dimensions, about seventy-five feet vellow with them, and if there was one two oldest king-pins of the crowd were in the centre, and the other snakes were all gathered about them. Each and every dicative of a general on a battle-ground.

After serveying the situation and apparent-

Stranger than Fiction.

I ever witnessed."

VOL. XXXIV.

MIFFLINTOWN, JUNIATA COUNTY, PENNA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 12, 1880.

NO. 20.

H. T. HELMBOLD'S

COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT

BUCHU.

PHARMACEUTICAL.

A SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR ALL

DISEASES

BLADDER & KIDNEYS.

For Debility, Loss of Memory, Indisposi-tion to Exertion or Business, Shortness of Breath, Troubled with Thoughts of Discase, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Chest, and Head, Rush of Blood to the Head, Pale Countenance, and Dry Skin. If these symptoms are allowed to go on, very frequently Epileptic Fits and Con-sumption follow. When the constitution becomes affected it requires the aid of an invigorating medicine to strengthen and tone up the system—which

"Helmbold's Buchu"

DOES IN EVERY CASE.

IS UNEQUALED

By any remedy known. It is prescribed by 9 Rheumatism. Spermatorrhosa, Neuralgia, Nervousness

General Debility, Kidney Diseases, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy, Head Troubles,

Paralysis, General Ill-Health. Spinal Diseases, Nervous Comple

Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Eruptions, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Palpitation of the Reart, Pain in the region of the Kinneys, and a thousand other painful symptoms, are the off-prings of Dyspepsia.

Invigorates the Stomach,

And stimulates the torpid Liver, Bowela, and Kidneys to healthy action, in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

A single trial will be quite sufficient to convince the most hesitating of its valuable remedial qualities.

PRICE $1 PER BOTTLE

Or Six Bottles for 85, divered to any address free from obser tion.

"Patients" may consult by letter, receiv-ing the same attention as by calling, by answering the following questions:

Your age and sex! 2. Occupation?
4. Married or single?
5. Height, weight, now and in health?
6. How long have you been sick?
7. Your complexion,colog of hair and eyes?
8. Have you a stooping or erect gait?
9. Relate without reservation all you know aqout your case. Enclose one dollar as consultation fee. Your letter will then receive our attention, and we will give you they nature of your disease and our osabile opinion concerning a cure.

SOLD STREETWEEN

H. T. HELMBOLD, Philodelphia, Po.

OLD AGE.

I often think each tottering form That limps along in life's decline, Once were a heart as young, as warm.

As full of idle thought as mine! And each has had its dream of joy. His own unequaled pure romance Commencing when the blushing boy First thrilled at lovely woman's glance.

And each could tell his tale of worth : Would think its scenes of love svince More passion, more uncar hly truths,

Than any tale before or since ; Yes, they could tell of ten ler days At midnight penned in classic shades Of days more bright than modern days,

Of maids more fair than modern mails.

In Hard Straits.

"Nine o'clock, sor, an' the hot wather, an' is it the rest of the bacon ye'd be after ye, for she has been rampagin like a hayhavin' for breakfast?"

"Will it not be too much, Bridget?" "Sorra a bit, sor." "Very well."

array myself in unexceptional costume- came to the rescue. shabbier garments, one by one, kindly ad- seated. vancing sundry moneys thereon.

shoulder the great battle of life in the great | would have elegantly expressed it.

the hospital, and hungry as a hunter, I us all.

"Well, old bookworm, ready for breakfast! Where is the captain?"

"The captain!" How the old title, bestowed, set me dreaming. I was roused by the dull thuds of a poker hammering violently at the intervening wall. "All right," I shouted. Ring for the

In a minute there were three of us gazof butter about the size of a walnut, and three tiny rashers, that either could have put out of sight with ease. "Is that all, Bridget?"

Every line of the girl's honest Irish face was eloquent with sympathy. '. Not a bit more, sor."

quantity of fluff and a brace button. I had three-pence half-penny in coppers.

"Odd man out for the bacon," quoth man has been rash enough to invite me to ment; but, strange to say, the girl sank dinner. Hand over the loaf."

Jack gave me one keen glance. I think that looked like a jewel case. he suspected the pious falsehood. Hal- My prostrate friend was relieving his happy as though he had not a care. The Not during to await the arrival of a police. the long bone of a human being. His curifrugal meal had just been disposed of when man, I caught up his victim and her case, only being now very much excited he prowe heard a great puffing and blowing on and made a hasty retreat. At the foot of the third floor. That had but one possible the dilapidated stairs I hesitated. Should meaning-a creditor.

