THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT IS ABOUT TO PREVENT THE INTRODUCTION OF AMERICAN PORK. THE REASON FOR THE EXCLUSION OF THE PORK IS THAT THEY FEAR THE TRICHINA. STRANGE THAT THE PORK EATERS OF A GENERATION AGO WERE NOT EATEN BY WORMS.

A SON OF THE MORMON LEADER, BRIGHAM YOUNG, HAS FALLEN INTO THE PRACTICE OF A PLURALITY OF WIVES. HE MARRIED A PHILADELPHIA GIRL, PREVIOUSLY HAD A WIFE IN CALIFORNIA, BUT RECENTLY HE MARRIED A SECOND WIFE. THE FIRST WIFE HAS SUED HIM FOR BIGAMY.

THE SENATORIAL QUESTION AT HARRISBURG IS STILL AT A DEAD LOCK. LAST WEEK EACH SIDE APPOINTED A CONFERENCE COMMITTEE TO SELECT A CANDIDATE THAT WOULD BE ACCEPTABLE TO ALL PARTIES, BUT THE COMMITTEE COULD NOT AGREE. THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE WHOLE COUNTRY ARE HEAVILY TIRED OF THE SQUABBLE.

WHEN JUDGE MEYERS CALLED COURT AT EASTON, A FEW DAYS AGO, HE DELIVERED A CHARGE TO THE GRAND JURY ON THE QUESTION OF LYCHING SNYDER, THE GOOGLE MURDERER. THE GRAND JURY PROCEEDED TO BUSINESS AND DID EVERYTHING ELSE BUT TAKE UP THE QUESTION OF THE LYCHING OF SNYDER. THERE IS SUCH A THING AS A COURT GETTING INTO CONTEMPT OF THE PEOPLE, AND REPORT HAS IT THAT COURTS IN THAT SECTION OF THE STATE HAVE BEEN SO LENIENT TO THE CRIMINAL CLASSES THAT ARE FROM TIME TO TIME BROUGHT BEFORE THEM, THAT THE TRIALS ARE BUT A MOCKERY OF JUSTICE, AND HENCE THE UPRISING AND LYCHING OF SNYDER.

THERE ARE PEOPLE WHO ADVOCATE THE ENCOURAGEMENT OF THE FRENCH SCHEME TO CONSTRUCT A CANAL ACROSS THE Isthmus of Panama. THEY SAY: "TO THE WINDS OF THE MOORE DOCTRINE. DON'T YOU SEE THAT THE EUROPEANS ARE BOUND TO OWN THIS COUNTRY, FIX IT AS YOU WILL, FOR THE REASON THAT AMERICANS CONTRACT THEIR WORKS ON BORROWED MONEY, AND THEIR PAPER FINDS ITS WAY TO EUROPE. EUROPEAN CAPITALISTS OWN THE STOCK OF MOST OF THE GREAT CORPORATIONS, AND MOST OF THE BONDS, AND THEY WILL SEE TO IT THAT THEY ARE NOT CHEATED OUT OF THEIR RIGHTS."

The mistake in the above is in assuming that a controlling interest in the stocks of the corporations of the country must of necessity lead to a control of the Government of the Nation. Without stopping to wait for the result, which cannot be reached short of several generations, the thing to do now is to read the Moore doctrine to the Frenchmen.

A New Counterfeit Legal Tector.

Chief Brooks of the secret service bureau, has received information that a new counterfeit has been made its appearance in Kentucky. It is an imitation of the five dollar United States note, series of 1875, letter D, small figures 14 under the serial letter. John Allison, register, A. H. Wyman, treasurer. It is printed on localised paper, which is only a little inferior to the genuine, although somewhat thicker. The note is nearly one-half an inch shorter than the genuine, but as far as examined is a fac simile, except that in the genuine near the bottom of the note, there are two circular forms, in printed in red characters "series 1875" also near the bottom, there is a large figure 5. In the upper right-hand corner of the color of the note, in red, are the figures "1875." Neither of these imprints appears on the center of the note, although subsequent issues, it is thought, may show the center features to have supplied these defects. The note is believed to be an imperfect specimen of what can be accomplished by photo-lithography. It is badly blurred in printing, and very much of color when compared with the genuine, yet it is said to be calculated to deceive persons who are not money experts.—Er.

