Republican State Ticket. FOR STATE TREASURER, SAMUEL BUTLER, OF CHESTER COUNTY.

The Republican State Convention that met at Harrisburg last week dissolved its business in an expeditionary manner and placed Samuel Butler of Chester county in nomination for the office of State Treasurer.

The nomination is a first rate one. The general rule in nominating candidates for State offices has been to pass by the class which he belongs. The general rule of conventions has been to nominate a man with a quill behind his ear, a banker, or a man with a brief in his hand and a parcel of clients at his heels, a lawyer, or a man with a case of instruments, and still boxes ready to receive patients, a doctor, or a man who is under some misapprehension as to the value of his own talents.

Every farmer should vote for him. The convention was completely harmonious, with the single insignificant exception of a little misunderstanding between temporary chairman Hall and representative Wolf, about the reading of a resolution that made reference to the damage done to the State by the Legislature last winter.

The Republican party had nothing to do with the riot or with the riot damage act. Both the riot and the effort to get the State to pay for it was gotten up by the business of the country with which politics had nothing to do. The convention had resolved that all resolutions offered should go to committee without debate. Wolf offered a resolution that made reference to the riot damage act, or the effort to pass it through the Legislature which for some reason caught Hall's ear, and he immediately moved him to decide that the resolution should go to committee without being read.

He ruled that reading is debate, and stood by his ruling, but the convention did not understand that reading is debate. The common understanding is that it is not, and when the motion was made that the resolution of Mr. Wolf be read the convention ruled that it should be read. It was simply a little piece of aggravated plausibility between Mr. Hall and Mr. Wolf about a business which had sprung up among corporation people.

The convention sat that and speedily disposed of the matter, and it is presumed that long before this time Mr. Hall and Mr. Wolf each have sheathed the scolding knife, and buried the tom stake, and smoked the pipe of peace. Mr. Butler will be elected by a large majority.

LATE intelligence from Maine says: The accounts from Maine grow more encouraging every day. A native of that State, after a visit of some weeks, returned, and says that the pliancy of the Democrats and Greenbackers has driven a large number of the Republicans, who voted with the Greenbackers last year, back within the Republican ranks to escape the national heresies of their own party. In different parts of the State journals which last year were either Democratic or Greenback, he says, have placed the name of the Republican candidate at their head. He said that the financial issue is regarded as settled and the people are looking this contest on the issue of loyalty and against the Democrats who, in the extra session, planted themselves squarely in the service of the South. He said that Maine would lead in the campaign for loyal men for office, and that had had the aggressions of disloyalty and State rights.

Recently the police of Chicago were required to look after thieves, confidence men and all kinds of criminals, but the bad people concluded last week to leave Chicago for other parts, till the wrath of the city against them has somewhat abated; consequently thieves and other criminals from that place are distributing themselves over the country.

The Democratic journals that occasionally published articles against the Catholic church, are not feeling so comfortable now that they must support Mr. Barr, Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, he being a Catholic.

An order has been prepared in the office of the Chief of Engineers of the United States, for the survey of the Susquehanna river, with the view of ascertaining whether the stream can be made navigable for steam boats.

"JAMES GOLDEN BENNETT means to have good, fresh milk while in New York. He has hired pasture near his cottage and placed six cows there, which will yield nearly sixty quarts of milk per day."

The French engineer, who dug the Suez Canal, is making an effort to raise stock in this country to build or dig a canal across the Isthmus of Panama.

E. W. STROTTON, United States Minister to Russia, has tendered his resignation, and it has been accepted by the President.

Republican State Convention.

The Republican State Convention met at Harrisburg last Wednesday, in the hall of the House of Representatives. At 12 o'clock, noon, Colonel Quay, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, called the Convention to order. Lewis W. Hall was elected temporary chairman, with a full set of officers. After the usual preliminary arrangements had been perfected, Galsbush A. Grov was elected permanent President, with a full complement of officers. Mr. Grov delivered an able speech, after which Samuel Butler, of Chester county, was nominated by acclamation for State Treasurer.

