

B. F. SCHWEIER,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

PRESIDENT GARFIELD'S case is a serious one. During the past week a swelling of the glands in the neck, under the ears, have developed to such an extent, that the physician has resorted to the use of a bludgeon in the throat to relieve the swelling, which is a very painful and dangerous proceeding. On Friday, while dressing the wound, the tube that is inserted on such occasions penetrated to the depth of 12 1/2 inches, so that it is a matter of renewed conjecture as to whether the pus from the lower point of the wound ever escapes from the body of the President by the track of the bullet. On Saturday evening and on Sunday the President's stomach again refused to retain food. On Monday and Tuesday his stomach seemed more settled and retained fluid food in small quantities. The doctors have done their utmost, but the skill of the profession has failed to bring him to a state of convalescence, and the doctors, if possible, are more anxious than the people. While there is life there is hope. The President has requested that his mother be sent for.

The doctors attending upon President Garfield have been criticized in an unmanly way by many newspaper men. The Philadelphia North American, however, is not one of the papers that has been abusing the doctors. It says: "Dr. Bliss and those of his colleagues who have attracted the wraithful criticism of shallow and sensational newspaper men, are to be commended for the reflection that they have the sympathy of fair-minded and intelligent people, who realize how great a strain has been imposed upon them, and how strenuously they have devoted themselves to the discharge of their onerous duty. In view of the terrible responsibility which is on their shoulders, nothing could be more cruelly inconsiderate than the captious condemnation which is so freely passed upon them by those who are either not competent or not in a position to judge justly. But it is very easy to find fault, and to exercise a certain class of people it is very certain."

"Amos the emigrants passing over the Pennsylvania Railroad one day last week was a German family, consisting of the grandfather, grandmother and their nine children, six of whom are married, with their families on board the same train. There were forty grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren, the entire relationship consisting of ninety-five people. They will settle in Northern Iowa, and will form a colony of their own. Among the men in the party are practical farmers, weavers, shoemakers and butchers."

The above brief article revives in the mind the historical statement in the Bible that Jacob went down into Egypt with his family of seventy people. If the German family above mentioned, in the period of four hundred years to come, develop as had Jacob's race, they will have a marked influence upon the human family to come.

THREE coin counterfeiters were arrested at Vineland, N. J., a few days ago, namely, J. W. Williams, Ed. Williams and E. W. Hendricks. One of the Williams men had a mistress in the town till he fell in with another woman that pleased him better than the one that he took to Vineland. He dismissed the old, and took the new one; and the old one, to be revenged, told on the counterfeiters, and that is the way the people at Vineland came to be spared the infliction of a flood of counterfeit half-dollars, and other bad work, such as only counterfeiters and their class can get up.

IT does not need to disturb the serenity of American women that the land that excites their imagination in England, is one that was brought out in a fashionable circle a few days ago. "It is described as being large enough to screen not only the face, but the whole figure down to the waist, and composed of more than fifty ostrich feather tips, all of matchless quality and color, superbly mounted on sticks of tortoise shell." It is too large to flirt with.

A CITIZEN of one of the Western States says, "the names of the Indians are singular when translated. The two wives of Sitting Bull are called Was-Seen-by-the-Nation and The One That Had Four Robes, and his fourteen-year-old daughter bears the somewhat lengthy title of She Who Glances at You-as-She-Walks. The Indian name of the Chief is Tatan-ka-yun-tanka."

WHILE vegetation in Pennsylvania, or in part of the State, was being parched to death, vegetation in England was almost drowned by rain, railroad travel had almost ceased on account of the rise of water in the streams and the sweeping away of the bridges. It was last week that the rain fall took place in Arizona.

GETTING REFORM.—The Mayor of Quincy, Ill., was elected on a reform ticket, and an ordinance was passed a short time after his inauguration reducing his salary from $1000 to $250 a year; but he was not in favor of such cutting reform at his end of the string, and promptly vetoed the objectionable law.

LEO HARTMAN, the murderous Russian, appeared in the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court in New York last Thursday and renounced his allegiance to the Emperor of Russia, and filed a declaration to become a citizen of the United States.

FROM present appearance it is believed that more than thirty thousand troops will be assembled to take part in the Yorktown celebration.

An exchange says: "It appears that there is a place bearing the very unattractive name of 'Bobbers' Delight' within a few miles of Fredericksburg, Texas, and that stage-coach plunderers take pleasure in relieving mail or passengers of their valuables at or near this point. We would suggest the erection of a gibbet or two, properly ornamented, to mark the spot, and the changing of the name to 'Bobbers' Ropes', which would be more illiterative and much more congenial to travelers, when the application of the term was understood. A notorious couple, known as the 'Long and Short men' are operating there now, and a long rope and a short shirt applied to them would appropriately inaugurate the change of nomenclature."

