> ately. Abstinence from water for a con-siderable period, or a long walk in the scalding sun in order to obtain it, will result in the loss of milk, flesh, and fat. Water, next to air, is the cheapest article that is consumed by animals, and they should have it in abundance and within easy reach at all times. Many farmers are very negligent in utilizing natural supplies of water. They take no pains to keep up of water. They take no pains to keep up the flow of water in springs, or conduct the water they afford through pipes to different parts of a large pasture. The fall necessary to conduct water is very small, Pipes of wood, iron or lead are cheap, and are easily placed below the frost line. Once in position, they will last a life-time, and require no repairs. It is often the case that a supply of water can be obtained from a spring located on an adjoining farm from a spring located on an adjoining farm or on a public highway. If there is no spring, stream or lake from which water can be obtained, resort must be had to wells and wind mills, or to artesian wells One of these will often furnish sufficient water to supply several farms.

It is notly, has efficient, CENTAIN THE sentiment of the honeymoon is a frail thing, and after a while a man flops right torough it like a brick through a cobweb. A 3 months old bride was rattling away in her loquacious style, when her husband, forcing himself to appear not too severely tortured, said: Don't you feel as if you were periling your beauty by talking so much?" "Why so, John!" she asked, with much surprise. "Because, precious, this is Summer time, and you might get your tongue sumbuint.

A Testament Reviser's Opinion The emment author, Prof. A. C. Kenfrick, D. D., LL, D., who is professor of Hebrew, Latin and Greek in the University of Rochester, and was one of the revisers of the New Testament, in general conversation with a number of gentlemen, a short time since, said: "I have received from the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure very marked benefit and I can mos cordially recommend it to others.'

"Why, how odd you look with your air parted in the middle!" exclaimed Mrs. TAKE THE "I used to part mine on the Brown. side," said Mrs. Jones. Then the conver-sation became general. Each lady had to tell how she parted her hair-all but little Edith's mother. She said nothing. Sud-denly little Edith's voice was heard. She evidently did not like her mother ignored. Said she, "My mother parts her hair is her lap."

WEATHER--OR NOT.

We admire the philosophy of the unfortunate man, who, when everything had been swept away, said, "Well, there'll be weather and taxes lett. at any rate." Alasi weather is the "yellow dog" of all subjects; everyone thinks it his special right to try to better the weather, and huris his anathemas against "Old Probabilities," and all who endeavor to assist him in regulating the weather. The following communication is from Prof. Tiree of St. Louis, Mo., the renowned meteorologist and weather prophet of the West. It does not discuss thry weather but something surely of more importance to those who suffer with that painful malady he speaks of; "The day after concluding my lectures at Burilington,
