

SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

WEDNESDAY, MAY 5, 1880.

B. F. SCHWEIER,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Republican State Ticket.

HENRY GREEN, OF NORTHAMPTON COUNTY.

ADULTER GENERAL,
JOHN A. LEMON,
OF BLAIR COUNTY.

ODD FELLOWSHIP in America is six-ty-one years old.

Kearney is worth $60,000. He has been a poor practical communist.

The Republican State Convention of Ohio declared for Sherman for President.

The Democratic State Convention nominated George E. Jenks, of Jefferson county, for Supreme Judge, and Robert P. Decker, of Philadelphia, for Auditor General.

JOSEPH BERLIN, of Westmoreland county, voted for Jefferson, and for every Democratic presidential candidate since. He was ninety-six when he voted for Tilden—old enough to know better.

The question that heaves the bosom of Pennsylvania Democracy is that it is not to be Samuel Tilden at Cincinnati, it is to be Samuel Randall. That is what he meant when he said "This is the happiest moment of my life."

A lot of Democratic statesmen attending the late State Convention at Harrisburg, were indicted, and a true bill found by the Dauphin county Grand Jury, for "pointing firearms." They were released on bail, for trial at the August term of court.

A Pittsburg pastor has been dismissed because he could not make both ends meet. He ran in debt pretty heavily, and the church, instead of paying him a bigger salary, concluded to get a minister who could live on what they were willing to give.

It is said that "the recent election in England cost the Gladstone party alone ten millions of dollars, exclusive of personal expenses of candidates, which ranged from five thousand to fifty thousand dollars. Let not the English say anything, after this, about the use of money in American politics."

MR. SAMUEL RANDALL was Tilden's man at Harrisburg, and he got his plans accomplished. They voted down the unit rule, and send the delegation to Cincinnati uninstrued. It is the work of Tilden. He is not for Hancock. If he wants the nomination, the Democracy will give it to him. He is determined to be in a position to dictate the nomination in case he concludes not to have it himself.

MR. SMITH, one of the delegates at large, elected by the Democratic State Convention to go to Cincinnati, made a public announcement of his withdrawal from the nomination of the party. He told the convention that delegates elected to go to Cincinnati should not trouble themselves about securing quarters while attending the National Convention, because all that will be attended to for them without cost. If that does not fix them for S. J. it may fix them for S. R., and then what's the difference.

THAT a hard knot of people attempted the Democratic State Convention at Harrisburg last Wednesday may be learned from the following from a Harrisburg paper: The people of Harrisburg did not know of the volcano on which they slept the night before the meeting of the Convention. The worst element in the State, gathered from all quarters, was congregated in our city, and from ten o'clock last night until three o'clock this morning there was a succession of rowdy riots and fights that only the brave and determined efforts of our small band of police were able to partially subdue. Factions met and hammered each other, old friends were revived and the knife and the pistol superseded the fist as a means of injury. While the police were attempting to suppress a row at the foot of Market street a vigorous fight would be started some where in the vicinity of Third and Market. Near the depot a gang of roughs wearing white hats stood on the pavement and unceremoniously knocked down every person who came by. One of them tackled the wrong customer in the shape of a Harrisburg machinist, and was knocked so stiff that it was only by drenching him with water and vigorously rubbing him that he was restored to consciousness.

Towards midnight the Mayor saw that the police force was too small and he swore in sufficient special policemen to double it. A number of citizens, alarmed for the safety of the place, were ready to respond to any call for help. A prominent Philadelphia, who knew the crowd in our midst, sent word to the Mayor that he must use every precaution or there would be a general row on our streets. Of course all care was taken to suppress as much as possible the riotous element. Shortly after midnight a general fight was started in the vicinity of Market and Canal streets and knock-downs were numerous. A policeman in trying to quell the disturbance is reported to have been beaten badly. Two of the roughs were knocked down an area at the United States Hotel, but they were not much injured. On being helped up, they threw the area a small colored boy to get their hats. The boy was hurt considerably.