ONE of the busiest of preachers in Bangor, Maine; he either personally or by agents runs three churches—a saloon factory, a large farm, a coal office, and a teamster's run. In addition to all this he is also a carpenter, a road contractor, a stage-coach owner, a chief partner in a public bath and a mineral spring, a holder of turnpike gates, a lodging-house keeper, a guardian of the poor, a member of the board of health, and last, a shepherd of the sheep."

A CALIFORNIA paper tells this of the "ups and downs" of financial life in America: Johnny Skea, of San Francisco, was once worth $100,000. One night last week he was committed to jail in San Francisco in default of the payment of $5 fine for drunkenness.

The apparatus of photographs have been so perfected that the picture of a horse while running at full speed may be taken.

The Republican State Convention will meet at Harrisburg on the 8th day of September.

GERMANY is unadvised over the finding of petroleum, or coal oil, near Hanover.

A CITIZEN of Philadelphia fled to death from the nose in five minutes.

The Murderer Guiteau Fights a Guard.

Last Wednesday morning a sentry in the corridor of the jail where Guiteau is imprisoned, noticed that he was sitting on a bench apparently engaged in paring his finger nails. He stepped in and asked Guiteau for the knife that he had seen in his hands. The prisoner denied having a knife. Guiteau drew his revolver, and levelled it at the guard and the knife. The guard was informed of the fact. W. C. McGill, one of the guard looked into the cell and saw the prisoner sitting on the bed apparently engaged in paring his finger nails. He stepped in and asked Guiteau for the knife that he had seen in his hands. The prisoner denied having a knife. McGill drew his revolver, and levelled it at Guiteau, and the knife. St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 19.—We are just beginning to get a substantial foundation for an estimate of the wheat crop of the State in the shape of returns from actual measurements of the threshing machines. These do not yet demand such modifications as we are wont to expect a week ago. In the Southern and Minnesota Valley counties the returns do not justify the expectation of more than six or eight bushels per acre. Many fields are a total failure, will not repay the seed, and are not worth harvesting. The reports so far have rarely been definite as to the quality of the wheat in this part of the State, but it is scarcely reasonable to expect that much of it will grade No. 1, except some of the new frontier counties. In the northern counties the yield is liberal, though not up to the extravagant expectations of the early hypothetical arithmeticians.

A dispatch from Detroit announces that the yield is twenty-four bushels to the acre of good quality. This figure can hardly be maintained in all the localities along the line of the Northern Pacific, though it is probable that twenty bushels is not an extravagant estimate. The yield along the main line of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba railway rises to about the same test, judging from the dispatches and printed reports. It is noticeable that all the reports from northern localities dwell upon the high grade of the wheat. It is possible, though hardly more in the light of the actual information at hand, that the large yield of high-grade wheat in the northern counties may overcome the deficiency in the south, and raise the average yield to the customary point—about twelve bushels per acre. Returns from a few more threshers will tell the story.

The buckwheat crop of Clearfield county will be a total failure.

Surveys of indications of petroleum have been found in Delmar township, Tioga county.

Two wolves have been seen several times recently in Norriton township, Montgomery county, and last week were shot by a boy.

The jealous wife of John L. Henry, of York, threw cayenne pepper into her husband's eyes on Wednesday in a fit of rage, almost destroying his sight. He is said to be suffering intensely.

STATE ITEMS.

Farmers in Stockton, Luzerne county, have a cow insurance society which proves very successful.

Thomas Gray's cat, at Midway Marlborough township, Chester county, to four kittens joined in one body, but with separate heads, legs and tails.

There is a man named Livingston in Tunkhannock who believes that his soul has left his body and now in the possession of the evil one. He is otherwise a sane man.

Clearfield county hunters say deer will run in large numbers in that region this winter, the extreme heat of the season having driven them North.

A stroke of lightning on last Saturday week killed twenty-three sheep for Thomas Wilson, of Rostraver township, Westmoreland county.

The body of a man who committed suicide by hanging in New Hanover township, Montgomery county, several weeks ago, has been identified as that of Reuben Baltzer, of Lebanon.

A Schuylkill county stock fancier paid $400 for a cow whose birth name and pedigree were registered in the herd book. She soon shed her hair, which proved to have been dyed, and appeared as a public one of entire difference in color and she sold for $30.

