

THE famine prevails in Ireland.

THE Republican State Convention convenes at Harrisburg to-day.

All the fusion Senators, in Maine, excepting four, have joined the Republican Legislature.

Mrs. ERASTUS SMITH, of Scranton, committed suicide by shooting herself through the heart, last Thursday evening.

HARD! HARD! indeed, when the Democracy charge the Greenbackers with the whole plot of revolutionizing the government in Maine.

THE Centennial celebration of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis is to last one month. It will take place in October 1881. France will send a regiment and a fleet of ships.

A NUMBER of Lutheran preachers and laymen interested in the promotion of the Lutheran cause, are talking of removing Pennsylvania College from Gettysburg to Harrisburg.

CHINAMES are learning the ways of the Mexican man, as may be learned by the fact that one hundred of them employed in the Mount Vernon, N. J. shirt factory, struck for higher wages, last Friday.

A BILL has been offered in Congress that provides for an appropriation for an exhibition in New York in 1883—a Centennial exhibition in honor of the peace that followed the Revolutionary war.

GENERAL SHERMAN and a newspaper correspondent named H. V. Boynton, have had a misunderstanding. The General says that the correspondent can be bought to slander any one. Mr. Boynton has transmitted to the Secretary of War specifications against the General.

"Ear marks" are often spoken of, but an exchange brings it to a point in this way: "The ear tells of race and of a true balance of the intellectual and moral faculties. It is perfect in shape and well in view. The place where you will see the greatest number of ugly ears is in a lunatic asylum or in a prison."

Gen Grant has invited General Robert Patterson, his old commander in the Mexican war, to join him on his approaching tour through Mexico, and the old veteran, though now in his eighty-ninth year, has accepted. Gen. Patterson will not go to Havana, but will join Grant on his arrival in Mexico, probably at Vera Cruz.

OTTAWA, Canada, had a sensation last Thursday, and is most briefly explained by despatch as follows: "A grave digger had thrown three or four shovels full of earth on the coffin of a small-pox victim, when he fancied that he heard a noise. The coffin was raised and it was found the person still lived. He was taken back to the hospital."

When Grant was in office the Democracy condemned him bitterly for giving a relative here and there an office, and now it transpires that every "Democratic United States Senator who has a son over fifteen years of age has long since planted in some obscure clerkship in the Senate. Voronhas has three of them thus provided for."

The United States Senate has confirmed the following appointments: To be Envoys Extraordinary and Ministers Plenipotentiary—James Russell Lowell, of Massachusetts, to Great Britain; John W. Foster, of Indiana, to Russia; Lucius Fairchild, of Wisconsin, to Spain; Philip H. Morgan, of Louisiana, to Mexico; To be United States Consuls—Lewis Richmond, of Rhode Island, at Belfast; James W. Siler, of Arkansas, at Mayaguez.

An exchange says: That job of Garcelon up in Maine has come to a conclusion at last, and the next step should be the arrest, trial and conviction of the parties to the infamous plot. As was expected from the first, the job ended in the disgrace and humiliation of those concerned in it. If the Democrats had any sense, they would learn from this to leave the Greenbackers severely alone, as their counsels, followed, are sure to lead to shame and confusion. But the Bonbons never learn, so they may be expected to tumble meekly into the next trap set for them by their wily associates.

On Wednesday evening the railroad people at this place were ordered to hold themselves in readiness to be sent to some point which was not then designated. Since then it has been revealed that the object of the order was to take them to Harrisburg, where a conflict of authority had arisen between owners of a furnace and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It appears that the furnace had been building a railroad from the furnace to some point, not definitely stated by those who do not know. The P. C. R. Co. allege that they were building the road on the ground of the latter, and they sent men to tear up the track. The furnace authority increased their force—so did the railroad authority, until nearly 500 men had been collected. As fast as the railroad men carried the ties and rails away the furnace men carried them back, and every once in a while somebody would be elbowed so hard that a knockdown took place, but during the whole fuss no one was seriously hurt. Citizens in the neighborhood became alarmed for their safety, and called on the Mayor of the city for protection. The Mayor came on the ground with a company of policemen, and soon after the furnace authority and the railroad authority concluded that they would suspend the fight on the road, and take the question to the courts. Just when the question to a jury is, cannot now be told.

