It will require $32,000,000 to pay the current expenses of New York City this year. That is Democratic finance.

Certain capitalists are buying up Confederate bonds, and people that do not understand the movement ask what does it mean?

The Irish people have been excited the past week over the arrest of Parnell, who was lodged in Dublin jail last Wednesday, the 12th inst. He was arrested for agitating the people to strike through the agency of the Land League.

Wolfe stock has declined the past week, since he made the charge that there is something wrong in the State Treasury, and then was driven by the replies of Governor Hoyt and Treasurer Butler to say that no deficits exist in the Treasury.

W. C. POMEROY and H. A. STAMBAUGH, who represented the county of Juniata in the last State Convention, have each notified the Philadelphia Times that it was not correct when it stated that a bargain was made with the Junia delegate at the State Convention for his support in consideration of a change of postmaster at Mifflintown, and that Wolfe got one-third of the Republican vote in Juniata. The Times has published their denial.

Another pointed illustration of the burial of the "bloody shirt" is found in the fact that at the reunion of the ex-confederates of North Carolina, held at Raleigh last Thursday, resolutions were adopted accepting the result of the war and avowing devotion to the flag of the Union. They also denounce the assassination of President Garfield, and tender respectful sympathy to Mrs. Garfield and the family of the deceased President.

There seems to be considerable feeling in the judicial district comprising the counties of Lebanon and Dauphin. The Republican conference to nominate a judge could not agree, and for that reason the Republicans have two candidates in the field, lawyer Simonton, of Harrisburg, and lawyer Miller, of Lebanon. The Democrats have gone out of the district to get a candidate. Lawyer James, of Northampton county, is their candidate.

GITTEAU, the murderer, was arraigned for trial last Thursday, at Washington, D. C. He entered a plea of "not guilty," upon the conclusion of the reading of the indictment. The lawyer for the assassin read an affidavit of the prisoner, stating that he has no money, no property, and therefore he has not the means to bear the expenses of the trial, and he prayed the Government to bear his share of the expenses of the trial. His lawyer laid down the line of defense, which is—First, insanity; second, that the wound inflicted upon the person of President Garfield was not necessarily mortal. The day for beginning the trial has been set for November 7.

Various are the conjectures as to what is the purpose of certain capitalists in purchasing the Rebel or Confederate State bonds. One conjecture is that it is for the purpose of speculating, as speculators do with almost any and all kinds of paper. Another conjecture is that in the near future an effort will be made to have the Confederate debt incorporated into the debt of the United States, through the agency of the Democratic party, which some people believe is soon to come in to rule the destinies of the Republic. If the payment of the bonds is to take place when the Democracy come into power the elections in Ohio and Iowa last week indicate that such an event is not yet about to overtake the country.

The burning of the Landenberg mill at Philadelphia, last Wednesday night, was a dreadful occurrence. There were thirty-nine operatives, men, women, boys and girls, in the mill when the fire broke out. The building lacked the way for escape from fire. There were only two stairways, and as they were rendered useless as a means of escape by the smoke and flames the unfortunate people in the mill hastened to the windows to leap out. The danger to life in leaping out of the third and fourth stories was almost as great as to sit still and wait for the flames to devour one. Fifteen imprisoned people appeared at one time at the windows of the upper stories, and their cries for help was almost as distressing to the multitude that looked on from below as it was to the victims above. It was a heart-rending scene. A number, in jumping down, had their backs broken. A number had limbs broken. Some were killed. The number of deaths has not been fully stated. The origin of the fire is not yet known.