"Whose turn ?" asked Jack, laconically. It was an ancient arrangement, now that on the advent of a dun only one of us should receive him, the others being in the city-that is, in the adjacent bedroom.

"Your own," cried Ha' as we decamped leaving the door sign to watch the course old Blunderson, snorting like a grampus, as and began to speak incoher ently.

Old Blunderson was a general provision his bills really frightened me. He was the and felt the patient's pulse, while I gave a exception that proved that old rule, "Laugh | brief explanation. and grow tat;" as crusty, ill-comlitioned a wretch as ever read one particular portion bed at once, Where does she live? tion of the Lord's Prayer backward. A "I have not an idea. Search her pock modern Fallstaff, minus the wit, he always ets."

seended slowly, resting on each stair. We were safe for about five minutes Jack employed them in preparing for his hospital," suggested Harry. reception, and we watched the proceedings with amused curiosity. The first was to produce a huge tobacco great senseless throb of disapproval. Helmbold's Buchu of tobacco. From this he filled a long clay a nurse, Hal, and she shall have my room. ouch, taking from it about half an ounce pipe-Jack's merschaum had preceded our You will take me in for a night or two?" clothes to the pawnbroker's-depositing the remainder carefully on the table. "An alarming sacrifice!" murmored lack shaking his head over it with a regretful sigh. The next move was to grasp the fire ovel and tongs. "Weapons of offense," whispered Harry. 'He meditates assault and battery-"

Hal stopped abruptly in sheer amaze. my coat and vest might go. nent. Jack was deliberately removing So for three days I patted about the live coals from the fire to the shovel, and apartment in an old tattered dressingupon these he swept his cherished tobacco, gown, being supposed to be down with Then he placed the shovel upon the bot- fever; meanwhile the real patient had tom ledges of two chairs at the further careful attention and strengthing nourishcorner of the room, threw himself into the ment. one nearest the fire, and complacently lighted his long clay. Of course the room filled tast with smoke nd a most pungent odor. "Old Blunderson hates tobacco as a cer-

"Bad policy, though, to irritate him,"

By this time our enemy was in the doorway gasping for breath, and shaking a not talk. Her father is Mr. Builien of great hairy fist at Jack by way of filling street. he interval till speech returned. "You abandoned young profligate!"

Jack removed his pips, nodded and uletly resumed it. "Where are the other scamps?"

steps toward us.

Better not," said Jack.

"Typhoid fever-bad case-contagic fibbed Jack between his puffs.

We saw old Blunderson's face turn ghastly green with fear. Still he looked incredulous; we had played so many tricks

"Gammon!" he gasped at length. Jack rose slowly walked to the corner and produced the shovel.

"Fumigating the room," said he. "Bet ter have a pipe." And old Biunderson fairly turned an ext fleor in seconds instead of minutes. We were laughing at his discomfiture, when Bridget's head appeared at the door. "I thought I'd tell ye, gentlemen, the mistress is just comin'. The saints purtect then all this blessed mornin"." Our faces fell. Mrs. Callaghan, our worthy landlady, was not a foe to be so readily dislodged, and her powers of invec-And with a half groan, I, Basil Hathative were simply unrivaled. Hal was the way, sprang out of bed, and proceeded to only one who could soothe her, and he trowsers, vest and frock-coat. My only "My turn," he said, with a look of comic ones, alas! an accommodating retative disgust. "You fellows get into my room some twenty doors off had taken charge of and clear out of the house as soon as she is

Three of us were in the same plight-and we glided by) with the deepest of mock school-fellows and old chums, now thrown reverences, and an expression of extreme together in manhood by the caprice of devotion on his handsome features. "Mak-Dame Fortune, and fighting shoulder to ing violent love to the old beast!" as he

