

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

By the latest count, the next House of Representatives will stand, Republicans 136, Democrats 141, Nationalists 16.

A PHILADELPHIA PAPER says that Directors in the common schools in the city mentioned sell teachers' appointments.

GOVERNOR HARTMAN has signed the death warrant of one hanging of Jack Sledge. Now that will be the blackguards, and blacklegs, and blockheads, who have been lying about the Governor, say!

"Just imagine a candidate in a district whose party has 5,500 majority, conceding for a seat in Congress for which he has been defeated. Difficult, is it not? But this is Andy Craig's case."

PEOPLE in Central Pennsylvania do not like it, that wheat and corn can be shipped from the Western States to the seaboard cheaper per hundred than from Central Pennsylvania. Such discrimination is causing a wide spread dissatisfaction.

The Democracy used to love to talk about a Solid South. It was on that they counted for political gain. But now, that the indications are that there is to be a solid North, they are changing their tack. They now do not want a solid South. They see overwhelming defeat when the North becomes a solid North, and that is what they shrink from.

The following is the official vote of Pennsylvania: For Governor - Hoyt, 319,557; Dill, 297,969; Mason (Nationalist), 81,768; Lane (Prohibition), 36,533. For Lieutenant Governor - Stone, 319,082; Ferguson, 295,753; Steck, 174,082; Shallcross, 36,144.

For Secretary of Internal Affairs - Dunkel, 313,193; Africa, 301,034; Wright, 81,733; Parsons, 36,537. For Judge of the Supreme Court - Stewart, 311,042; Ross, 287,221; Agnew, 99,316.

The most remarkable feature of the State campaign has been the returns from Luzerne. Last year Luzerne was the banner county of the Greenbackers and the Nationalists. They carried it by an appalling majority. It was the stronghold of Mr. Dewees' party. This year the voters of Luzerne and Lackawanna had recovered from their craze. Who was the result of the election? A plurality of nearly a thousand, and Dill ran behind Mason. It is only another proof that the people distrust the Democracy's love for the laboring classes. - North American.

The nearly equal division of parties in the Forty-sixth Congress is urged as a reason for the consolidation of the Independents, Greenbackers and Nationalists against the Democrats, and thus control the organization of the House. The New York Tribune figures the strength of each party in the new House at 148 Democrats, 134 Republicans and 11 Greenbackers, and speaking for the Republican party says it is stronger without these Greenbackers than with them. We can afford to have the Democrats count on the strength of the Greenbackers and Nationalists, but we cannot afford to control it ourselves by the aid of men whose only political principle is at warfare with everything we believe, and then go saddled with their fate, friendship into the Presidential campaign, of 1880. We won this year largely because we made a square, honest fight for hard money. We hope to win in 1880 by equal manliness and singleness of purpose; and unless the Greenbackers come to us on our terms, which are conversion and reform in life, we do not want them at all, and prefer not to delude ourselves by counting them."

A special dispatch from Washington says: The following letter from a prominent citizen of Charleston, S. C., gives an account of the treatment of a Deputy United States Marshal while acting in the discharge of his duty at the late election, and of his subsequent arrest and imprisonment by the local authorities:

During the counting of the votes on the night of the 5th inst., at the poll in the town of Orangeburg, in the county of the same name and in this Congressional district, Sandy Keitt, a regular United States Deputy Marshal, endeavored to obtain admission to the room where votes were being counted. Upon being refused admission he exhibited his commission as a United States Deputy Marshal. Without any act of violence on his part, the State constables at once seized him and hurried him off to jail. The next morning a trial justice of the State issued a warrant against him, charging him with attempting to force himself into the room where votes were being counted. Remember, the law of South Carolina requires the counting of votes in public, and under the laws of South Carolina he had as a citizen a right to witness the count. Keitt's trial was fixed for last Monday, but on that day, by instruction of District Attorney Northrup, a United States Commissioner, who went from Columbia to Orangeburg, issued warrants under Section 5522 for all parties who had interfered with Keitt while in the discharge of his duties, and who had refused him access to witness the count. Next day, while Keitt was quietly standing in the streets of Orangeburg, he was surrounded by a crowd of Democrats, including those whom he had arrested. Some drew their pistols to walk off undisturbed. He is now lying in jail for having the audacity to be a citizen of South Carolina, and to exhibit a commission from the Government of the United States.