Frank Crawford, of Nelson, Tioga county, so brutally beat his wife that she fled to the woods and hid between two logs covering herself with brush. She was discovered by searching citizens twenty-four hours after.

Three rattlesnakes were killed just outside the city of the Evangelical Episcopal church near the Carlisle Sulphur Springs, in Cumberland county. One of the rattlers was under a carriage in which were seated two ladies. The ladies were about jumping from the carriage, when they were cautioned to sit still until the snake was dispatched. One of the snakes killed had bitten Rattie Grosz, of Easton, employed by Edelman Bros. as a teamster at their stable yard, who disappeared, taking with him $400 in money entrusted to him to deliver to a third party, who was to pay the wages of quarrymen with it. Grosz went to bed Thursday night without delivering the money, and during the night left his sleeping room by rear window, taking the money with him. Detective Simmons is looking up the case. Grosz had been employed by Edelman Bros. about three weeks.

A mass of rock containing a clearly defined human form of gigantic proportions, is said to have been discovered near Wilkesbarre, at a depth of 475 feet, and to have been formed in the feet, and the width across the chest four feet. It has been taken out whole, and is to be placed on exhibition.

Two deaths recently occurred in Fayette county, which presented singular cases. The deceased were Mr. O. C. Cope and Mrs. John Davis, and were second cousins. They were born in the same month of the same year, and died on the same day of each other, where they always lived. They were recently taken sick, and after a brief illness both died at the same hour of the same day, one funeral sermon being preached for both.

Jacob L. Snyder died near Chambersburg, last Thursday, from injuries received from a threshing machine.

While oiling the machine he was thrown from the effort to introduce him into the cylinder of the machine and crushed to a pulp from the hand and to the shoulder. The flesh was torn from the back and breast around the shoulder, the ends of the shoulder blade and collar bone being crushed. Amputation followed, but could not save the patient.

The jealous wife of John L. Henry, of York, threw cayenne pepper into her husband's eyes on Wednesday in a fit of rage, almost destroying his sight. He is said to be suffering intensely.

The entire family of William Baltzer, of Upper Barrer township, Berks county, consisting of seven persons, have died in a little more than a year, with the exception of a little girl, six years of age.

An excitement was created in the vicinity of Northumberland a few days ago by the supposed discovery of a vein of silver and copper ore by a vein of silver and copper ore by a man engaged in quarrying stone. Specimens have been sent to a geologist to be tested, and his report is anxiously awaited.

William F. Haas, of Cotsacaqua, Lehigh county, who was arrested several days ago, for accidentally running over and killing a child named O'Donnell, was soon thereafter released on bail. The coroner's jury exonerated Haas of blame, and he appears to have the sympathy of the community in which the sad affair occurred.

GENERAL ITEMS.

The corn crop in the vicinity of Harmony N. J., is so poor that many of the farmers are cutting it for fodder.

John Cochran, a farmer in East Marlborough township, Chester county, was unable to obtain feed during the cycle. While passing along Front street, in that town the other day, he fell off, and as he was getting his feet he was tackled by a dog, which caught him by the leg. The doctor fought the brute with stones, and three stones thrown by the enraged medical man went crashing through the open door and window of Constable Ruck's. The family, who were sitting inside, escaped being struck, and it is said the affair will end in a law suit.

Many people in Richmond, Va., are rejoiced over the arrest, at Lynn, Mass., of Samuel Marvin, the man who made a business of going through the country duping girls into marrying with him by advertising for governesses. Early in July Marvin appeared in Richmond, Va., and succeeded in duping a young lady of high social position there into marrying with him. The unfortunate victim answered one of Marvin's advertisements in a Connecticut newspaper, in which he professed to be a wealthy Ohio widower in want of a governess. A correspondence was opened by the applicant. Marvin went to Richmond and pretended to be a rich Ohio widower, who had lived for many years in France in elegant style. After remaining in the capital of Virginia a few days Marvin succeeded in gaining the lady's consent to marriage, which was quietly solemnized. The bridegroom being short of money got some of his new friends to introduce him at the First National Bank at Richmond, when he had a bogus draft on Chicago for $700 cashed, and left with his bride next day for the North.

After a sojourn at Auburn, N. Y., of a few days, Marvin deserted his victim and fled. The authorities at Richmond had at once sent an officer to Massachusetts with a requisition for the accused to introduce him at the First National Bank at Richmond, when he had a bogus draft on Chicago for $700 cashed, and left with his bride next day for the North.

It is a foolish mistake to confound a remedy of medicine with a medicinal food. We have used Parker's Ginger Tonic with the happiest results for Dyspepsia and Debility, and know it to be a sterling health restorative.