It was evening of the same day-a dull As I dressed, one of the trio, Hal Trevour, November evening, much in harmony with came bounding by three at a time up the my thoughts, as I leaned against the door post of our house, and recalled the good He was fresh from morning lecture at old times when life was a merry farce for thought with a shudder. I heard his cheer- I had no heart to work. All that day I ful greeting of Jack Hornsey, hard at had hawked my manuscripts from one work since daylight on "Coke on Little- publisher to another, vainly hoping to get who had recently been writing her letter snake had coiled himself up in such a mandirty cook shop, and I was glad to think there must have been just enough cold meat to satisfy the boys at dinner and tea. Presently I would go in and hunt for any fragments that remained, for I was desperately hungry. Through the fog came a slender female figure disguised in a waterproof. She did between me and the banker. ing with rueful looks at the breakfast ar- not notice me until quite abreast, when the rangement. A loaf of stale bread, a piece light fell upon her face. Then as she what a depth of misery lay in the startled

It was a low neighborhood in which we It was a low neighborhood in which we lived, though separated by but a long alley from a fashionable West End street will take care you have no cause to realley from a fashionable West End street will take care you have no cause to realley from a fashionable without delay, and realley from a fashionable west End street will be light enough; cast in your lot with me and rolled a rock down in the crowd, the birds fly, an' one cloud chase t'other."

This broke up the meeting without delay, the continued to blink dreamily. "Turn out your pockets, lads. There is that hour. I crossed the road in order to secompany her unobserved, and had hardly And he produced an exceedingly shiny done so ere I saw her brought up by some man, looming unsteadily in the mist. "Come here, my pretty dear!" said he. She gave a faint scream and tried to slip by him, but the drunken wretch caught her by the loose waterproof. In another sec "No, divide it between you," said I. "A ond he measured his length on the pave-down also insensible, droping something cided the point. "Bridget," said I, this lady has fainted.

Come and help me." "Ah, sure, sor, poor dear!" We carried the stranger to the common of events. "I wish you joy, Jack; it is sitting room, and essayed to bring her "Delirious," said I. It was a great remerchant, who had let himself be beguiled lieve to hear Hal's springing step. He gave into supplying miscellaneous goods until a low whistle of astenishment as he entered,

"Feverish-very. She must be put

But the search was fruitless "Call a cab, and I will take her to the

I looked at the flushed face and bright beautiful eyes, and my heart gave a "No, we cannot turn her away. Fetch

"Of course, old man." and Hal flew off. Then I thought of our landlady.

"Bridget," said I, "how about Mrs. Cal-Johan ! "I am the misthress, sor! Sure. I'll tell her you've got the faver, an' devil a bit will she come nigh ye."

The third day a notable event happened A high-class monthly sent me a guinea for a contribution, and requested a similar one. I worked cheerfully after that till the critain personage hates holy water!" grinned that the young lady was conscious, and asking for her father.

"May I see her?" said I, eagerly. would throw her back. Besides she must ed away and said not a word."

Bullion, the great foreign banker, What brought his daughter unattended; into this vile side street? Time would exhis hat and departed in quest of the great at midnight, he heard his bell ring.

"What is it?" he exclaimed angrily. and a jerk of the speaker's thumb toward imposing air and magnitural demeanor lost the door behind which he stood completed in the agitation of the moment. He shook the sentence

"Your friend has explained all, Mr. going to bed again.

Hathaway. I am deeply grateful to you,

Where is my child?"

The most renowned physician in town. was quickly summoned but in vain. Mr. Bullion begged him to devise means to remove his daughter. At present she must not leave her bed. In a few days, perhaps, with returning strength, she might lie for two or three hours at a time on a sofa in our sitting-room. Further change school of water-moccasins or cotton-mouths was imperatively forbidden. So Mr. Bullion, with many apologies, begged that some of his daughter's favorite pictures, and a few chairs, etc., from her boudoir, might be brought; and we could fled with such celerity that he gained the not refuse. A few hours transformed our bachelor den into a kind of fairy in pairs, clusters or droves, but in columns,

> Mr. Bullion was naturally a constant visitor, and I had to receive him in the tattered dressing gown. Twice he found me writing with manuscripts littered around. county, among the hills on a prospecting "You are an author?" he queried with a expedition. There were rattles