The Republican County Committee, by the exercise of its office, has issued a ticket to fuse in the formation of a ticket with "Independent Democrats." The tickets of both the Republican and Democratic parties had been regularly formed at the Primary Elections some time since, and placed in the political arena. After the candidates had been nominated overtures for a change were made, and when the Republican County Committee met on Saturday, October 8, a committee of conference was appointed to confer with citizens at the head of the Independent Democratic movement. A conference was held by the committee and a ticket was agreed upon, and when the Republican County Committee met last Saturday, at Foreman's hotel, the ticket adopted by the conference was ratified and is recommended to the voters of the county as worthy of support. Agreeably to the request of the Committee as expressed in a resolution, which read elsewhere in this issue of the Sentinel and Republican, as among the resolutions as published among the proceedings of the Republican County Committee, the names of the new candidates for Prothonotary and Associate Judge are placed at the head of the Sentinel and Republican. The newly constructed ticket has only two new names, namely, Messrs. Conn and Hensch, both Democrats. The ticket is, Junkin for President Judge, he being an able jurist, and a most learned man. McMeen and Wilson for Commissioners, men who the past three years made a most admirable administration of county affairs. Lemon for Treasurer, a man who in the past commanded high confidence. Irwin for District Attorney, a man, honest and competent for the duties of the office. Smith for Associate Judge, a popular citizen and a good business man. Conn for Prothonotary, a citizen that comes highly recommended by the 2nd resolution of the series as adopted by the Republican County Committee last Saturday—see proceedings of Committee as published in another column. Hensch for Associate Judge, a man who is pronounced by his friends as worthy of such a high position, and who is also strongly endorsed as Mr. Conn, in the same 2nd resolution of the series adopted at the meeting of the County Committee that ratified the fusion ticket. Deegan and Weimer for County Auditors, citizens abundantly qualified for the duties of the trust. This reconstructed ticket is believed to be a strong one, and in accordance with the 2nd resolution of the series mentioned above, it is placed at the head of the Sentinel and Republican, and then submitted to the voters of Juniata for their endorsement or rejection at the coming election in November.

When the United States Senate convened on the 10th inst. there were two vacancies, two from New York and one from Rhode Island. The Democracy insisted on it that the election for Speaker must take place previous to the admission of the new Senators. An election was held for Speaker pro tem of the Senate, which resulted in the election of Senator Bayard, of Delaware. On the 13th, when the new members had been admitted, another election was held for Speaker pro tem, which resulted in the election of Senator Davis, of Illinois.

SPECULATIVE LIFE INSURANCE people in a number of places in the State without authority used the name of Governor Hoyt as reference to give their enterprise standing. When the Governor was informed of the fraud he at once informed the public that the name had been used without authority by the speculative insurance people. In his campaign as independent candidate for State Treasurer Charles Wolf stated that Governor Hoyt had been concerned in speculations with the money of the State. As to the last charge against the Governor he speaks through a dispatch as follows:

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 11, 1881.—My attention has been called to remarks made by Charles S. Wolfe at Titusville. I have never had any relation to myself, I desire to say that they are substantially and circumstantially false. I have never been concerned, alone or in connection with others, in any scheme of speculation as he charges. I have never owned or controlled, alone or with others, a barrel of crude petroleum, or certificate representing such. I have never had occasion to declare myself for or against a tax either on derricks or crude oil. I have never had any business with Colonel M. S. Quay, either in partnership, or in any other form or relation. I have never had a financial or other business transaction with Hon. J. D. Cameron or Henry W. Oliver, jr., nor has either ever advanced one dollar to me, on my account or in my behalf. I never had the debt of the Government, through the agency of the Democratic party, which some people believe is soon to come in to rule the destinies of the Republic. If the payment of the bonds is to take place when the Democracy come into power the elections in Ohio and Iowa last week indicate that such an event is not yet about to overtake the country.

The Hon. Samuel Butler, State Treasurer, and the friends and legal representatives of Col. A. C. Noyes, late Treasurer, can make clear their administration of the Treasury Department.

An exchange says the death of Dr. Holland, who was the founder of Scrivener's Magazine, was caused by a disease of the heart called "angina pectoris" by medical men. This is the disease which carried off Senator Sumner. A few days ago Dr. Holland's physician told him he could not live more than ten years, he was farthest, and might die without warning at any moment. In preparation for the dread summons the author sold out his interest in Scrivener's Magazine, and put his house in order. On Tuesday, the 11th, he was at the office of the magazine, writing and attending to editorial duties. The next morning at six o'clock he awoke and complained to his wife of slight pains. He soon became speechless, and was dead when the physician, hastily summoned, arrived. His death was apparently painless. He leaves a wife, two daughters and a son.