About three o'clock this morning a party of them got into the Grand Hotel, and during the dispute a free fight was started. Pistols were drawn and the mob began firing indignantly. Fire Commissioner Frank Haggerty, of Philadelphia, shot at a man named Conner, an employee of the coroner's office, Philadelphia, and missed him, the bullet grazing the chin of a man named Young.

Towards daylight the fighting died out. There was a cessation of hostilities, the weary fighters retiring to seek rest.

Democratic Platform, as Adopted Last Week at Harrisburg.

The Democratic Platform, as adopted by the State Convention last week, is composed of twelve resolutions.

The first resolve is to stand by the faith of the Democratic fathers of the past, and may be construed to mean to adopt slavery and every thing else that Democratic fathers advocated in the past.

The second resolve is not so dangerous a one. It resolves that the liberties of the people are vital to the life of the nation. The Republicans thought so when they gave freedom to the colored people.

The third resolve is in regard to keeping the military power under the civil power. They forgot to put into the resolution that the Republican party had to raise armies to crush out the military power of Rebellion, which overthrew the civil power of the nation wherever it could do so.

The fourth resolve is in regard to a free ballot. They forgot that Democrats and Democratic rebels made it necessary oftentimes to call out the military to secure men against the assault of the bully at the polls, who sought to keep people from voting a free ballot.

The fifth resolve is that President Hayes does not hold his seat by a legal decision of the people at the polls, which is correct, for there has been a legal election held in the South since the war; people there have been balloted into voting against their convictions.

The sixth resolve favors a currency redeemable in coin, which the Republicans have always done. If they believe that such a Republican plank will help them they can leave it.

The seventh resolve declares against a system of subsidies by the Government, State and Nation, and gives it to rings, corporations, &c., but it does not say that it favors the action of the Democratic Daddies on those points; that would be a little dangerous in the light of the fact of the corporate bank charter business that Democratic Legislatures used to indulge in, and in the light of the fact of the canal ring business in Pennsylvania, which they other people were trying to get the four million ticket damage bill through the Legislature of Pennsylvania. The history of the case is against the platform, and clearly proves that it was the business of the Commonwealth and not the politics that sought to get the four million bill through. The leading men against the four million bill were Republicans, and the leading men against the bribing lobby were Republicans.

The eighth resolve is in regard to the Hayes and Tilden campaign, and charges that Hayes did not receive his election by righteous means. The right way to answer and settle that question, will be for the people to vote for the Republican Presidential candidate in such numbers that his majority will be too large to dispute over.

The ninth resolve is against transportation companies being put on a level above the law.

The tenth resolve is an effort to create the impression that Republicans more than other people were trying to get the four million ticket damage bill through the Legislature of Pennsylvania. The history of the case is against the platform, and clearly proves that it was the business of the Commonwealth and not the politics that sought to get the four million bill through. The leading men against the four million bill were Republicans, and the leading men against the bribing lobby were Republicans.

The eleventh resolve is in regard to the Hayes and Tilden campaign, and charges that Hayes did not receive his election by righteous means. The right way to answer and settle that question, will be for the people to vote for the Republican Presidential candidate in such numbers that his majority will be too large to dispute over.

The twelfth resolve is that Democratic Delegates to the National Convention are instructed to vote as unit upon all questions, and they are further instructed to oppose the abrogation of the two-thirds rule.

FISHERMEN at Columbia dam attempted to prevent the State fish ward from keeping a "watch" on duty day and night, to find out who is violating the State fish law. The guards of the dam were assaulted, their boats were broken, they were pushed into the water, and subjected to great indignities.

At the session of the National Butter, Egg and Cheese convention at Indianapolis, on Thursday, a resolution was adopted that trade relations be stopped with all commission houses selling oleomargarine.

Judge Jere Black has gone to Europe.

The streets of Titusville are to be lighted with the electric light as an experiment.

John Nelson, a Johnstown man with some property, deserted his wife and four children to run away with his servant girl.

A letter dated August 2, 1753, has been found in Reading in an excellent state of preservation.

Miss Eva Ernest, a young lady of Pittsburg, attempted suicide by jumping into the river. Her work is said to have been the cause.

The Company's Altoona payroll now reaches $175,000 a month.