The Situation in Maine.

The fusion Legislature, so called, submitted questions to the Supreme Court. The Court stated that it had a really ruled on the questions. The Democratic Judges of the Court concurred fully in the opinion, as delivered by that judicial body, and that fact alone is sufficient to dispose of the clamor that the fusionists try to get up, that the opinion is a party opinion. The average Democrat and fusionist is the most lusty shouter of party! party! against others, and is the greatest party-man of all. In the Maine case he shouts party, when the better people of the Democracy say that it is a question of justice and not party, and that the fusionists are wrong.

The fusionists have adjourned to meet in August. A number entered the Republican Legislature.

SOME days ago, F. B. Gowen, president of the Reading railroad company, was before the Congressional Committee on Commerce. His testimony brought out the startling statement that judicial decisions in Pennsylvania are warped by corporate interests. Which statement has aroused a number of journals into bitter denunciation of Mr. Gowen. It does seem to be the proper line of course of action for a journal to be careful to defend the good name of the courts, so that they do not fall into contempt. It seems to be equally clear that the good name and standing of a citizen shall not be stricken down because of an earnest declaration in favor of common rights, which in the Republic the courts are presumed to be the special guardians of.

Mr. Gowen is a man of intelligence, a man of character, and if what has been said has no foundation he will pay the penalty; he cannot help falling from his high estate, if he has spoken without knowing what he has talked about. If the courts have become the instruments to defeat the purposes of the law. If they are but the machines of corporate interests, and other combinations, then indeed has the country drifted upon evil times, and it may become necessary to turn missionary and carry the question before the people to change the whole judicial and corporate systems. Mr. Gowen's business relations gives him standing as the saying goes, "on the ground floor," and if he has found the courts to be in rotten condition he should be well supported in his efforts to reveal the moral and legal condition of the judicial bodies. There is no law if people's interests, instead of being tried on their merits under legal enactment in the courts, are bartered away by the judges. When Mr. Gowen urges the State of a pure judiciary he speaks for every man's interests. "Stand back and give Gowen a chance."

The Democracy have been loud in their denunciation of Republicans, when they heard of an assessment on office-holders for a few dollars for legitimate campaign purposes, while at the same time they have been bleeding their own people to such a degree that the victims consider it the next thing to actual robbery. For example, at the late Democratic ward meetings in Philadelphia, they assessed candidates for the office of Councilman—an office without pay—five hundred dollars. Out of the Democratic assessment of Councilman has grown the question, "How much do they assess the candidate who runs for an office in which there is pay, or for an office with a salary?"

The Huntington Globe of Jan. 25th says: In the year 1877, Joseph Bowser, a native of Bedford county, this State, was in the employ of a farmer in Wayne county, Ohio. Between this farmer and a neighboring tiler of the soil there was a grudge of long standing, and to wreak out his spite against his neighbor, Bowser's employer induced him to set fire to his barn. This he did and some time afterwards returned to Bedford county, where he has been resting in faded security. It seems that his employers soon "blow" the affair and the authorities began to look around for the incendiary. He was traced to Bedford county, and a requisition for his arrest was secured from Governor Hoyt and placed in the hands of an officer. Sheriff William Coalter, of Wayne county, Ohio, accompanied by Mr. C. Steinmetz of Marshallville, who came along for the purpose of identifying Bowser, came east on Friday captured their man. They brought him to this place on Friday night, and remained at the Miller Hotel until 11 o'clock on Saturday morning, when they took Pittsburg Express for the west. Bowser is a young man of powerful build, and "looks like a bad man."