SAMUEL BUTLER. [Samuel Butler was born in Uxbridge township, Chester county, on February 24, 1825, his grandparents and parents belonging to the original settlers of the county. He is a brother of Hon. William Butler, Judge of the United States District Court of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Mr. Butler was educated at Unionville Academy, Chester county, and after graduating taught school there for several years. He subsequently moved to Butler county, Ohio, where he taught school. In 1850 Mr. Butler returned to Uxbridge township, to follow agricultural pursuits, and has remained there ever since as a farmer. He is held in high esteem by the residents of Chester county, has filled nearly all the local township offices, and was Director of the Poor from 1859 to 1865. He was elected a Representative in the Legislature for the sessions of 1876, 77, and last fall was re-elected, his constituents with one accord tendering him the nomination and polling for him a splendid majority. Mr. Butler was in the army in 1862 and holds a discharge from the United States service. Personally he is a very pleasant, courteous gentleman, strictly honest and honorable in all his dealings.]

PLATFOEM. Thomas V. Cooper, of Delaware county, from the Committee on Resolutions, reported the following, which were adopted: Resolved, 1. That the Republican party, again forced to stand forward for the defense of human rights, after a struggle lasting through a generation, find itself confronted by the same foes of Federal unity, political freedom, and national honor, which it has so often overthrown in civil contests and in armed conflict.

2. That we appeal to the Union loving people of Pennsylvania to arrest, by their votes, the mad career of the Democratic party, which insists upon placing the National Government under the domination of men who but lately fought to destroy it, and who are now plotting to give triumph to the doctrine which failed to establish in the field—the establishment of State sovereignty, the overthrow of national supremacy.

3. We declare their implacable hostility to the repeal of the national laws which protect the purity of the ballot-box and secure fair elections. The election of Congressmen and Presidential electors being clearly subject to national control, any attempt to throw that control is simply an effort to establish fraud at national elections, national fraud, equal rights, the unity of the nation, and the supremacy of the National Government will matter placed by the Constitution under its control can be maintained only by the Republican party, which is alone committed to their defense.

4. That the Democratic party, having committed itself to an attempt to break up the Government by refusing to appropriate money already collected from the people to sustain the Government, unless the Executive shall sanction measures intended to foster fraud, violence and corruption in the national elections, and to impair the constitutional supremacy of the nation, deserves and invites the signal condemnation of every law-abiding and honest citizen.

5. That we are in favor of the discharge of the national debt in coin according to the understanding between the Government and the lender; of a paper currency redeemable in coin; and of the existing national banking system. We congratulate the country upon returning national prosperity, and the accomplishment, under a Republican National Administration, of the successful resumption of specie payments. Our currency, the best ever afforded the country, is restored to its par value; the national credit has been maintained and strengthened; and the burden of the national debt largely reduced. To complete what has been so well done we demand that our present financial system remain undisturbed.

6. That to the policy and practice of protection to home industry and home production inaugurated and sustained by the Republican party were indebted for the growth and development of our domestic and foreign commerce, and for the prosperous condition and strength of the national finances; and that to the continuance of that policy must we look in the future for assured prosperity and peace throughout our whole country. In fostering the same we desire to insure constant employment to labor at remunerative wages.

7. That the firm stand of the President in vindicating the prerogatives of the co-ordinate departments of the Government meets the hearty approval of the Republican party of Pennsylvania.

8. We call on the veteran soldiers of the war for Union to join in our resolute and unjust exclusion of their wounded comrades from offices by the Democratic Congress and the transfer of their places to rebel soldiers, whose chief recommendation seems to be unrepentant treason and unending hate of the nation.

9. That we earnestly sympathize with our Southern Republican brethren, who are now passing under the barrow of political persecution. We bid them be of good cheer. Fraud and force can not always triumph, even in a region where fraud and force find a congenial home. If a solid South now deprives them of their just rights, a solid North will not fail, in due time, to secure them that perfect freedom which is the birthright and inheritance of every American citizen.

10. That the United States of America is a nation, not a league; its constitution and all laws made in pursuance thereof are the supreme law of the land; anything in the constitution or laws of a State to the contrary notwithstanding.