Senator Ernstrout, of Reading, will write a history of the Pennsylvania Germans.

A horse plunger in West Chester has operated upon fifty-four animals this season.

E. G. Dill, a brother of the ex-Senator from Union county, died in Harrisburg on his way home from New Orleans to Lewisburg. He was seriously ill on the train, and died within twenty-four hours after his arrival at Harrisburg where, he was to change cars.

A fire, started to kill a snake, near Downingtown, resulted in the consumption of 550 cords of wood, as many posts and a thousand rails. The snake was killed, however.

Enough money has been raised to rebuild Pardee Hall, Easton.

Four hundred and fifty new dwelling houses are in course of erection at Altoona this season.

Rev. Dr. Debo, of Meadville, is on trial in his church on a charge of scandalizing his brethren.

Pennsylvania has twenty-four cities and five hundred and fifty boroughs.

Miss Minich, of Wolf's Store, Centre county, who is now 21 years old, has a head the size of a half bushel measure.

Other portions of the body are of normal proportion.

Sharon boasts of a lady abolitionist who is anxious to shoot a rifle match with any marksman in that county for any sum of money which may be put up.

STATE ITEMS.

Bradford has already had a case of snoutrot.

There is a leper in New Oxford, Adams county.

The Glass Works at Rochester are to be enlarged.

Senator Haulin's wife is thirty years younger than he.

A cat that had reached her 22d year died recently at Bradford.

Thomas McCarthy, of Pittsburg, accused himself of murder while seized with delirium tremens. His story has been corroborated.

Large numbers of cows are dying in Chester county from unknown causes.

Corn is above ground in parts of Chester county.

A Lebanon county farmer put $10 in silver in his stove for safe keeping, but forgetting it, he built a fire and recovered nothing but bullion.

William Housler and Andrew W. Stine well-known characters in Tappan McKean county, have been arrested for causing the recent fire in that place by which $4,000 worth of property was destroyed.

While Reuben Geist was digging sand near Topton, Berks county, on Monday week, the bank caved in. Geist escaped, but his 6-year-old son was buried and smothered to death.

The mourners at the funeral of a colored man in West Chester got into a terrific fight over her effects before the funeral services were held. After matters quieted down the services took place.

Mrs. Samuel Riechenbach, 82 years of age, was buried to death in Lower Milford township, Lehigh county, on Saturday last week.

At Byron Centre, McKean county on Monday J. G. Gross, a baker, was burned to death. A lamp left burning at his bedside exploded, scattering its contents over the bed.

A Bradford (Pa.) dispatch states that John Tully and Luke Kane, of Olean, went to the house of John Smith, an old man, on Tuesday night a week and beat him terribly. His thirteen-year-old son came to his father's rescue, and with a shotgun killed Kane. Subsequently Tully had the boy arrested.

This is the worst rafting season ever known on the Susquehanna.

A Harrisburg man of almost seventy years courted a young woman for four years, married her, lived a single day with her and then disappeared.

At Pittsburg several days ago, during a bar-room quarrel between William Tate, mate of the steamer J. N. Phillips, and Jacob C. Merriman, engineer of the steamer Stella McCloskey, Merriman knocked Tate down twice, and in the last fall his head struck the pavement with such force as to break his neck and cause instant death. Merriman was arrested.

A number of cannon balls and canisters were found by workmen digging a trench on the site of old Fort Bedford, which was held by the British in 1758.

Smith N. Harkness, of Springfield Bradford county, lost his wife on the 5th inst., and this loss so preyed upon his mind that he went into a barn, and setting fire to it, perished in the flames.

Mrs. Mary C. Reno, wife of the late General Jesse L. Reno, died at Bethlehem on Sunday, April 18th, from the effects of a fall in that place, caused by a defect in the street. Just previous to her death she was paid $5,000 as damages for her injuries.

Anderson Wold, a Swede, was shot and killed at Johnston on Monday night by Clem Burke, a fellow-boarder. The Swede had not been drinking, and returning home late, tried to enter a woman's room. Burke, who slept in the adjoining room, and who was awakened by the noise, called to the Swede to be more quiet, and immediately afterward rushed out of his room and fired upon him. Burke escaped.