BLOOD WILL TALK. A son of Bill Mosher, the notorious burglar, and one of the abductors of Charlie Ross, was up in the Quarter Sessions Court, New York, on the 14th, for highway robbery. His mother pleaded with the Court so successfully for the scapegrace that he was released on condition that he be sent West. The lad was only 14 years of age.—Philadelphia Record.

PROCEEDINGS have been brought against a number of parties in Philadelphia, on a charge of fraudulent work at the elections. The charges particularly stated are "repeating, voting on dead men's names, and falsifying the returns inside." The safety of the Republic lies in the preservation and protection of an honest ballot, and an honest return. Men who knowingly, willingly corrupt the ballot, and falsify the returns should be severely punished.

A DISPATCH from the Mexican border says: About 200 cowboys, scattered in gangs of twenty, and chiefly residents of Texas, have been committing such extensive depredations upon Mexican cattle along the San Pedro River, below the Sonora line, that the Mexicans are arming for protection, and threaten to shoot every American who crosses the line, as they profess to be unable to distinguish between the cattle thieves and honest people.

The question of diseased pork is again brought prominently before the country by the following dispatch from Rondont, N. Y., under date of the 16th inst.: Members of two families named Boyes and Petter, of this city, have been made dangerously sick by eating what is supposed to have been diseased pork. Some of the same meat which was given to two cats by the Petter family killed the felines. The pork was purchased in this city of a dealer, who said it was farm-raised in Ulster county. The symptoms of the sick persons are the same as the symptoms attending trichina poisoning.

ONCE it was thought that only the "bee" bee possesses the power to distil honey. Now, however, man's ingenuity and chemical knowledge has made him the equal in the manufacture, or distillation, of delicious honey, as may be learned from a New York paper: "There is a firm in New York city engaged in making honey and honey-combs. The honey-comb is made by machinery of paraffine wax, and is an exact imitation of the natural thing, except that the bees fashion their cells of wax only 1-125th of an inch wide, while human artificers have not yet become that deft. The cells are filled with glucose, which is the sweet syrup of common corn, and looks and tastes like honey. The cells, once filled, are closed by smearing a hot iron plate over the wax tops, and the product is sold as the "best clover honey." It is in great demand, and outsells the regular honey."

A DISPATCH from Washington on the 6th inst., says: The second claimant to the Presidency this week arrived here to-day and proceeded to the White House to notify Mr. Hayes to vacate. He was Clarence Tate, of Bedford county, Pa., a graduate of Harvard in 1873. Tate is about 39 years old, and has evidence of second nature in a hard study. The man has a remarkable knowledge of the classics. He said this evening that Hayes was his father, but the former did not know it because he was in some other man's skin. He claims Mrs. Langtry as his mother and Gen. Grant as his brother. The poor fellow told the President that he had been under the influence of the devil for 1685 days, and had just been rescued yesterday, when he started for Washington to take a chain of lives, neck which the devil had put there. Tate was kindly shown the door and invited to call some other time. The first claimant arrived on Monday from Ashland, Ohio. There will be a dozen of these men here by March 4, as is always the case just preceding an inauguration.

A DISPATCH from Harrisburg last Friday makes the following statement: Eckley B. Cox, who was elected Senator from Luzerne county last November, and refused to take the oath of office at the opening of the Legislature, for fear that he would be indicted for perjury in swearing that he had not used money improperly at elections, was re-elected to fill the vacancy thus created on Tuesday last. It is understood that Senator Seamans will offer a resolution to refer his credentials to the Judiciary Committee when they are presented to the Senate. And it is difficult to see how the Judiciary Committee, in view of the constitutional provision, can help reporting him disqualified. In his statement to the Senate Mr. Cox said he had made expenditures during his campaign for the Senate that, while they were not for corrupt purposes, were contrary to the act of Assembly; and further that he became aware in the midst of his canvass that he was violating the law in regard to the use of money at elections, but continued the practice until election day, so as not to jeopardize the Democratic ticket, although for himself he determined not to qualify as Senator. His refusal to qualify left a vacancy and he was elected to fill that vacancy on Tuesday last. Under former decisions and in this State prior to the birth of the present Constitution such an election would cure his disability. But in our Constitution, the ninth section of article VIII, interferes. It provides that "any person who shall, while a candidate for office, be guilty of bribery, fraud or willful violation of any election law, shall be forever disqualified from holding any office." By Mr. Cox's own statement he continued to violate an election law after he became aware he was violating it, and this seems to constitute willful violation.