Senator Blaine has been chosen chairman of the Maine Republican State Central Committee for the twentieth time.

STATE ITEMS.

Wilkesbarre's city treasury is empty. Governor Geary, is to have a monument. Scarlet fever is unusually fatal in Clarion county. The State Grange meets at Bellefonte December 10. Great activity prevails in all car shops in the State. All the steel works in Pittsburg are running double turn. Windmills are again becoming a popular power in some regions. The second Paxton Furnace, near Harrisburg has just blown in after a rest of over four years. Arrangements are being made to cut immense quantities of logs in the Clearfield lumber region this winter. An Evangelical minister has been arrested at Franklin for obtaining money under false pretenses. Eighteen butchers have been arrested in Lancaster for violating an ordinance which forbids them from selling meat on the curbstone stands in localities than by the quarter. Indiana county is excited over frauds perpetrated in the recent elections that have not fully developed. In Erie beef sells for four cents a pound, and a fine gobbler can be obtained for one dollar. Frank Fluegel and Peter Wingerter, two very young men, Erie, married sisters just for fun and because they were too drunk to know any better. They are now in jail for neglect to support their wives. Representatives - G. J. Gillingham, of Blair county who went to Harrisburg last week to pick out his seat, say that nearly all the seats were selected before election. The oysters now carried northward over the Northern Central railroad will average 300,000 pounds daily. The pupils of a school in the Second ward, Lock Haven, contributed the amount of a doctor's bill for dressing a broken finger of a schoolmate. Mahanoy City had a terrible accident on Saturday. Superintendent O'Hansen, of the Mahanoy division, had just left his little car, the "Germ," when the boiler exploded. Frank Boscius, engineer; Jacob Trout, foreman of coal trains, and Willie Wenrich, George Hagenbuch and Calvin Lutz, boys, were killed. Several people were injured. Miss Cora Johnson, who lives near Sagers Bridge, in Chester county while driving to her home from the railroad was stopped by highwheymen and robbed. Friday night a week a number of men knowing that Mr. T. H. Baker, a merchant of Hollisterville, Luzerne county, had received a large amount of money that day, set fire to one of his barns, and while he was at the fire ransacked the house for the money. The owner had given it to a friend to take to a merchant for deposit in a bank. The two men were captured near Petrolia, on Saturday a week, who had stolen beer in his possession. For some time past cattle have been taken in Venango and driven into Armstrong and Clarion counties, where they are disposed of. The capture of Saturday it is thought will break up an organized gang of cattle thieves. The Council of Wilkesbarre has ordered that $6,500 of that city's money be invested in United States four per cent bonds for sinking fund. The First National Bank of Tamaqua Pa., which suspended payment on the 4th of October last, resumed business on Saturday. William Doyle, of the Holidayburg Furnace, on Saturday a week, was literally beaten to death by a heavy iron die which was raised in place, but which was wrenched from the hands of those turning it. A mad bulldog suddenly appeared in the little village of Leipserville; Delaware county, on Monday afternoon a week. All but a little child, who was playing in the street, fled from the animal's way. She was badly bitten in the leg. About twenty dogs belonging in the village were bitten, and some of them have since died. The dog disappeared as suddenly as it came. The boy Schaubert, who was shot by young Deitz a few days ago at Beaver Falls, died on Saturday night. Diets has been committed to answer the charge of murder. Albert Forker, nine years old, son of John Forker of Edenburg, was crushed to death on Saturday by limestone quarrying machinery. Two other boys narrowly escaped.

