auction, where, among other goods, he bought a couple of hand towels. About 10 o'clock at night he returned in company with a young man named Kaufman, who lives in the first house along the pike on this side of John Gallagher's home in Walker township. When Kaufman's home was reached he passed in, and Kokenkaffer passed on toward Mexico. He had noticed men behind them, but paid no attention to them till they came up to him, at a point about half way between John Gallagher's and the road that leads from the pike to Port Royal, when one of the three which constituted the number put a hand on his shoulder. He refused to give it, and the next instant a pistol was thrust into his face, and he was told that if he uttered a word or made any resistance he would be shot.

While he was thus threatened the other two outlaws took hold of him; one crunched his left over his eyes, and thus threatened and blinded he had to submit to the third one of the party taking the contents of his pockets for examination. They examined everything he had, even the contents of a bottle which contained medicine. All things were returned to his pockets, excepting the money, which amounted to fourteen or fifteen dollars, that he kept.

A question popped in called a 'spoiled issue.' Cuba Sabbath-School held a picnic on Saturday. The crop of cloverseed in Snyder county is said to be a large one.

Hog cholera has taken the lives of many hogs in this county this season. Celebration and picnic days are about over, but fair days are yet to come.

The Lutheran Synod of Central Pennsylvania will meet in this place on the 26th inst. The repairs on the Lewisport court house will have been completed on the 15th day of October.

Last Friday was observed as a day of fasting and prayer in the State of Indiana, in behalf of the fever-stricken South. The twenty-seventh annual Fair of Centre county will be opened at Bellefonte on the 9th day of October, 1878, to continue through the 10th and 11th.

After service a collection was taken up for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers of the South, amounting to $40.75.

The United States Senate Committee on Territories, with Senator John Patterson as Chairman, passed this place on Friday evening, en route to the Indian country. Robert McMen, Esq., and wife, joined the company. They expect to be away about a month.

The bonded indebtedness of this country was created to save the government by the people from destruction—to save it from being changed into a slave government. The payment of these bonds is provided for by the coin collected from duties or customs, and not by a tax on the people of the country direct.

How inconsistent for Mr. Speer to denounce the high prices of everything during the war, and then, in the next breath, advocate an issue of greenbacks...

The Junata County Agricultural Society will hold its annual Fair on the grounds of the Society, at Port Royal, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 9th, 10th and 11th.