"Pray do not desist from writing on myac-count. May I amuse myself for a time o'clock in the afternoon we were taking a with your papers?" He borrowed a bulky one at leaving-to our horses would stop every few submit it, he said, to a publisher he knew : Next day I received a letter from a well-Next day I received a letter from a well-known firm, offering $250 for the copy-side, and if we had been shot the next right and an additional $250 if a second minute we could not have told from whence edition were called for. In my youth and it emanated. Why, it was worse than the inexperience, it did not occur to me for average church choir. Well, we got to months the money came from the banker's every step we took up. By the time we nocket. Of course I eagerly assented, and took of terrific, and looking down over the side my coat and vest out of pawn-not a day we saw a sight that took the cake. too soon, for Miss Bullien was pronounced On a little plateau of perhaps fifty yards convalescent, and that afternoon her father's strong arms conveyed her from one room to the other. I lived in fairyland for a week till our there were at least ten thousand snakes in guests departed. She explained the visit to the gang. They were of all ages and sizes, our obscure street-it was to pawn jewelry and how they enjoyed themselves. The tor her brother's benefit, a wild lad, whose a loan upon them. My threepence half- after letter, hinting at frightful conseque .- ner as to allow their tails and rattles good penny had been carefully invested at a ces if she did not furnish him with money. play, and they were rattling away as if for you.

wages, and their wicked tongues were darting out and in, keeping up an accom-paniment to their tails. We looked at the "Mr. Hathway," she said, "will you be my friend, and try to reclaim him?" She put a transparent little hand in mine. racket for about a minute, and then with as she spoke, and I promised. Her friend -I would have promised her anything for such a title. Then an eventful conversation took place

"You have abandoned the idea of become light fell upon her face. Then as she gave one frightened glance, I saw two fession of an author is a precarious one. things-how pale and beautiful it was, and Unite it with another pursuit. You are a junior partner having married the senio'rs dens. I have been among snakes all my and absenter, daughter. John Hornsey is their lawyer, life, but that was the first snake concert a man much respected in the profession. Hal Trevoris just beginning to make a stir as a fashionable physician.

daughter of Michael Boelter, who lives in A Cave Mystery. the town of Holden, Goodhue county, Minn., came to her death by the accidental While chasing a rabbit recently near Mardischarge of a gun. The painful accident shall township, Ohio, a gentleman found a recalls other tragic events in the history of hole at the base of a hill, and proceeded to the family to which she belonged, and make a search. Reaching in, he grasped he suspected the pious falsehood. Hal—bless the boy—was quite unconscious, as feelings by a round volley of obscene abuse. something in his hand which proved to be lished. Previous to the Sioux massacre of the long bone of a human being. His curiNot derive to await the arrival of a police. Peo- ing on the Minnesota river, she having a the dilapidated stairs I hesitated. Should pouring in from the surrounding country, I carry my fair burden into Mrs. Callagas the news rapidly spread. The locality but a few months old, and he having a wife and two young children. The Indians killed han's little parlor? The sight of Bridget in is but a short distance from the notorious full flight pursued by shrill invective, de- Bob McKimie's old headquarters, and withhis wife, while he and his children escaped in the range of his once noted gang, nearly and succeeded in making their way to Fort all of whom are now in prison under long Ridgely, and afterward went to St. Paul, we believe. His brother was killed, but McKimie was hid in one of the numerous his sister-in-law and her two children fled caves that exist in the eastern parts of the country, after he had made his escape from jail about three years ago. After digging safety when the fiendish Sioux had compared to the woods near her home, where she secondly, after he had made his escape from jail about three years ago. After digging safety when the fiendish Sioux had compared to the woods near her home, where she secondly, beginning at Big Stone Lake, is separated only by a slight barrier from Lake Traverse. Now imagine that a few ant of the receiving ship Alert, he established a school for the boys, many of whom ceeded on its ways but it was a long time. slab on edge, closing the mouth of a cavern savages went into camp near her hiding about ten by twelve feet square and six place. During the daytime she could see feet high. On the floor lay bones in large number, some human, but the large portion were large of different species of only the pairies and often passed near her in harrier would be overcome and all the replied that he had run large a good-natured laugh at the expense of the pairies and often passed near her in harrier would be overcome and all the tion were bones of different species of ani- going through the woods; and at night she tion were bones of different species of ani-mals. Some of them were in a good state of preservation, and could easily be named their borrid wells. Sometimes after they mals. Some of them were in a good state of preservation, and could easily be named and classified, while others crumbled to dust on being exposed to the air. Bones of wildcats, of rabbits and dogs were found, of wildcats, of rabbits and dogs were found, as long as it lasted, but for the most of wildcats, of rabbits and dogs were found, of the nine tong, weary, dreadful to read and write.

