A colored girl in Washington Territory recently ran away with a white man who wanted to marry her. The father of the colored girl prosecuted the man for abduction.

Two Altoona policemen were in town on Monday, and three citizens went away with them. The public had not been informed whether the visit was one of business or pleasure.

A lot of boys set fire to a fence between two fields owned by the editor of the Sentinel and Republican, and before the fire was extinguished seventy-odd panels were destroyed.

The intense heat was broken by rain on Saturday evening. During the great heat of that day the thermometer stood at 102 degrees. By Monday the thermometer stood at 83 degrees.

Tanner says that he will fast 95 days without partaking of food. Every person will say that can't be done. Tanner says that he expects to live on electricity, and not on what people call food.

The Grangers are preparing to hold a grand picnic in Cumberland valley about the last of this month. Their grounds will be lit up at night by electric light to the capacity of twelve thousand candles.

Mrs. Samuel Burch, of Fayette township, died on Saturday, after a lingering illness of two days. She was aged 41 years, 11 months and 8 days. Interment in Union Cemetery near this town on Tuesday, Aug. 9, 1881.

The new moon stood on a horn, and still it did not rain. So much for the moon sign; and the wind for days blew over east stable, and it was not the least bit like fall, but it was hotter than before the above was cut.

On last Wednesday a little daughter of John Foster, of Millport township, fell from the top of a fence to the ground, fracturing an arm at the elbow joint. Dr. Crawford rendered the necessary surgical aid, and the child is doing well.

The New-Hamilton camp meeting register of tent-holders embraces the following citizens of this county: W. D. Cramer, Miss Beckie Diven, George Goschen, Rev. W. V. Ganoe, John S. Graybill, James North, Mrs. Angie Shoaffer.

On Saturday, a short distance below Lewis town railroad station, two men were seriously hurt by a bank of earth falling on them. The men were at work preparing a road-bed for a third track, run from Lewis town to Bickler's Gap.

On Saturday last William S. Reynolds, a railroad track hand, was thrown violently from a hand-car, and severely injured his left leg and the back part of his head. Dr. Crawford was called and gave such assistance as the case required. Mr. R. is doing well.

A crash is heard in the kitchen of a house on Galveston avenue. The head of the family calls out to the cook: "What idiot has you broken now, you black idiot?" Matilda stops singing a hymn to answer: "Taint de sof commandment, bress de Lord."—Galveston News.

There is a rage for the antique. It has reached such a height now, says an exchange, that the girls are taking to the industrial habits of their grand-mothers, and knit stockings, sew on buttons, and patch trousers, and do all manner of things that shoddy habits had almost obliterated.

The people of the West owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. Ayer for the production of Ayer's Suffer Cure. It timely use will save much suffering and much discouragement, and we recommend it with the greatest confidence in its ability to do all that is promised for it.

A Philadelphia constable followed the Mayor of the city several squares, directing profane and scandalous language against Mr. King. The constable was put under arrest, fined for drunkenness, and held in the sum of $1,000 bail for breach of the peace. Some parties in the city hailed him.

A burglar put a ladder up to the second story window of a house in Sunbury, and thereby entered the bed-chamber of the citizen and carried off a suit of clothes and the money that was in the pants—about forty dollars—and a gold watch. The window was raised about two feet, and through that aperture the thief went in and out.

It was circus day, and he told his wife he was going to Lockport just to "purchase a reaper." The wife followed him, unbeknownst, and at the proper time, when she met him going to the show with a girl hanging by her legs and took in the circus and the lemons and all by herself.—Oil City Derrick.

The picnic in Fannock's grove in Tuscarora township, on Saturday, was attended by at least one thousand people. People were there from Perry, Franklin and Huntington counties. Speaking began at 11 o'clock A. M., and was kept up till 3 o'clock P. M. Thirty massive cakes had been provided for a grand cake walk that was to take place by torch-light, but a rain came and prevented that part of the programme from being carried out.

A horse shied at coal on Monday afternoon. The animal was so frightened that it backed over a steep embankment at the side of the road. The carriage to which the beast was hitched was upset, and Mr. Abram Book and his wife, Mrs. Book, were thrown out. The right shoulder of Mrs. Book was broken, and Mr. Book was hurt in the back. Mr. Book was bringing his wife to town, it being her purpose to go to Perry county on a visit to friends. The harness was torn and the carriage was broken.

The Harrisburg Patriot is the author of the following: A few days ago Mr. James Eary and Wesley Fisher of this city caught four good-sized bass and on opening one of them found it literally swarming with yellow worms, some of them being almost as large as a grain of wheat, and crawling through the flesh around the backbone. The bass seemed to be in good health, if the activity it displayed when hooked is an indication of health. It was shown to many persons, among them a prominent physician, who seemed to think the worms of the same nature as the trichina worm found in pork.