Charles Townsend, five years of age residing at Knowlton, Chester county, Pa., was bitten by a dog on the twenty-seventh of March, and died on Monday night the 29th ult., from a severe attack of hydrophobia.

James Saunders broke his neck by falling down a well at Liberty Grove, in Chester county, on Monday week.

A young man named Bradford, was trying to hold a lead pipe steady by resting his weight upon it, but when the stop-cock was turned on, the oil and gas flowed with so much force that the pipe was broken, and Nugent was thrown into the air ten or fifteen feet. In falling, his forehead struck on a slab, and the frontal bone over the right eye was crushed in.

Matthew Smith, a saloon keeper in Pittsburg committed suicide by shooting himself through the head, taking his position in front of a mirror in which to make sure of his aim. He was forty years old, and left a wife. William Y. Mason a merchant and farmer of Meadville, bang his self in his barn. He leaves a widow and three children. Levi R. Hopt, an old man, of Rockdale, cut his throat.

James Johnson, a boatman of Pennsylvania, Lancaster county, stood up before the glass and cut his throat. James Francis, of Kimberton, took a razor and cut his throat before the eyes of his wife.

R. R. Williams, of Allentown eloped with a Mrs. Harris, of Yorktown Pa. The woman drew $310 out of bank that her husband had deposited in her name, and, departing Williams at Allentown, she met Williams at Harrisburg the lover obtained the money from the woman, bought her a ticket for Chicago, pocketed the balance of the money, and when the train started he said he would go into an other car a few minutes, he left the train, the woman sat on as far as Allentown when it became clear to her mind that she had been deserted and robbed. In a frame of mind burdening on insanity she presented herself to the mayor of Altoona, who sent her back to her husband.

A Lancaster dispatch last Friday says: Intelligence has just reached this city of the death at her husband's residence in Bainbridge, this county, of Mrs. Sarah Brubaker, aged twenty-five years. Her mother, coming to the house to visit her, found her three children down stairs alone. Going up she found her daughter kneeling by the bedside, with her head thrown back and life extinct. She had been troubled for some time with pain in the heart and it is supposed that, feeling ill she knelt down to pray and died while at that attitude. An inquest was held, and a verdict of "death from organic disease of the heart" was rendered.

STATE ITEMS.

The Allentown fire Department paraded on the 17th of May.

A number of iron works in Lawrence county have shut down.

A female college is to be erected at Bryn Mawr, Montgomery county.

At Glendon the other day 8000 tons of stone were thrown into the air by one blast.

There will be little increase in the tobacco acreage in Lancaster county this year, owing to the scarcity of labor. The plants are coming up nicely, and will soon be ready for planting, which has begun already.

Henry Harris and William Beckley, alias Gidiger, have gone to jail in default of $1000 bail for forging the name of E. H. Putzman to a check for $600 on the Pottsdam National Bank.

The Fish Wardens started out to see who was breaking the law above Columbia dam, and were quite surprised at the attack in force by a party of men, who unannouncedly seized their boat and proceeded to cut it in pieces, leaving the astonished Fish Wardens to get back to Wrightsville the best way they could after a ducking in five feet of water.

Ed. Watkins, who escaped from the Eastern jail in 1872, returned back to the old burg, got in another scrape, and was sentenced to pay part of the costs. After paying his costs he vanquished the court house, preparatory to leaving town, when he was nabbed for his old crime and rejauged to finish his sentence.

A Pittsburg dispatch says William L. Fox, aged 30, died in the cars near Clarion, on noon day. He was on his way to attend the murder trial of John Klatsky, who killed Conductor Gaither of the railway in which Fox was the principal stockholder. Mr. Fox was the manager of the vast oil farms of Foxburg, and one of the most prominent men in the oil regions.

A dispatch from Edenburg, Clarion county says: Godfrey Ansel, a wealthy farmer, of Beaver township, Clarion county, came to Edenburg on Wednesday during the day and managed to get very drunk. At night he started for home, about two miles distant. On the way he stopped at the house of his son David, and he broke some furniture with his sledge hammer. David who was in bed got up and dressed and tried to quiet his father. He took his arm and proceeded to lead him home. They had gone but a short distance when the father drew a pocket knife with a blade five inches long and plunged the blade into his son's side. The son died at five o'clock this evening. The father was arrested. His age is sixty-five years.