Southward through the Red River and though the Mississippi. The present northward outlet through the Nelson River would be stopped. There would be a mighty stream draining the southward through the Mississippi. The present northward outlet through the Nelson River would be stopped. There would be a mighty stream draining the southward through the Mississippi. The present northward outlet through the Nelson River would be stopped. There would be a mighty stream draining the southward through the Mississippi. The present northward outlet through the Nelson River would be a mighty stream draining the southward through the Mississippi. The present northward outlet through the Nelson River would be a mighty stream draining the southward through the Mississippi. The present northward outlet through the Nelson River would be a mighty stream draining the southward through the Mississippi. The present northward outlet through the Nelson River would be a mighty stream draining the southward through the Mississippi. The present northward outlet through the Nelson River would be stopped. There would be a mighty stream draining the southward through the Mississippi. while hones of some larger animal could part of the nine long, weary, dreadful not be classified, though they are supposed weeks, whose every moment must have to belong to the larger species of wild anibeen filled with a terror worse than death. Some course, picks to belong to the larger species of wild animals, such as panthers, catamounts, bears, been filled with a terror worse than death, she subsisted on the scanty supply of wild etc. There were also found some large bodies of charred wood or charcoal. One of these is as large as an ordinary baseto belong to the larger species of wild ani- been filled with a terror worse than deati-, of these is as large as an ordinary baseof these is as large as an ordinary baseburner stove. Close search was made for metal ornaments, but none was found, metal ornaments, but none was found metal ornaments, but none was found, though several articles of flint and stone in mounds and ancient fortification

An Irishman of Montana was working place mine a few miles from Bear Gulch. and visited that place one day to get his start back, some one told him that if he would go home by way of Sour Kraut One more difficulty remained, and that Guich he would not miss his way, and the greatest-the money problem. Well, would save several miles of walking .- Pat started out, but after traveling several miles the sun was almost down, and he had seen nothing that looked familiar .- At last he made up his mind that he was lost, and, to use his own words, feared that he "would be robbed and murthered entirely all alone." While he was in this state of mind he spied ground with fright. Recovering his self-possession a little, he said: "I thought it wouldn't do to let the bear think I was afraid of him, and concluded I might intisis came, and the nurse gleefully reported midate him by making him think that there were several with me. So, walking king for her father.

"May I see her?" said I, eagerly.

"Dear, dear, no, sir. The excitement bys. When the bear heard that he walk-

Dr. Abernethy did not like to be disturbed in the night. Once when he had isto this vile side street? Time would ex-plain, perhaps. Meanwhile Jack put on bad humor, because he had been woke up

"Very well tell him to swallow a cat, and leave me in quiet!" said the doctor,

Casts from Living Forms

"Talk about snakes," remarked an old Bill Smedley was resting his left foot on ago, "there are more snakes in Arizona than ever existed in Ireland before good old St. Patrick came along and gave them the St. Patrick came along and gave them the grand bounce. Why, I have been every, where; waded southern swamps when I would have to stop a minute, with the water up to my chin, to allow a drove or water u to go by; up in the far northwest and British America I have lived like a fightingcock and to the queen's taste for weeks at a time on snake steak, but I saw more rat-His thoughts were in dreamland. Bill had nakes down in Arizona, last summer was a year ago than ever before in my life, all put together. Down there they don't go just for the world like the children of Israel got up and tramped out of Egypt with Moses, and Aaron in the van, and Joseph, when life's pathway smiled to him, and with his circus coat, bringing up the rear.
I and a friend were over in the Tombstone seemed rose-garland. "Hello, Bill! been looking for you," said the tax-collector, coming up.

There was no reponse. He repeated: Bill, hello! around us, but they did not seem to be very savage. We would scare them up riding "Well?" 'Want to collect your tax." along, and they would sneak away from "Haint no property. "I mean your poll-tax." "Don't own no pole." hill, and, as the ascent was very sharp, "A poll-tax is a tax on yourself, you to blow. Long before we got to the sum-"I ain't no property. mit we heard a strange noise, or rather "But the county court levied this tax on the top after a while, the noise increasing ay for breathin' the air?" "Still you are one of us: you live here. "I didn't bring myself into the world." "Don't want to vote if you charge for us, was a regular rattlesnake reunion and concert. The ground and stones were just

"What if it does; s'pose I'm goin

"The law does, though, of officers? "No; if there was no officers you never find any fresh earth near the burrows ouldn't be here consumin' my time. "The schools must be supported. We just educate the children.

