"ROCK ME TO SLEEP."

Backward, turn backward, O Time! in your Make me a child again-just for to-night! Mother, come back from the echoless shore, Take me again to your heart as of yore; Kiss from my foreheads the furrows of care, Smooth the few silver threads out of my hair; Over my slumbers your loving watch keep-Rock me to sleep, Mother, rock me to sleep!

Backward, flow backward, O swift tide of years! I am weary of toil, I am weary of tears; Toll without recompense, tears all in vain.

Take them, and give me my childhood again! I have grown weary of dust and decay. Weary of flinging my soul-wealth away, Weary of sowing for others to reap; Bock me to sleep, Mother, rock me to sleep!

"Tired of the hollow, the base, the untrue; Mother, O Motherl my heart calls for you! Many a Summer the grass has grown green, Blossoming and faded, our faces between: Yet with strong yearning and passionate pain, Long I to-night for your presence again, Come from the silence so long and so deep-Rock me to sleep, Mother, rock me to sleep!

"Over my heart in the days that have flown, No love like mother-love ever has shown; No other worship abides and endures, Faithful, unselfish, and patient, like yours: None like a mother can charm away pain From the sorrowing soul and the world-weary brain; Slumber's soft calm o'er my weary lids creep, Rock me to sleep, Mother, rock me to sleep! "Come let your brown hair just lighted with gold.

Fall on my shoulders again as of old; Let it fall over my forehead to-night, Shielding my eyes from the flickering light, For oh! with it's sunny-edged shadows once

Haply will throng the sweet vision of yore; Lovingly, softly its bright willows weep-Rock me to sleep, Mother, rock me to sleep!

Luck and Labor.

If the boy who exclaims "Just my lock" was truthful, he would say, "Just my laziness!" or "Just my imittention!" Cobden wrote some proverbs about "Luck and Labor." It would be well for our boys to memorize them: Luck is waiting for something to turn up.

Labor, with keen eyes and strong will, will turn up something. Luck lies in bed and wishes the postma ould bring him news of a legacy.

Labor turns out at six o'clock, and with hosy pen or ringing hammer lays the foundation for a competence. Luck whines Labor whistles,

Luck relies on chances. Labor relies on character.

Luck slips down to indigence. Labor strides upward to independence,