The Altoona Tribune of the 25th ult. says: About 8 o'clock on Monday morning Mark Burgoon, a young man 22 years of age, was killed at D. & C. Moore's mill, near Ashland Furnace, by a tree falling on him. Mr. Louis Burgoon and his two sons, Mark and John, had taken a contract of cutting logs for the Messrs. Moore, and on Saturday had felled a tree between two trees growing closely together and left it until Monday morning, when John began chopping one of the trees to allow the other one to drop, while his brother Mark was trimming one some distance away. The tree dropped before it was expected to fall, striking into the forks of a tall maple tree near by splitting it to the ground, through which it fell in the contrary direction and near which Mark Burgoon was working. He, seeing his danger, ran to get out of the way of the maple but unfortunately ran in the fork of the tree, and the maple struck him on the back and hips, crushing him into the hard earth and killing him almost instantly. Mr. Burgoon was a sober, industrious, good citizen and his loss will be severely felt by his bereaved parents.

Miss Sarah Petrow, a very estimable young lady of Fairview township, York county, died on Saturday afternoon a week, in the office of Dr. Trimmer, a dentist of Lisbon, Cumberland county. He administered chloroform and extracted two of the young lady's teeth; then the second dose, and extracted several more. When he administered the third dose, he discovered that she was very weak, and in two hours the unfortunate young lady was a corpse.

Wonderful Discovery in Ohio.

Remains of Pre-historic People.

MUMMIES IN A CAVE.

Intelligence from Ohio reveals the wonders of a cave in Tiffin township, Manchester county, Ohio. A correspondent of McClure's Sunday Times writes of the chamber in the cave, and its contents, as follows: "About fifty feet down the explorer found the entrance to another cavern. This gallery at its mouth is ten feet six inches high and five feet four inches in width. The gallery is straight and enters a large room two hundred and twenty feet long, one hundred and ten feet wide and twenty-four feet high. The gallery widens gradually and when it enters the chamber measures twenty-five feet across. The roof, floor and walls are smooth and even. In the center of this apartment is a sarcophagus and Mausoleum combined. The Mausoleum at its base measures fifty-five by thirty-five feet. It is of simple, though beautiful design, and carved out of the solid rock. Its base is paved on all sides, these panels containing bas-reliefs which are supposed to represent the four seasons in man's life—childhood, youth, manhood and old age. At the ends of the bas-reliefs are tables full of written characters, in shape something like the Hebrew, presumed to be memorials of the person or persons in whose honor the Mausoleum is erected. The carving on the bas-reliefs is of the most delicate description, and fully equal to the Grecian school of sculpture. From the top of the top of this base is six feet. The base is hollowed out at the four corners, and these excavations are covered with slabs of freestone, accurately fitted and so firmly cemented that a cold chisel struck with a heavy hammer made little or no impression on the cement. They are of uniform size, measuring five by twelve feet. In the center of the Mausoleum rises a couch two feet five inches in height, twelve feet in length and five feet in width.

THE FIGURE OF A GIANT.

On this couch is extended the figure of a man. It is probably of life size, and measures nine feet four inches in length. The limbs are finely proportioned and disposed in an easy and graceful manner. The arms are folded across the breast and the fingers clasp a bunch of leaves resembling oak, reproduced with such fidelity to nature that they look like petrifactions. Every vein and serration of the leaf is perfect. The figure is partially nude, a mantle or scarf crossing the breast and loins and falling in graceful folds on each side. The face is one of great strength and beauty, and the features are of a Hebrew cast. The head is covered with a wig of hair, or helmet. At each corner of the couch is a vase four feet nine inches high, covered with beautifully curved flowers and leaves. They are in shape something like an amphora, except that the bottom is flat and the handles affixed to the body of the vase. The neck is thirteen inches in length and tapers gradually and gracefully. The vases are of uniform size, although the carved designs are different. They measure in circumference four feet five inches. The diameter of the neck is six inches. Suspended from the roof, and directly over the head of the recumbent figure, is a copper lamp of unique design, elegantly chased, and kept in position by rods of the same metal. At each corner of the Mausoleum rises a carved pyramidal column, surmounted by caps that are unmistakably Doric. On two sides of the room are tombs, of the same design. They are made by slabs of uniform size and twenty in number, ten on a side. Like the Mausoleum they are carved out of the solid rock and embellished with bas-reliefs. Their dimensions are as follows: Length, 12 feet; width, 5 feet; height 5 feet. The tops are covered with slabs, securely cemented. On the front of each is a raised scroll, covered with written characters, similar to those on the sarcophagus and Mausoleum. On the call of the room opposite the entrance, are painted twenty-five faces, no doubt portraits of those whose bones lie in the tombs. They are faded and blurred, but still distinct enough to be distinguished. Eight of these faces are of children, five of youths, two of young men, nine of middle aged men and women, and one, in the center of the group, an exact copy of the face of the recumbent figure in the Mausoleum. The colors used are yellow, black and white, and were evidently mixed with oil. The portraits are executed in a superior manner and the anatomical proportion of the features is preserved to an exact degree.