"If you do they won't work." There are other county expenses pers, and so on. If you were to the withmeans you would want us to bury

"No. you needn't." "Why, you would smell bad to other

"I kin stan' it if they kin." an awful flourish the rattling stopped. "I will levy on your property," said the least three feet off the ground, and looked up. "I'll help you; I want to see some of my property.

y seeing that every member of the snake while Bill continued, as if musing: ombination was ready for business, they "Let them fellers have their way, an' sounded a note by way of tuning up, and they'd make life a burden. Want to assess the whole crowd commenced their concert my existence; Want to charge me for enagain. It took them about ten minutes to joyin' the bright sunshine; ask me to pay they'd make life a burden. Want to assess good linguist, and I badly need a foreign finish one tune, and we must have watched for beholdin' the beautiful landscape; correspondent. The hours and duties will them there through at least a half dozen, charge me for lookin' at the grass grow and

I thought of my "friend," and consented. to death, the others set up an awful rat-The firm is Bullion & Hathaway now, the tling, and crawled away to their respective foot-falls of the tax collector grew absenter valley the Red River comes meandering in "And there is a nameless charm of April matter? Who is it?" believe, have never been pubprairie, and is altogether inadequate in size who talks base. husband (who was a brother of her present usband) and two children, the youngest have formerly contained a vastly larger ing prows toward Galion. body of water than now flows through it. nent was a little different from what it is did not know their letters. barrier would be overcome, and all the away from home to escape going to school, though several articles of flint and stone were discovered such as are generally found in mounds and ancient fortifications.

Red River Valley. undred miles long and fifty miles wide- ulster. Not long ago Matilda Boelter, a stepthe southern and higher extremity of the ger.

Then she and the stope and velocity of the great southward river. It will have less and less power to cut its way through obstacles. It will be dammed by the granite ledges home to die. Some soldiers, who were out burying the victims of the massacre, found into a vast lake larger than Superior and the stope and velocity of the great southward river. It will have less and less power to cut its way through obstacles. It will be dammed by the granite ledges be betaten by a boy of fifteen, tried what burying the victims of the massacre, found the stope and velocity of the great southward river. It will have less and less power to cut its way through obstacles. It will spread out into a vast lake larger than Superior and the stope and velocity of the great southward river. It will have less and less power to cut its way through obstacles. It will spread out into a proportionate hole. Then the lieutenant, determined not to be beaten by a boy of fifteen, tried what ridicule would do. He made the boy's of the great southward river. It will have less and less power to cut its way through obstacles. It will spread out into a proportionate hole. Then the lieutenant, determined not to be beaten by a boy of fifteen, tried what ridicule would do. He made the boy's of the great southward river. It will have less and less power to cut its way through obstacles. them, and they were sent to St. Paul, or some other point, where her brother-in-law, who supposed her to have been killed, found her, and at length married her. They set-tled on East Prarie, where, we believe, they lived until the present time. The young woman whose sad fate we are called upon to record was the little three-year-old child body of water will cut a new channel street, called him by name, and warmly whose escape from the bloody Sioux was so thus recently formed.

We were taken by a friend to see the vonderful plaster casts of living human beings which are among the curiosities of the Russian capital. How the thing is done It belongs to the genus tarantula, and is impossible to imagine, but there the is as large as the tiger, but quite different have recognized him in you. I would like will not bear resetting. Paris is not a good two statues are, recumbent female figures, in color. The male is a soft velvety black, to hear your story." undoubtedly taken from living women. while the female is grayish brown, or like "I can tell it in a few words," said the One lies slightly turned upon her side, her faded velvet. She has a light gray spot on young man. "I left the navy after a few lips parted in a smile, as though she was top of the thorax, and on the abdomen are trying to suppress a laugh. The other, who three dark brown longitudinal stripes altertrying to suppress a laugh. The other, who was much the finer form of the two, lies face downward, her feet crossed and her head pillowed on her folded arms, as though she had thrown herself down to sleep. The minutest detail of the texture of the skin, nalls, etc., are very perfectly reproduced, the "gooseflesh" with which the skin is covered being amusingly noticeable, and showing that the preparation used for these showing that the preparation used for these casts, the composition whereof is a secret. showing that the preparation used for these casts, the composition whereof is a secret, must be applied cold. Then all the little indentations in the soles of the feet and the palms of the hands, and the curve of the nails and their rimmings of skin and fiesh are produced with startling securacy. The process by which these figures are produced is still a secret, but it is certainly a wonderful and curious discovery.