SHORT LOCALS.

"A man of fact always manages to get out of difficulty. The clerk of a parish, whose business was to read the first lesson, came across the chapter in Daniel in which the names Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego occur twelve times, and finding it extremely difficult to pronounce these names, he went through the chapter referring to them as the aforesaid gentlemen."

Robert May, a boy aged about six years, living with his parents in Miller township, Perry county, was bitten on the instep of one of his feet by a copperhead snake, a few days ago, while out in a pasture field. The boy trod on the snake, when the reptile quickly coiled itself about his leg and fastened its fangs into the instep of the foot. Another boy took the snake by the tail and pulled it off the leg and threw it away.

The Perry county Friends published the following last week: We are sorry to learn that a daughter of James Mullin, tenant on the farm of Judge Junkin in Carroll township, met, accidentally set fire to her clothing by matches which she had been handling, and when discovered, her skin was burnt into a crisp and wrinkled, and she died shortly afterwards. Her age was about four years.

Last Friday night a man who registered his name Joseph Roth had a horse shipped from the railroad station at this place to Harrisburg stock yards. He had stolen the horse from Benjamin Whitmore at Middleburg, Snyder county, and ridden him to this point for shipment on the cars, a distance of 42 miles. Harrisburg policemen received information of the theft, and the thief and his game were not long in the town till they were gathered up by the police and sent back to Middleburg.

At all the stations along the railroad there are beds of beautiful flowers, and this is the case when a man takes a trip on the cars the pleasant sense of feeling that is experienced by riding in the cars is intensified by the sense of light being delighted by bright flowers greeting his eyes at every station. Railroaders make their living and money in hauling passengers and produce, and they only display their appreciation and fine taste in catering to the wishes of those that patronize them.

People that smoke about their stables and barns will open their eyes when they read that a farmer in Crawford county attempted to smoke while riding from the field on a load of hay some days ago, when a spark fell from his pipe, igniting the hay, and the whole mass was soon in flames. The team was hastily released from the wagon and saved, but the hay was all consumed and the wagon nearly destroyed. The venturesome farmer escaped injury by jumping to the ground.

This is the fly time, and the postoffice little insect is troublesome to those to such a degree that it is a great annoyance to those that drive horses. To all people that own horses it is of interest to know what will keep away flies from the horse. An English paper comes forward and states that a mixture of one part of crude carbolic acid with six or more parts of olive oil, if highly rubbed all over the animal with a rag will put such an odor on the horse that flies decline to settle on the animal. So fine as the odor of the acid remains the fly will pass the horse without alighting.

Lycing county is in the throes of a speculative life insurance sensation. An old man named Joseph Miller, living in Clinton township, died suddenly. He was insured to the amount of forty thousand dollars, which gave rise to suspicion that he had been feigning death. A son held a policy of two thousand dollars on his father. The body of the deceased father was raised, and the son was arrested on the charge of having given his parent poison, arsenic. The son was bitterly when taken before a justice. He was willing to jump to such a degree that it is a great annoyance to those that drive horses. To all people that own horses it is of interest to know what will keep away flies from the horse.

Zeiders-Cramer.—On the same day, by the same, Mr. W. M. Zeiders, of Thompson town, and Miss Sarah Cramer, of Millers town, Perry county.

MARRIED: COX-ZEIDERS.—On the 17th ult., at East Salem, by Rev. J. Landis, Mr. Foster D. Cox and Miss Emma Zeiders, both of Dimmerville, this county.

MISCELLANEOUS ADVERTISEMENTS.

Some days ago, Rev. J. A. Reber, while drawing water from the well at the residence of J. E. Downes, of this place, brought up a live subterranean fish. It was between four and five inches long, of a light pink color and without eyes or scales. Its mouth resembled that of a sucker and it had the regulation fish smell. The stream of the well in question is very strong and the supposition is that it was carried away from its home in some subterranean lake or pool by the force of the current. Notwithstanding it was eyeless its aversion to the light or the upper air was marked. Mr. Reber placed the specimen in alcohol for preservation. Eyeless fish are common in many of the large caves of the country, and are numerous in the celebrated Mammoth Cave in Kentucky. A gentleman who has visited Watkins' Glen informs us that in a cavern at that place many pools are inhabited by fish of this character.—Fulton Republican.

"My Back Aches So, and I feel miserable," said a hard-working man. The doctor questioned him and found that he had been habitually constive for years, that now his kidneys were disordered and his whole system deranged. Kidney-Wort was recommended and faithfully taken and in a short time every trouble was removed. The cleansing and tonic power of this medicine on the bowels and kidneys is wonderful.—Congressionalist.
