

MIFFLINTOWN: Wednesday, January 22, 1879.

TERMS. Subscription, $1.50 per annum, in paid in advance...

NOTICE. Hunters are hereby cautioned against trespassing on the lands of the undersigned...

THE dry cold of yesterday was well calculated to give a spirited appearance to all of the grand parade that preceded the inauguration of Governor Hoyt.

THE ladies of the Bloomfield, Perry county, returned church held a festival, and thereby raised $75.00, clear of expenses.

MR. BOWMAN, formerly of the Tribase of this place, has moved to Everett, Bedford county, where he prints the Everett Press.

MR. W. C. LAIRD, ex-treasurer of this county, has gone into business, as merchant, at McCoyville, in the stand occupied by his father many years.

THE 10th night of the season fell last Wednesday night, and Thursday morning, people whose recollection goes back forty years say it was an old-fashioned snow.

ALL subscribers in arrears, more than 12 months, on the 1st day of April, 1879, will be charged full arrear rates as advertised.

THE North in Patterson has been doing a brisk business this winter in the grain business. Latterly their purchases have ranged from 1000 to 1400 bushels of grain per day.

MR. B. W. WILSON, a prominent member of the Lutheran church, and for many years editor of the Jackson Observer, is in Kirkbride's asylum, hopelessly insane.

EVERYBODY go to J. H. Boughner's, at McAlisterville, and see how cheap he is selling Boots and Shoes and everything else.

SHORT LOCALS.

Elect good officers at the February election. It is said that a snow that falls in the dark of the moon never drifts.

Boughner's auction in McAlisterville has been drawing large crowds. "We upset last night," is what folks said who drove at night last week.

Altoona desires the State Fair. Altoona would be a good place to hold it. NOTICE.—Cash paid for tallow, Jan 16-41. JACOB SILVER, Sunbury, Pa.

Jacob Hoffman, a native of Slim Valley, this county, died last Sunday, aged about 70 years.

Last Thursday, the schools in this place were visited by Mr. Smith, Superintendent of Common Schools.

"A DREAM."

Somebody came in a dream last night, Somebody fair and sweet; The air was full of the violet's breath That bloomed about her feet.

Somebody whispered, "I love you, dear, Somebody kissed me there; Somebody's voice was gentle and low, There were flowers in her hair.

Somebody held in her hands my hands, Said that she missed me, too. It was summer, with birds and roses, The sky was summer blue.

Alas, for my beautiful dream, Now that daylight is here; The winter snowflakes are falling fast, And somebody is not near.

How could I help but be happy, dear, And sigh for my dream anew? Listen, I'll tell you what made me glad: The somebody looked like you.

John Reisinger, a young man from Leckersburg, Perry county, stole a lamp and music book from the Lutheran church, on Wednesday evening, the 15th inst. He was arrested in Patterson on Saturday morning, and was taken before Justice Kreider, who committed him to jail, in default of bail, for trial.

THE LIFE FOR ME. You may talk of love and happiness too, Of marriage and so forth, as most people do, But I want a life that is careless and free, So an old maid's life is the life for me.

Her pleasures are many, her cares are but few, And always she does what she wishes to do, And there is no one to bother her as all husbands will. When she gets a new bonnet and gets a new bill.

Be marriage for those who prefer to be bound With the hard chains of wedlock their members around; But give me a life that is careless and free, So the life of an old maid is the life for me. —Adrietta Siegle, in New York World.