A bey in Kenny county, Teras, has killed forty-three bears the past winter.

Perfectly harmless. I have provisionally named it tarantula turricula, reserving a further description. The name was suggested from its manner of building. It digs a burrow in the earth six or seven inches in depth, but the upper part of its domicile is entirely unlike that of the tiger-spices build a little round from me.

"But," he added, with a smile, "I think from one to two inches in length, and arranges them very symmetrically one above the other, laying them so as to make a five-sided will. It is usually a most contented winter.

Party in July I species by a bey of a secret, but it is certainly a wonder-ful and curious discovery.

Party in the instruction you received from me.

"But," he added, with a smile, "I think from one to two inches in length, and arranges them very symmetrically one above the other, laying them so as to make a five-sided will. It is usually a most contented species in confinement. Early in July I species in confinement. Early in July I species in south of the secretary and are a captain, and are a now in the Charleston trade."

"Well," said the lieutenant, "I am glad to hear of your success, and that you profit to hear of your success, and that you profit to hear of your success, and that you profit to hear of your success, and that you profit to hear of your success, and that you profit to hear of your success, and that you profit to hear of your success, and that you profit to hear of your success, and that you profit to hear of your success, and that you profit to hear of your success, an took a fine female, surrounded and almost leave the mother—the young can readily Butte City, Montanna Territory, the last soon as they left knee he was stated by the sold of the jar and escape. As field. There is no month when frost is out of the ground in which the seed of some rested an elbow, thereby arranging his arm spider, as I wished to see what she would sown. The value of most vegetables de while the great toe of his right foot peeped forth, ruddy and cheerful, from his boot. The whiffs of smoke, drawn from a short, black pipe, curled lazily from his lips. She same need to build a tower above it. She takes a stick from my fingers and the produce them, but the appetite for the area were half closed and dreamy. places it at the edge of her tute. She works while inside her burrow, holding the stick while inside her burrow, holding the stick plenty. An effort should accordingly be worked to raise a crup of spinach, radishes, experienced the ups and downs of Western with her fore-legs until it is arranged to life; had been rich and poor by turns, and suit her; she then turns around and fastens and lettuce as early in the season as poswas now very poor. He had grown philo-sophic, and looked at things in a way dif-sophic, and looked at things in a way dif-stick and proceeds in the same way, and continues this until she has laid the foundation of a five-sided wall. She now goes down to the bottom of her tube and brings up a pellet of earth, which she places on top of the sticks; she goes all around a and cauliflowers should also be sown early, circle of these pellets, which she flattens by because it takes considerable time for the body against them, and arranges them in such a manner as to cover the sticks on the inside, making the walls perfectly round and silk-lined. Now she tinues to alternate with the pellets until the fastening them to a stick with web. This makes the wall on the outside fringed with ornamental as well as useful, and they are her mandibles, and with her fore-feet gives into dippers, and drinking cups and other it a quick blow, often sending it with force useful articles, and are much in use in all enough to hit the jar; and when she is digging and bringing up pellets of earth "You exercise the privileges of a citizen; which she does not wish to use in her tower, she throws them from the top of the walls with sufficient force to make them land a foot or more from the burrow, if it were not for the intervention of the glass.

of these spiders.

The Signs of Springs. the grocer's door. That is a sure harbinger

"Spring, you mean," queried the sad passenger, "or the onion?"

put in the tall thin passenger, fearing a the boxes during warm days and by re collision, "and the farmers are accordingly placing them at night and on the approach charging more for hay, on the pretext of a of cold rains and winds. Nasturtians, peppers, okra, tomatoes, sweet corn and all "And the hens begin to wear an inde- kinds of beans should be planted quite late pendent, shan't-if-I-don't-want-to look," in the season. Sweet potato plants should said the man on the wood-box, "as though not be put in the open ground, in this latithey knew their value at this time of the tude, before the first of June. As a rule "And you can smell the dreadful odor of should be planted late. If planted early garden fires," said the tall, then passenger, they become stunted and never make a

"where people are burning old shoes and pea-brush and bones and dead vines and one thing and another, in the balmy eventide.

indicates its proximity."

and force to have made the valley which bears its name. When we seek an explawas right. That woman, I have observed, about, his face describing the most painful nation of this vast alluvial plain, we must generally is right. She has not, I am free contortions, and his toe in the mare's find a much larger body of water to account to admit, a pieasant voice, but she usually mouth. The more he struggled, the harder for its formation, and this is done by the tells the truth with it. Of course, after her she pulled at what, through some misadtheory which connects it with the great depressing remark, rendered still more un-venture, she mistook for the girth-straps. Mississippi system. There are many indi- cheerful by its confirmation, there was no Perhaps, also, she mistook his shouts for cations that the whole drainage of this re- more talk about spring. So we sailed on the vociferous cheers of a pleased audience, northward into Hudson Bay. The Nelson grasped his hand.