GENERAL ITEMS. From the Dallas Intelligencer. Mr. Samuel Myers is now lying bedfast at his home in this place, afflicted with that terribly malady, the screw worm. Mr. Myers has been sick of late with fever, and on Monday last while resting in bed one of the flies alighted near his nostrils. It requires but a few moments for one of these flies to deposit hundreds of eggs, which are hatched and grown inside of an hour, many of the men as much as one-half an inch in length. Mr. Myers, upon awakening, felt a slight tickling in the nose, and it was not until his eyes and face had become fearfully swollen that the physician discovered the presence of the worms. The only known remedy was applied - alcohol and carbolic acid - by injection into the nostrils. At first a few would drop their hold and force themselves out. Application after application was made with little result up to last night, when one hundred and fifty-two was the number present in a critical condition, with but slight hopes of his recovery. The fly is much dreaded by our stockmen, and is represented as a dark-colored and fuzzy insect, which generally attacks cattle or any other animal that is unfortunate enough to have blood upon which it can alight. In the fall of 1877 a man named Clayton left Lock Haven for the Far West. He located on Sapper creek, Decatur county, Kansas where he erected a cabin and laid the foundation of what he supposed would, some time in the future, be a home for his family, consisting of a wife, son and daughter. Last Spring these latter joined him in his prairie home, and toiled with him until recently to make the wilderness blossom as the rose. All progressed promisingly with them until about a month ago, when the savages of the plains made a raid upon the homestead, murdering the father and husband, the wife and the daughter, nine years old. The cabin was burned, and the remains of the father consumed there; the mother was shot through the shoulder and the daughter in the back. The son, Henry H. Clayton, aged 18 years, was absent at the time of the massacre, working for a farmer, and thus escaped a like horrible fate. When he returned home the next day after the terrible tragedy he was horrified at the fearful work of the savages, found his mother and sister some distance from the dreadful scene and buried them with the charred bones of his father. The place had no further charms for him and he resolved to return to the home of his childhood. Yesterday he came through the city en route to Lock Haven, where he intends to make his home with an uncle. - Alliance Tribune November 14, 1878. A special dispatch reports the marriage of Floyd Smith and his wife Maria (colored) by an armed mob on November 4, near Hernandez, Miss. They were charged with murdering a little white girl six years old, which had been left in the care of its mother. Suicide for disappointed love is becoming more the rage with each passing year. Hearts ache and break as of yore, doubtless, and in this respect the moderns are no different from the ancients. The tendency of the times is to display of fortitude and stoicism in the struggle with the unavoidable. Diphtheria is playing havoc among the boys of Illinois. It is estimated that in some counties the loss from this disease is not less than fifty thousand dollars. FOREIGN. The Eastern question has a more peaceful appearance. The Pope and the Czar do not agree as to how Polish Catholics shall be religiously treated in Russia. Italy proposes to return to specie payments, in which she will imitate the example of the United States, and begin to mint silver. The new gold discovery in India is described as follows: Within an area of thirteen miles six out-crops were discovered of auriferous quartz from two to four feet thick, yielding from a few pennyweights to two hundred ounces per ton. The richer stone shows when broken fine and coarse seams and jagged pieces the size of a pea. A great invasion of kangaroos recently occurred in various settled parts of Australia, especially Queensland, the animals being, no doubt, driven from the interior by the drought and its effects in search of food. They came in thousands, devouring everything in the shape of herbs or grain, so that the sheep and cattle were often reduced to dry leaves for food. The colonists promptly met the attack, in some cases driving the kangaroos into an inclosure and shooting them. In the battle more than 4,000 kangaroos were killed in four days. Well-dressed and semi-inhabited man goes into shop of Ypsilanti druggist and sticks his elbow through glass case. Druggist collars him and demands $3. Man says: "Thank sir, I refuse to undertake what is wanted of me. Druggist searches man's pockets, finds $50 bill, puts $47 change in man's pocket book, and expels him in the inebriate staggering away blandly remarking: 'Isk alldi - no offens'." Next day druggist finds that the $50 bill is a counterfeit. An Italian princess who is about to be married has had her trousseau made in Paris. In order to let her know how to wear her dresses, and what to wear under them, the dressmaker has sent with each toilette a little doll attired from head to foot exactly as the lady herself should be dressed; shoes, stockings, skirts, head-dress, gloves and every detail being reproduced in the costume of the doll. POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 12. - Lindley Sellers, proprietor of Sellers' Hotel, at Schuylkill Haven, while gunning with a party of friends on Blue mountain to-day was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Gideon Nice. The old furnace of Ghanmorgan Iron Company, at Lewistown, Mifflin county Pa., has been thoroughly overhauled, and is now in operation. Farmers as a rule are not disposed to hold their crops for speculation this winter. Large stock of Ready-made Clothing for sale by HARLEY & CO.