GENERAL ITEMS.

Wendell Phillips never goes to church and takes no part in religious worship anywhere.

Ralph Waldo Emerson keeps cows and sells milk to Concord housekeepers.

White stock thieves, disguised as Indians on the 20th instant killed John Deffenback and drove off 150 head of horses from the Inyan Karu mountain, fifty miles west of Deadwood. D. T. Deffenback was one of the heaviest stock men in the West. He leaves a wife and five children.

A farmer at Rochester, Mo., told his wife that $800, which they had saved by many years of industry and economy, had been stolen. He was mistaken, for within an hour he found the treasure where he had mislaid it; but the wife had already died of heart disease, in consequence of the shock.

Work on the tunnel under the Hudson river, between New York and New Jersey, is progressing satisfactorily. The tunnel has been excavated twenty feet under the river, and progresses at the rate of five feet per day. No beginning has yet been made on the New York side of the river.

Whenever a tax collector visits the house of Julia Still, who lives alone in Orange county, New York, she bolts the doors and refuses to respond to the collector's calls. She has had no fire in her house for the last eight years, buying food already cooked. She is a woman of education and likes to read.

A Montreal butcher pleaded guilty to having sold a woman food that was unfit for human food, but the court discharged him upon the plea of his counsel that according to the existing law the court has not the power to punish a man for selling bad meat, but only for "exposing for sale" such meat.

A News' special from Austin, Texas, says Mrs. Houston, living in the country, yesterday, in a fit of insanity, attempted to murder her five children by driving knitting needles into their brain through their ears. One was killed, and two others are seriously injured.

A fisherman at Dover bridge, on the Choptank river, down the Peninsula, brought up in his seine the other day a cannon ball weighing eight and a half pounds, and stamped with the date 1602. Near the spot was found an old cannon lying in shallow, and a few hundred yards from there another cannon, which was many years served as a landmark. The ball fitted both of these cannons. The Norfolk times thinks it is a relic of Captain John Smith, who explored the Chesapeake in 1608.

As a Missoula, Montana, stage was passing the Marshall Grade at midnight two weeks ago Mr. leader missed his footing and fell into the abyss. The horse's weight threw the others of the team sideways, and in turn the coach followed. Horses and vehicle made three complete revolutions in the sheer-down fall, but neither of the two passengers were killed. The driver escaped by leaping from his seat to the road, where he caught yet hung on the verge of the precipice. The horses were all killed and the wounds of the passengers were severe.

Hony Long was on Monday week undergoing an examination before a Magistrate in Blue Rock township, Harrison county, Ind., on the charge of having murdered John C. Drinker, who had mysteriously disappeared after some trouble with Long. During the examination a mob of 100 masked men made their appearance on horseback and attempted to secure Long, whereupon he shot and killed the leader of the gang, Henry L. Otte. The mob fired on Long, but the latter escaped to the woods, and the only trace of him since discovered are drops of blood; but it is believed that the mob overtook and murdered him and threw his body into the river. His wife and a number of neighbors have been notified to leave.

GENERAL ITEMS.

The Berry pickers from New Jersey have been rendered destitute by the forest fires.

The great fever is spreading in Georgia and passed over Mon, Miss., destroying $100,000 worth of property and killing 17 persons.

Mr. Jefferson Davis has been invited to give a memorial address on the Confederate Decoration Day at Macon, Miss.

The gift presented to Mrs. Heister Clymer on her marriage, by the House Committee on Appropriations, was a silver ice cream set lined with gold.

Mr. Gough says that when he told 6,000 people in Exeter Hall of Mrs. Jeffrey's great moral courage in refusing to offer wine to her guests at the White House, they instantly gave three cheers.

A boy was bitten on the wrist by a black spider in Columbus county, S. C., the other day and died in a few minutes from the effects of the poison.

A negro has been arrested at Millersburg, Ky., for playing on a French harp in church during service. His defense is that king David played the harp.