River, with its rocky channel and numer-son, are those of cress, kale, endive and parsley, as they are wanted as soon as they can be produced. The seeds of onion beets, carrots, parsnips, celery, cabbage plants to mature. Onion sets should also be put out as early as possible, as the object of planting is to secure a crop in adis ready for more sticks, which she con- The seed of all varieties of gourds should tinues to alternate with the pellets until the be planted very early. It is a good plan to tower has reached the height of two and a start them in beds or small boxes in the half inches above her burrow. I some-house, and to place the plants with the times gave her bits of green moss an meh earth about them in the ground where they or two in length, which she would use by are to grow, when the weather become sufficiently warm. Gound vines are highly worthy of a place in every garden and yard ing, and I offer her a stick, she takes it in The snells of gourds are easily converted parts of the South, Gourd vines require some support. They may be trained over ance, or be made to attach themselves to strings, brush, or the branches of trees. The seeds of nearly all other vines, as pumpkins, squashes, cucumbers, citrons, and all kinds of melons, should be planted This accounted for the fact that I could quite late in the season. There is nothing gained by planting them in the open ground till the weather is quite warm. Their growth may be hastened by planting the "Spring is coming," said the fat pessen-seeds in hills and covering them with small toxes having glass on top. The soil may be moistened from time to time by removing the boxes. The boxes protect the "Yes," said the cross passenger, "and young plant from the cold when they are quite small, and from the insects that are very certain to make their appearance a little later in the season. The "And the roads are drying up," hastily may be gradually hardened by removing vigorous growth. Sweet William.

all vegetables having a southern origin

On one occasion said a Circus manager, right here, it isn't far away; everything through the streets, when a kind of "hanger-on" to our company, who, through his "It will be here before sundown," said invariable politeness of manner, had been the man on the wood-box, enthusiastical- nicknamed "Sweet William," was deputed to ride a highly-trained black mare, one of "See," exclaimed the sad passenger, "al- whose tricks consisted in undoing her The Red River Valley North's about three ready has the young man shed his winter girths with her teeth and removing her saddle. Sweet William was the last to a flat prarie, extending northward from Lake Traverse, in Minnesota, until it passes by a gentle slope beneath the water of Lake Winnipeg. About thirty miles north of the withered grass," said the sad passent ceed from the stable, and I shouted out as I went toward the spot: "What's the from the east. It is a sluggish stream, in the sunshine," said the fat passenger. the agonized voice of Sweet William. flowing in a ditch in the mid le of the "And it's snowing," croaked the woman "Make haste-the mare's got hold of my gion was at one time southward. The valing some unimportant place, and after a short stop and thought it was "all right," and at it again she went with redoubled vigor. By continuation along the Minneseta, must which has escaped me, turned out wanderslight movement, which the mare thought before the incident itself ceased to excite

Diamona Bu ers. into a vast lake larger than Superior and ashamed of himself that he took to the tion, the buyer examining them most rigor-Michigan put together. The waters of this primer and learned rapidly. In twelve lake will be shallow and muddy, and the deposit of alluvium very rapid. As the ciphering. northward degrees ion continues, the outlet toward the south will become more and more feeble. It will degenerate into a mere driblet. And at last the great body of water will cut a new channel dressed young man stopped him in the small cases, and the others are sold to instant of the other are s ferior jewelers. In Paris the latter are readily purchased and set in the flowers, stars, River, with its rocky channel and numerous rapids, bears all the marks of an outlet ing the lieutenant's puzzled look; "out I such a display in the windows of the Palais am more indebted to you than to any one in Royal. The French, as a rule, like showy this world. Don't you remember the boy things, and are less fastidious in diamon who gave you so much trouble on board than Americans are. They care more for general effect than purity or perfection, and "Oh, yes, very well; but I should never often sell to our people inferior gems that place to buy diamond

A noble Lord, as proud and fond as a man should be of his beautiful young wife,