A MUMMY DISCOVERED.

One only of the small tombs has been opened. It contained a splendidly preserved mummy, swathed in cloth covered with a thick varnish, which emits a pleasant aromatic odor, not unlike balsam of fir. The mummy measures nine feet one inch in length and is evidently the body of a man. One of the party of discoverers cut the wrappings from the face, but did it so clumsily that the head crumbled into dust. Portions of the hair remained sticking to the cloth, and your correspondent has a piece before him as he writes. It is black, curly and of fine texture. Besides the body of the giant the tomb contained a spear-head, a hatchet, two spades, three mallets or hoes, a lance, a cup, two plates and a small urn, all of copper. One of the discoverers cut the smallest cup from him, and he discovered that it was made of copper. The wonderful people understood the secret of hardening copper, for an ordinary file will barely scratch the lance, and the edge of a cold-chisel turns up like lead when struck against it. The cup is of softer metal and beautifully engraved with trailing vines and wreaths. A square package at the head of the tomb, wrapped in the varnished cloth, contained a book of one hundred leaves of thin copper, fastened loosely at the top and crowded with Snelly engraved characters similar to those already described.

The District Attorney of Northumberland county had his hat stolen while trying a case in the court house.

STATE ITEMS.

Tyrons is to have a new brick depot to cost $15,000.

Fifteen bushels of wild rice sown on the ponds in the vicinity of Erie two years ago have grown and flourished, attracting thousands of birds, large and small and furnishing sportsmen ample amusement.

Over 34,000 yards of carpet and 2,700 pairs of boots and shoes were made in the Berks County Prison in the last nine months.

The borough of York has been sued by Henry Baylor for $20,000 damages he fell from a broken bridge sustaining severe injuries.

The Soldiers' Orphans' schools of the State will discharge about 391 scholars this year, they having reached the age of sixteen.

Jacob Zeigler, a farm hand was assaulted by three traps near Pine Grove, Schuylkill county, and was badly beaten and robbed of all his money.

Lebanon is to have a new military company.

Lewis Browning the Republican member of the Board of Commissioners of Bedford county, interred in behalf of a teacher in a fight with the scholars in a school-house in the township of Southampton, and captured a blood vessel near the heart in his exertions so that he dropped dead.

A Franklin county man gave the publisher of the Chambersburg Repository a twenty dollar gold piece in payment for his subscription.

A peddler fell down the steps of a hotel in Lewistown last week and broke one of his ribs.

The Elder Street Presbyterian Church in Harrisburg was destroyed by fire on Monday a week.

Philadelphia has counted up and found that she has 140,000 houses under mortgage.

Miss Kate Hackett, of Tredyffrin, Chester county, has just finished a quilt containing 3,000 pieces. Within the last three years Miss Hackett has made fourteen quilts, and is now on her fifteenth, none of which contain less than eleven hundred pieces.

Mrs. Sarah Fetter of Fairview, Cumberland county, died from the effects of chloroform on Sunday administered by Dr. Trimmer, a dentist, while extracting teeth.

James Cullen of Spruce Creek, was awarded the prize of $100 offered by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to the Supervisor keeping his best division in the best condition. Mr. Cullen's division extends from Spruce Creek to Altoona, and was found to be in excellent trim. He received a voucher for $100 last week.

