Summer Fashions.

With laudable enterprise, EHREICH'S FASHION QUARTERLY for the present Summer presents its readers with a beautiful chromo-lithograph...

No. 1 represents a walking costume in brown, of summer camel's hair cloth and polka dot satin. The front is of satin arranged in soft folds...

No. 2 is a simple, elegant, and appropriate costume in French cut style, with broad bias pieces of the polka dot material...

No. 3 is a simple, elegant, and appropriate costume in French cut style, with broad bias pieces of the polka dot material...

The last figure is that of a dinner or reception dress of garnet colored satin duchesse, elaborately trimmed with cashmere bead fringe and passementerie.

A CITY FARMER tells of the experience of a Long Island farmer with crows, as follows: This farmer founded his anti-crow method upon the fact that crows are accustomed to rely upon the scarecrows to inform them of the locality of cornfields.

LOST BOXES FOUND.—An examination of old packages in one of the vaults of the Merchants' National Bank of Baltimore, where they had been locked up years ago, has brought to light property which had been long lost sight of by the original owners.

"The night has a thousand eyes, And the day but one; Yet the light of the bright world dies With the dying sun."

SHORT LOCALS.

Cut worms. The boom in nails is over. Potato bugs, beyond number. Look out for the enumerator.

The banks were closed on Saturday. Does your small boy chew and smoke? Lace mitts are worn again in all styles.

The 4th of July vacation draweth near. Candidates are counting the prospects. Helgramites were in demand on Monday.

Last week was a grand week for ice cream. The circle of frog eaters is growing larger. Long-handled Japanese fans are fashionable.

Yenmor's frost has not put in an appearance. They have leap-year picnics in some places.

Scranton lawyers take their exercise on bicycles. The mercury went high up and low down last week.

Cuba Literary Society has not disbanded for the summer. Huntington is to have a circus and menagerie June 10.

There was a turn out to catch bass on Tuesday morning early. "Sun-stroke" reaches only such people as carry overloaded stomachs.

Miss Stuffer's house is ready for the bride, but the bride is not ready. Subscribe for the Sentinel and Republican, as the campaign will soon open.

SHORT LOCALS.

A glorious rain set in on Saturday night. A fifty cent fan makes as much wind as a $50 one.

Decoration day was observed with great heartiness. The gipsy bouquet is the rage in Paris and New York.

Sunday was the first rainy Sabbath day in many weeks. Your grandmother's head bag, if you have one, is the same of style in reticules.

Colonel Robert Ingersoll and wife went by this place west on Sunday on the Niagara and Chicago express. James McLaughlin was instrumental in having Church Hill Cemetery trimmed up in readiness for Decoration day.

Lawyer Lyons has supplemented the improvements on his well by a new pavement in front of his place of residence.

On Sunday night a narrow storm passed over Muncy valley, P. A., destroying houses, barns, fences and trees, and growing what is the horses, buggy and harness are all safe at Hummelstown.

"Welcome the rain To the grass and the grain, To the cattle and crops, And the tiny snow-drops. It sweetens the breeze And refreshes the trees; It settles the dust And strengthens our trust In the bountiful hand That o'er the land Drops softly and low Its fatness and blessing In drouth so distressing. Then welcome the rain To the grass and the grain, To the cattle and crops, And the tiny snow-drops."

On Monday evening, about dusk, as a lady on Cherry street stepped from the door of her house she saw a snake stretched across the pavement. She ran into the garden and brought out a hoe. The snake was still there. Then she called five or six neighbors ladies, and they all came—one with a rake, one with a fire-shovel, one with a broom, one with a stick of wood, one with hot water, and one to do the shooting.