The Trouble Between the Presbyterian Congregation of Mifflintown and Lost Creek Ended on Sabbath, October 16, 1881.
Last Thursday forenoon at 11 o'clock, Presbyterians met in the Chapel Church in this place for prayer, preparatory to a business meeting to be held in the Brick Presbyterian Church at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day. The committee, consisting of Rev. M. Cornelius, Rev. Robert Hamilton and Col. Wm. Doris, sent by Presbytery to assist in the bringing about of a compromise between Mifflintown and Lost Creek Presbyterians, were present. Dr. Eider was absent. Rev. Dr. Eider, William Banks, E. S. Doty and Rev. Hamilton were present. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a congregational meeting was held in the Brick Church. Rev. Mr. Hamilton, as President of the Committee, occupied the pulpit. After the singing of a hymn, the Reverend gentleman read several passages from the Book of Psalms. Rev. Cornelius offered a prayer. Rev. Hamilton delivered a speech or statement that comprehended all the official transactions of the Committee from the time of the meeting at McAlisterville last May till the first meeting at McAlisterville last May till the meeting on Thursday. When the Committee took their departure in May they believed that the basis of compromise as adopted at McAlisterville or Lost Creek would be ratified by both Mifflintown and Lost Creek congregations. Such, however, was not the case, and the Committee had come again upon an order from Presbytery to make another effort at compromise. He enjoyed peace and harmony upon the assembled congregation, and hoped that there would be a yielding to one another. Upon the conclusion of his remarks, Dr. Eider acted as Secretary of the meeting, but the Doctor declined, stating his reason to be that the Committee had charge of the meeting. Col. Doris was then requested to act as Secretary. The Secretary read a report of a congregational meeting held at Lost Creek on Monday, the 10th inst., in which the basis of compromise as adopted last May was reiterated or again confirmed or ratified by the Lost Creek Congregation. The reading of the report occasioned a lengthy discussion upon the money consideration involved in the basis of the compromise, and upon the question of a return of the Mifflintown congregation to worship in the Brick Church. The discussion was participated in by Dr. Eider, E. S. Doty, Hugh Hamilton, E. D. Parker, A. J. Patterson, E. S. Parker, James North and John Moore. Over two hours were consumed in discussing the question in its various phases before it was brought to the point of a resolution to be presented to the congregation for a vote. J. B. M. Todd offered a resolution verbally, and before it was read to the congregation he was asked to express his opinion as to its expression. Mr. Doty and Mr. North desired that the expression of the congregation should be promulgated in favor of a return to the Brick Church. Mr. Patterson read the agreement or basis of compromise as adopted by the Committee last May. Mr. E. D. Parker declared himself in favor of the settlement as agreed on by the Committee last May, and told why the ratification of the agreement was opposed in the Chapel. He had information that was indisputable that Mr. Doty would give only $200, and as part of the financial basis of the agreement with the Mifflintown congregation was that he, Parker, should pay four hundred dollars for Mr. Doty and Mr. North each would pay that sum, he was absolved from the bargain and could not become a party to the ratification of the basis of compromise. Mr. Banks expressed the most earnest desire for a settlement of the trouble. Mr. John N. Moore believed the only trouble in the way to be a reluctance on the part of a number to return to the "old church" to worship, and a desire on the part of a number to worship nowhere else. Mr. E. D. Parker again arose and expressed the belief that if a resolution such as is in course of preparation be passed, copied and where it has been said in the meeting, the confusion among the people of the congregation would be greater than before; therefore he moved that the resolution be laid on the table, and in its stead, he moved that Messrs. Doty, North and himself would meet the Committee and state in writing what they would do. That would be the business way, and no confusion could arise from such a course. Mr. Patterson offered a resolution embracing all of the provisions of the "basis of the compromise" as agreed upon in May, 1881, at McAlisterville, with the additional provision that the Mifflintown congregation return to the Brick Church to worship, and that the Mifflintown congregation vote on the question immediately after preaching on Sabbath morning, October 16, 1881. Provided, however, that if a majority of the Mifflintown congregation vote against a return to the Brick Church that the compromise proceedings or measures shall be considered as null and void. The resolution was adopted. The meeting adjourned, and the Committee hastened to the railroad to take the 5:25 P. M. train westward.