Rev. R. P. Campbell, pastor of the M. E. church at Woodland, Clearfield county, died in that place on Wednesday afternoon a week. He had been sick for about ten days with pneumonia.

Mr. Campbell joined the Central Pennsylvania Conference in 1875, and gave notice of being an able minister. He was aged about thirty years and had only been married a little over a year leaving a wife and one child.

The Philadelphia boy who manifested some of the symptoms of hydrophobia, snapping and barking like a dog while suffering from convulsions, is in a fair way of recovery.

Don't put your money in a tin box, for thieves will run away with the box if they get into the house, which is illustrated by a despatch which says that on Monday a week, while Mr. Henry Stroup, of Pittsburg, who keeps a saloon, was away from home with his family, the premises were entered and robbed of $4,000, which was concealed in a tin box.

In Schuylkill, Northumberland, Columbia and Dauphin counties there are employed in different capacities about the coal mines 25,816 men and boys. The last monthly reports of the mine inspectors show that in that time there were forty accidents, and seven of these were fatal.

Frederick Kyss, a miner of Nanticoke, Luzerne county, was assaulted on Saturday night near Kingston by three boys, who kicked his head almost into a jelly. He died on Monday. Condy McGee, one of his assailants, has been arrested. The other two are residents of Hazleton.

A story comes from Easton that a crowd surrounded the house of Rev. Dr. Bacon, a Methodist minister, on Sunday night a week, and the greatest excitement prevailed, owing to his having defamed two ladies of the place. He apologized to the ladies, and promised to do so in church, when the crowd left.

GENERAL ITEMS.

A French naval surgeon says coffee is a specific for typhoid fever.

In Richmond, Va., Lizzie Perkins, a notorious thief, was sentenced to receive seventy-eight lashes and to be imprisoned twelve months on two charges of larceny. While in the court room she attempted to choke herself with a handkerchief, but was detected in time to save her life.

A special despatch from Chicago says there is likely to be a lively row in the Butchers' Union over the funds collected to carry on the recent strike. $12,000 were collected, and the officers of the Union can only account for less than $5,000. They charge that one of the relief committees has absconded with the remainder of the money.

Two young men at Newburg, N. Y., have sacrificed their lives to the walking water. The first was Elijah Van Kuren, who was a persistent walker, but finally went into a decline and died of consumption. The other was James Crawford, known as "Hoppy" Crawford aged 23. He has died of the same disease as Kuren, and both deaths are attributed to over-exertion on the track.

Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague gave a dinner party at Washington on Wednesday to a few gentlemen and ladies, among whom were several members of the Supreme Court. Senator Conkling and Mrs. Conkling were present. It is said by a gentleman well qualified to know that immediately after the affair at Cannonet last summer Mrs. Conkling wrote a letter to Mrs. Sprague inviting her to accept the hospitalities of the Conkling house at Utica.

The Democratic out did not succeed in pulling the Greenback monkey's chestnuts out of the fire up in Maine, but it got its fingers badly burned in the attempt.

The "big tree" district in California will probably be reserved as a public park.

A special dispatch from Warsaw, Ind., says:—Matthew Tracy, a farmer of Whitley county, has been missing since Thursday, January 22, on which day he would some logs at South Waverly for $120, and started for home, some seven miles distant. A hatchet and club covered with blood and hair were found under a bridge over East river. A further search discovered a coat and an empty pocket book, which were identified as belonging to Tracy. It is now supposed he was murdered and thrown into the river. The river has been dragged, but thus far without success."

Legal Notices.

NOTICE OF APPEALS.