Lynched.

A special dispatch to McClure's Sunday Times, under date of last Saturday, the 19th inst., says: Never in the history of Tennessee has a murder been followed by such sure and bloody vengeance as that of farmer Laprade, near Springfield, a few months ago. The circumstances of the crime were briefly these: Laprade, who was a well-to-do and influential farmer and a miser, living near Springfield, sold his farm and received part of the purchase money. A gang of ruffians in the neighborhood hearing that he had the money, joined in a plot to kill him. The murder was one of peculiar atrocity, and aroused the neighborhood to a great pitch of excitement. Two men, Jack Bell and Arch Jamieson, the latter colored, were believed guilty and promptly lynched September 15. Before their death they made sworn statements, which were written down by the mob. These statements implicated seven others, namely all named Higgins, was taken, and after torturing him by burning his feet horribly to make him disclose the story a confession was made, which agreed with that of the others.

Higgins said that the party of nine went to Laprade's house on the night of September 8. Going in the rear of his dwelling, one of them knocked at the door, and imitating the voice of Laprade's brother asked admission. Laprade opened the door without thought of harm. The nine black fiends rushed in upon him, knocked him down and then demanded all his money. He gave them $25, saying that was all he had. But they dragged his assailants. Throwing a rope around his neck they dragged him around his grounds, lashed him to the limb of a tree repeatedly until he was almost unconscious, singed his body with torches and lacerated and mutilated him with knives in the endeavor to compel him to admit that he had concealed money, but always with the same result. Finally, made desperate by their repeated failures to extort from him the place of the hidden treasure, the mob proceeded to inflict more inhuman tortures. With the rope he was dragged about the yard and nameless outrages were committed upon his person. Finally his legs were cut and hacked and the tendons torn from their places from the knee down. Then his skull was crushed with an axe, after which the body was hidden under some bushes in a neighboring thicket and subsequently thrown into a sink-hole. Higgins in his confession gave the names of James Elder, Josh Mallory, Lou and Robert Thwait, Andrew Duffy and Bill Murphy. They were all arrested and thrust into jail. There was some talk of lynching them, but it quieted down as the time for their trial approached. On the 14th of the present month, however, about half-past ten at night, twenty-five mounted men rode into town, coming from the west, and proceeded to the jail. They came armed with guns, pistols, etc., and were evidently bent on taking the prisoners. They were addressed by Judge Stark and Attorney General Bell, who both urged the mob to desist, assuring them that the prisoners should have a fair and impartial trial, and if found guilty should be punished to the full extent of the law. They went off apparently satisfied, but to guard against accidents the troops were called out and placed on guard at the Court House. The trial began on Monday, and the greatest interest was manifested. Murphy and Duffy turned State's evidence and were released last Thursday to return to their old haunts. This evidently excited the crowd, who feared that there might be some hitch which the others might escape.

THE TRIAL OF THE REMAINING five prisoners—Loch Mallory, Lou and Robert Thwait, James Elder and James Higgins, was in progress all yesterday. Late last night it came to an end. Judge Stark delivered his charge to the jury. The prisoners were given to the Sheriff, who had got up as far as the door with them when two hundred men, at a signal, sprang upon him, yelling like demons and firing pistols in the air. Taking the prisoners, the mob hurried to the second story of the Court House. They were already prepared, around their necks and swung them out of the windows. They died without a struggle, except Jim Elder, who had to be thrown heavily to the floor, tied and then hanged. The crowd in the court room, which had been listening to the argument of the counsel, jumped from the windows to the ground and rushed in every direction. Hundreds of shots were fired, but none at the prisoners. The bodies were guarded by the mob until it was certain that they were dead, when the leader gave orders to disperse. "My men, go your homes," was his command, and they immediately departed. They came in on horses, but went to the Court House on foot and were not disturbed in any way by the mob.
