SHORT LOCALS.

Onions are scarce. Tepped—The sugar maple trees. Wild geese are flying northward. The time to report large eggs is here.

Buy Dr. Morrison's anti-bilious pills. The rich are talking about summer resorts. The trade in oysters will soon end for this season.

Altoona has had one case of spotted fever this spring. Wheat in the fields has a most unpromising appearance. For Sale—A good No. 9 Cook Stove.

The Kieiser boys stay up to ferry people for the night train. Horses have been selling as high as $140 at public sales; cows at $250 per head.

Jacob Sulouff has bought the Kennedy & Doty ferry. He also owns one-third of the adjoining ferry. FOR SALE—Five shares Odd Fellows' Hall Association stock.

It is said that the fashionable spring bonnet will be big enough to be a prominent figure in a man's eye. The river presents an animated scene when a half dozen row boats are propelled through its swift current.

Jacob Sulouff, a first-rate blacksmith, will locate, and open a shop at Van Wert about the first of April. Timbers for the rebuilding of the river bridge have been brought to town, and the exact distance between piers measured.

The occupation of the early garden has been seriously interfered with this season by the winter lingering in the lap of spring. A great snow storm, that blocked travel in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and other Western States prevailed on Saturday, the 12th inst.

At 10 o'clock, and at half-past 10 o'clock every Sabbath morning Salouff's large flat will leave the Patterson side for this side of the river...

Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries And subtle witchcrafts of alluring eyes. Love is not made of broken whiskeys; nor Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the ear has heard the accents low.

Senator Horatio Gates Jones, champion of the "religious liberty" cause—that is to exempt the Seventh-day Baptists from the penalties of the Sabbath laws—had a diamond pin stolen from his shirt breast while going down Chestnut street, Philadelphia, in a street car, last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Editor—As the late ice flood destroyed a portion of the bridge across the river at Mifflintown, the question of free bridges instead of toll bridges has been raised among the people of the county. I would like to say briefly that I think a large portion of the people are opposed to buying the river bridges from the companies that now own them, but I cannot see on what ground they oppose the county owning or building and keeping up a bridge across the river, when it builds and keeps up bridges in distant parts of the country.

What an Insurance Journal Has to Say of "Speculative Risks." The U. B. Mutual Aid Journal, devoted to life insurance, has this to say of the pernicious "speculative" risk business: "Another feature of the game is to dupe the old, half dead men and women into signing the documents. Recently several young men were anxious to take insurance on the life of their grandmothers, but they could not persuade her to sign the papers. Finally, one of them said, 'I can fix it.' So, taking another of the party with him, he went to the old lady and told her that he was about to go West, and thought it would be a good thing to have a certificate of good moral character to take with him, and asked her if she would not sign such a certificate. She readily consented and wrote her name on the paper he gave her, which was an application for $5,000 insurance on her life. Then turning to his comrade, he said, 'now you sign it too,' and he signed as a witness, and the thing was done; and these parties now have $5,000 insurance on their grand-mother's life, without her knowledge or consent."

CHANGE IN POSTAL REGULATIONS.—The Postmaster General has issued an order, under date of February 21, 1881, revoking Section No. 232 of the Postal Regulations. Under this section it was permitted to send all printed commercial paper filled out in writing, such as papers of legal procedure, deeds of all kinds, bills of lading, invoices, and the various documents of insurance companies, etc., at third class rates. Under the new order all the partially written matter to be prepaid at the regular letter rate of 3 cents for each half ounce. The following exceptions to the rule are made: Corrected proof sheets and manuscript copy accompanying the same. Date and name of the addresses and the sender of circulars, and the correction of mere typographical errors therein. Upon third-class matter, or upon the wrapper inclosing the same, the sender may write his own name and address with the word "from" above and preceding the same, and in either case may make simple marks, intended to designate a word or passage of the text to which it is desired to call attention. There may be placed upon the cover or blank leaves of any book, or of any printed matter of the third class, a manuscript dedication or inscription, but it must be confined to a simple address or designation as a mark of respect, and it must not partake of the nature of personal correspondence. Upon fourth-class matter the sender may write his own name and address, preceded by the word "from," and also the number and names of the articles inclosed. He may also mark the article for identification.