On Sabbath a large congregation assembled in the Presbyterian Chapel, to listen to a sermon by Rev. George Beaman, and to participate in the voting which should determine whether the troubles that existed between the Mifflintown and Lost Creek Presbyterian congregations should be amicably settled. Rev. Beaman read the 85th Psalm, and found his text in the book of Exodus, 14th chapter, 15th verse: "And the Lord said unto Moses, Wherefore criest thou unto me? Speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward." GO FORWARD, was the theme of Mr. Beaman's sermon. After the sermon had been delivered, the benediction pronounced. Mr. Beaman stated that the unfinished business that came up from the meeting that had been held in the Brick Church on Thursday, the 12th inst., would be presented for final action to the congregation. A. J. Patterson nominated Hugh Hamilton as Moderator. The Moderator asked for appointment of a Secretary, but as no one was immediately named he proceeded to do so to be the object of the meeting to be to take a vote as to whether the congregation would hold its religious meetings in the Brick Church. Mr. Hamilton's statement of the business was followed by a motion from Dr. Eider that Mr. Jenkins act as Secretary of the meeting, coupled with the suggestion that the meeting be opened with prayer. Upon the request of the Moderator the pastor offered a prayer, at the conclusion of which Dr. Eider proposed that a statement be made to the congregation of what had been done on Thursday, the 12th inst., in the Brick Church by the congregation that had assembled there. The Moderator said that the speediest statement of the proceedings of that occasion would be to state the result of the meeting which is embodied in the resolution offered by Mr. Patterson and adopted on that occasion.

DISPATCHES.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—About five weeks ago two well dressed men went to the house No. 914 Poplar street and engaged a room, saying that they were architects and that their business would require privacy. The secret-service officers received information that counterfeit money was being coined in the place, and yesterday morning they viewed the premises, found the door, and found John Blayler and Charles B. Watson in the act of manufacturing counterfeit silver coin. The last named prisoner is an old offender. Machinery and the metals used in the coining were captured, as well as a lot of partially finished coins of the denomination 25 and 50 cents. The accused had nothing to say in their defense, and were committed in default of $5,000 bail each.

EASTON, Oct. 13.—Yesterday afternoon Henry S. Mack, of Easton, pleaded guilty of stealing a pair of horses from a countryman and to committing four forgeries on his father, a prominent hardware dealer, and others in Easton. Judge Reeder sentenced him to three years for horse stealing and one year each on the forgery charges.

DISPATCHES.
BRADFORD, Pa., Oct. 14.—A magazine containing three hundred pounds of nitro glycerine, belonging to the Roberts torpedo company, exploded last night with terrible force, west of the city. Two men were seen going towards the magazine shortly before the explosion, and it is thought they were tampering with the magazine when the explosion occurred. A careful search to-night fails to disclose anything of the men or the iron safe.

DISPATCHES.
DES MOINES, Oct. 14.—Returns from 16 more counties, in addition to the 62 reported before, confirm the estimate of the total majority for Sherman as Governor. These 78 counties give Sherman a net majority over Kinne of 38,600, which sustains previous estimates that his majority will be 48,000. There is no change in the figures sent last night in regard to the Legislature. The Senate stands 44 Republicans, 4 Democrats and 2 Greenbackers, and the House stands 77 Republicans, 11 Democrats and 4 Greenbackers.
