Fik a Forbidden Food in China.

The Chinese, who esteem rats to be a delicacy, are down on the use of milk. The following translation of a Chinese placard regarding the highly immoral practice of consuming cow's milk is sent for publication : "Strictly refrain from eating cow's milk! Man should not rob the beasts of their food. More-

Sunlight

In all houses with a north front it is the south side of the house during the winter months. The sun rises and sets during the six cold months of the year to the southeast of west, so that south rooms are warmed up by rays of the sun more or less during the entire day. Those who have never experimen-ed with the difference will probably be surprised to learn that there is a difference of from five to twenty-five degrees in the thermometer between the north and south exposures, five to ten degrees difference in the morning and atternoon, and from twenty to twenty-five degrees in the middle of the day.