THE County Commissioners will hold the County Appeals on the triennial assessments for the year 1880, at the following times and places, to wit: For the borough of Port Royal, at the Public House of John McManis, in Port Royal, on Monday, February 9, 1880. For the township of Turbett, at the Public House of John McManis in Port Royal on Tuesday, February 10, 1880. For the township of Beale, at the Public House of Gideon Haldeman in Johnstown, on Wednesday, February 11, 1880. For the township of Tuscarora, at the Public House of Abraham Evans in East Waterford, on Thursday, Feb. 12, 1880. For the township of Luck, at the Public House of John McManis in East Waterford, on Friday, February 13, 1880. For the township of Spruce Hill, at the Spruce Hill School House in said township on Saturday, February 14, 1880. For the township of Milford, at the Public House of John Foreman in the borough of Patterson, on Wednesday, February 18, 1880. For the borough of Patterson, at the Public House of John Foreman in Patterson, on Thursday, February 19, 1880. For the township of Fermanagh, at the Court House in Millintown, on Friday, February 20, 1880. For the township of Millintown, at the Court House in Millintown, on Saturday, February 21, 1880. For the township of Fayette, at the Public House of W. W. Sharon in McAlesterville, on Monday, February 23, 1880. For the township of Moore, at the Public House of Ephraim Grubbill in Richfield, on Tuesday, February 24, 1880. For the township of Susquehanna, at the Public House of H. K. Fenwick in said township, on Wednesday, Feb. 25, 1880. For the township of Greenwood, at the Public House of Thomas Cox in said township, on Thursday, February 26, 1880. For the township of Delaware and the borough of Thompsonston, at the Public House of Mrs. Snyder in Thompsonston, on Friday, February 27, 1880. For the township of Walker, at the Public House of Wm. Knisely in Mexico, on Saturday, February 28, 1880.

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to trespass on the lands of the undersigned, by fishing, hunting, cutting timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Wm. Thompson T. S. Thompson
J. B. Thompson E. P. Hudson
Win G. Thompson Abram Shelly
Davis Smith, Jr. C. A. Sherman
Oct 9, 1878.

CAUTION NOTICE.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against trespassing on the lands of the undersigned, by fishing, hunting, cutting timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Levi Light. HARRISON MIXEM.
Sept 2, 1879-ly

CAUTION NOTICE.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against trespassing on the lands of the undersigned, by fishing, hunting, cutting timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Peter Miller Henry Rash
Daniel Shadle George Dressler
E Long & S Dimm Frederick Roats
Joel Dressler Jonathan Miller
Nov 29, 1878

CAUTION NOTICE.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against trespassing on the lands of the undersigned, by fishing, hunting, cutting timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

L. E. ATKINSON,
N. A. LUKERS,
G. S. LUKERS.
Oct 21-1f

NOTICE.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against trespassing, for hunting, or other purpose, on the lands of the undersigned, in said township, Juniata county, Pa. HENRY GRUBBILL, E. K. BELEY, JOHN CESSINGHAM, HENRY GRAMER.
Dec 10, 1877-1f

CAUTION NOTICE.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against trespassing on lands of the undersigned, in hunting, cutting timber, breaking down fences, &c.

H. L. McKeen. John Gray.
Alexander Anderson. John Milliken.
Jane McCulloch. [Oct 22, 1879-1f]

CAUTION NOTICE.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against trespassing, for hunting, or other purpose, on the lands of the undersigned, in said township, Juniata county, Pa. HENRY GRUBBILL, E. K. BELEY, JOHN CESSINGHAM, HENRY GRAMER.
Dec 10, 1877-1f

CAUTION NOTICE.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against trespassing on lands of the undersigned, in hunting, cutting timber, breaking down fences, &c.

H. L. McKeen. John Gray.
Alexander Anderson. John Milliken.
Jane McCulloch. [Oct 22, 1879-1f]

CAUTION NOTICE.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against trespassing, for hunting, or other purpose, on the lands of the undersigned, in said township, Juniata county, Pa. HENRY GRUBBILL, E. K. BELEY, JOHN CESSINGHAM, HENRY GRAMER.
Dec 10, 1877-1f

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.

Samuel Waite John Resbour.
Hugh T. McAlister. S. C. Myers.
John Mosser. Jacob Whitton.
James McMorris. William Thompson.
Robert McAlister. [Aug 27, 79]

CAUTION.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespassing on the lands of the undersigned.