A Yale College man who used to lead in affairs of hazing, and who was considered "immense," is now selling paper and gets angry in a country store, and gapes musing in a washery man tries to beat him down on the price of a bar of soap.

A bill has been introduced in the New York Legislature making the teaching of sewing compulsory in the public schools of that State.

A Western minister put to flight a crowd of curbstone loafers on a recent Sunday by sending the deacons out with the contribution box.

Farmers in Delaware contemplate making an attempt to cultivate sugar beets. Hundreds of thousands of tons of beet sugar are manufactured every year in France, and there is no reason why that country should enjoy a monopoly of this saccharine industry.

Did you ever see a bird with a wood on leg? One has been caught in England—a pheasant. They have just been heard of in the forest of Windsor. It was put on by a London sportsman, who while out hunting during his vacation, found the pheasant caught by one leg in a trap. The bones were completely smashed, and the leg bled freely. Taking out his case of pocket instruments, the surgeon carefully amputated the leg, and then made a neat little artificial leg, fastened it to the stump and released the bird.

One of the latest contrivances is a self-leveling berth, for use on shipboard to prevent seasickness. These berths are made of solid wood. They are attached both above and below to universal joints and are weighted underneath by crescent shaped cylinders of iron. This arrangement is designed to keep the berths perpetually level, no matter what angle the vessel herself may take, and consequently to do away with seasickness entirely. To further maintain the berths in their orbit and prevent sudden changes of position they are provided with spiral springs.

It is estimated that the great lull estate now owns 39,000 head of cattle. It includes 8 ranches, the principal one being a hundred and sixty miles in length by sixty miles in width. They are situated between the Union Pacific Railroad and the South Platte River, and reach westward to the foot hills, including portions of Colorado, Wyoming, and Nebraska. Within the past two years there have been added to the herd by purchases 17,000 cattle from Texas, while the calves branded within that time number about 8,000 head. Within the same period 15,021 have been marketed for beef and 17,000 will be marketed this year. The value of the estate is estimated at $1,500,000.

The following dreadful crime is reported from Waterbury Vt., under date of April 27th. At Duxbury, Vt., yesterday, Almon Meeker, about twenty years of age, was arrested on suspicion of being connected with the disappearance of his cousin, a young girl whom his parents had charge of. He made a confession implicating his mother, who he said had administered strychnine, after getting the girl out walking in the Waterbury River Valley. He admitted he had gotten the strychnine and helped bury the body in a swamp. He afterward went with an officer to the spot, and the body was recovered. There were no marks of violence, so the contents of the stomach will be analyzed. The girl and a seven year-old brother were left paupers on the town of Charlotte, which gave their uncle $400 to assume charge of them. It is not supposed that the uncle, Samuel Meeker, knew anything of the crime. Mrs. Meeker and her son were locked up, although the young man now says his mother was not with him. His first statement was that the girl was cross, and they wanted to get rid of her.

THE JUNIATA FARMERS' MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

McALISTERVILLE, PA.
(Limited to the Seven Townships East of the Juniata River.)

Insures Houses, Furnitures, Merchandise, and all other contents of Stock, &c., against Fire or Lightning.

This Company has, by its economical management, secured the confidence of the public, and has, during the first six months of its existence, issued policies on property to the aggregate amount of $400,000.

and we have no hesitancy in predicting that in less than another six months it will reach $1,000,000.

The object of the association is MUTUAL PROTECTION.

each and member has an interest in the prudent and economical management of the Company—thereby affording a guarantee for its proper control.

Applications for insurance may be made to the Secretary, who will either call on you, or promptly send an agent.

DIRECTORS: Hon. Samuel Watts, W. H. Kinnison, Joseph T. Smith, George Martin, John Newman, William Herman, Jonathan Ketcher, John N. Moore, William Peopler.

Hon. SAMUEL WATTS, Pres't.

W. H. KINNISSON, Sec'y.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves to fish, hunt, gather berries, break or open fences, or cut wood or young timber, or in any unnecessary way trespass on the lands of the undersigned.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned not to allow their dogs to run, or themselves